

HAYESVILLE CLUB ENTERTAINS MANY

Chicken Dinner Served to 280 Persons While Fine Program Offered

The Hayesville Community club enjoyed the most successful meeting since its organization last fall. More than 180 persons were served to chicken dinner and over 250 were present for the program that followed the supper.

Mayor J. B. Giesy of Salem addressed the meeting. During the course of his remarks he reaffirmed his previous statement, "The greatest asset of any people is its children; the greatest asset of the nation is its boys and girls who reside in just such communities as this." Representative Reynolds was quite prominent during the auctioning off of the chickens that were left from dinner. Mrs. Gertrude J. M. Page added spice to the bidding for the chickens by contesting practically every bid. Dr. and Mrs. Beecher, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Edwards of Turner, and Mr. Bent, disciplinarian at the Chemawa school, were among the guests. The Chemawa orchestra rendered several selections which were very much appreciated. Colleen Minnis, the community's most apt elocutionist, gave a reading, "Quitty," which was encored. When readings are wanted Colleen is the natural selection of the program committee. Eleanor Barth also gave an excellent reading. Joe Foley sang two solos accompanied by the Misses Longren and Bailey. The treat of the evening's program was Ewing McCrosky with his novelty monologue, playing his own accompaniment on an ordinary hand saw. Mr. McCrosky played under difficulties, his number being continually interspersed with rounds of applause. Mr. Cooke Patton with his magic ran a close second to the hand saw.

An invitation to the Popcorn Parent-Teacher association to put on their play, which they are giving at home at present, next Friday evening, February 13.

The community organization is now out of debt and has a neat little bank account, thanks to the efforts of the committee on refreshments and the loyal support of the many friends of the club. A hearty invitation is extended to our friends to meet with us at any time it is convenient for them to do so.

SONG IS DONATED FOR OREGON BLIND

Proceeds to Be Used for Benefit of Sightless Persons in State

Adelaide Dorothy Graham author and composer of that "Beautiful Home of the Rose," has donated this song to be sold for the benefit of blind of Oregon, that are not in institutions. This song has been on sale in Portland for several weeks for his purpose and hundreds of copies have been sold.

The song has recently been placed on sale in Salem and through the courtesy of the management the song will be played and sung at the Oregon and Liberty theaters this coming week. Prof. McDonald will sing and play the song at the Oregon and it will be sung at the Liberty by Miss Naoma Phelps and other local singers.

The song is being handled without commission by the Salem Music stores. The members of the Salem Boys chorus and all Salem boys are asked to take part in this competition and the boy that sells 10 copies gets a free ticket to the Liberty theater, and a commission besides. Three radio sets will be given to the three boys who sell the largest number of these songs during this campaign. These songs may be secured at the Wills Music store.

Miss Naoma Phelps will sing the song before the Salem Lions club at their luncheon at the Marion hotel Friday.

C. S. West who is in charge of the Salem distribution has interested a number of local singers and they will be glad to appear before civic clubs, lodges and other meetings free of charge to advertise the song and to assist in this sale for a worthy cause. Mr. West may be reached through Mr. Rufe White, secretary of the Lions club.

PRODUCTION CUT

LONGVIEW, Wash., Feb. 6.—Logging operations of the Long-Bell Lumber company at Rydewood were reduced today from 96 to 40 cars daily on account of six landslides and high waters of the Cowlitz river.

Former Attorney General Daugherty at Trial of Means for Conspiracy To Bribe U. S. Officials

Left to right are Hiram C. Todd, special assistant attorney general; William J. Burns, former secret service chief and Harry M. Daugherty, former United States attorney general. The photograph was made in the Federal Court in New York City during the trial of Gaston B. Means, formerly connected with the Department of Justice, and Thomas B. Felder for conspiracy to bribe federal officials, including Daugherty. Daugherty was bitter on the witness stand and offered to lift the lid on happenings at Washington preceding his getting out of the Cabinet. The court ruled that most of the story would be irrelevant.

DEMAND FOR LABOR NOT VERY STRONG

Supply Exceeds Demand in Salem During Past Week With 34 Given Work

The labor report for the week ending February 7, shows about the same average for the number of applications filed and the number of persons put to work, according to the report of Sim Phillips, representative of the United States employment service, which is operated here in cooperation with the YMCA.

During the past week 93 applications for employment were filed with the bureau here, of which 47 applications for help wanted were registered, and of this number 39 were referred to employers and 34 actually placed at work.

Common labor commanded the greatest number of employed with 15 workers being placed, seven farm hands, two agricultural laborers, one kitchen worker, five woods laborers constitute the quota for the male workers.

Sixteen women filed applications for work and two were placed as cooks and one as laundry worker.

With the coming of spring the labor situation in the Willamette valley is loosening up, and the difference between the number of applicants and the number of help wanted calls decreases.

GOLDEN AMBULANCE SERVICE LAUNCHED

New and Up-to-Date Equipment Arrives and Placed in Operation

Feeling that there is a real need for a reliable day and night ambulance and invalid car service in Salem, Virgil T. Golden has launched the Golden Ambulance service, with headquarters at 171 South Commercial.

The new ambulance is reconstructed from a sedan body of a Rollin automobile. It is new throughout and completely equipped for its work.

There are six doors to the ambulance, two on each side and two on the rear to permit the stretcher, mounted on rollers, to be removed with ease. A small seat is located near the head of the patient for one passenger.

Mr. Golden will have his machine available at all hours of the day and night and has it specially fitted with balloon tires and shock absorbers, giving the maximum amount of riding comfort. He is heavily insured, with both liability and property damage clauses, for himself and machine.

Buyers for Miller Stores To Be On Ground Steadily

In order to facilitate buying, the Miller Mercantile company group stores have arranged permanent purchasing connections in New York city, which will give Salem buyers the best there is on the market and at the same time keep the nine stores of the chain in direct touch with the mercantile source, according to the communications sent to Mr. Simpson, local manager, by G. O. Miller, president, and F. O. Miller, vice president of the Miller association. The Miller brothers are masters at buying on eastern markets and have the ins and outs down to a science, and because of their clever buys their stores have been placed on the same level with the largest stores in the northwest.

The Miller executives were accompanied on their buying by N. C. Smith of Sheridan and A. K. Humphries of Salem. They are interested in spring stocks.

A LITTLE TALK ON THRIFT AND LINCOLN

Towering Strength of His Genius Would Have Been Lost But for His Thrift

By S. W. Straus, President American Society for Thrift.

Thrift in the lives of most men constitute the difference between success or failure. A notable instance is the career of Abraham Lincoln.

When a young man, Lincoln ran a small general store in Salem, Ill. He failed in this business with debts of $1100. Then he disposed of the store to two men, taking their notes. They sold everything of value and slipped away. Lincoln, the failure, was left with his $1100 debts, which in that day was a very large sum of money.

He went to work with thrift and industry. He skimmed and saved. One of his creditors became obdurate, sued him and obtained a judgement. Lincoln's horse, saddle, bridle and surveying outfit were sold at auction.

Through the entire period of Lincoln's early manhood, from 25 to 40, he struggled with that debt. At last it was paid.

Lincoln could have taken an easier way, like the two men who left him with the bag to hold. He could have disappeared from Salem. But the world would have lost its greatest statesman and humanity one of its noblest benefactors had he done so.

Throughout his entire life up to the time he became president of the United States he stood face to face with failure. Without thrift and industry he would have gone down to defeat.

At this time of the year, when the civilized world is giving special thought to this man of the practice, it is of value to note that the towering strength of his genius would have been lost to mankind had it not been for his persistence in the practices of thrift and industry.

CORNS

Lift Off—No Pain!

Doesn't hurt one bit! Drop a little "Freezone" on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then shortly you lift it right off with fingers. Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of "Freezone" for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the foot calluses, without soreness or irritation. ### ALL READY FOR BIG ROLL CALL

Kickoff Is to Be Given Monday Morning When Workers Assemble

The service clubs of Salem headed by the Lions are to be on hand Monday for the kickoff of the American Red Cross roll call. Never before in the history of the local organization has there been such a determined effort to make the roll call an outstanding success. Besides the Lions, the Kiwanis, Rotary clubs are to be on hand with their representation, while the Marion-Polk county Realtors, and the American Legion are to make the service clubs get down and hump.

The city has been divided into more than 100 districts and it is the plan of T. M. Hicks, who is in charge of the Salem Roll Call, to have two workers in each district. The city is to be combed thoroughly.

It is urgently requested that the Salem people respond to the Roll Call with a larger sum than $11. Part of the money goes to the national organization, and if more than a dollar is given the greater portion of the sum is used in this district. Just 50 cents of the roll call is sent to the national organization, which renders prompt assistance in time of great disasters; but it is the everyday service and assistance, rendered to ex-service men and their families.

Attention should be given the Roll Call because in this district the Red Cross secretary makes out a larger number of papers for ex-service men. Sometime the military records are destroyed and the men are not able to secure the proper hospital treatment, to secure the proper allotment or compensation from the federal government.

At the present time many World War veterans are rated only 20 percent disability who should be rated 50 per cent, and the Red Cross service secures the proper re-rating for them, with a corresponding increased compensation for the government.

The membership Roll Call is to last from February 9 to 14.

Legion Dance Saturday Will Help Pay Deficit

What promises to be the stellar social event of the year is to be staged at the Crystal Gardens next Saturday evening when the American Legion entertains. The veterans are backing the movement to pay for the monument, "Over the Top to Victory," which was unveiled on the Marion county court house grounds Armistice Day.

The monument is a remembrance that belongs to the community instead of Marion county and must be cared for. At the present time there is a deficit of $120 which is drawing interest at a high rate, and it is necessary that the debt be paid. The veterans decided to secure the co-operation of the community in securing funds to pay the deficit. The statue was unveiled under

OREGONIAN EDITOR TO SPEAK MONDAY

Six o'Clock Club Will Hear Edgar B. Piper on "This Generation"

Edgar B. Piper, for many years editor of the Oregonian, will speak before the Salem Six o'Clock club, Monday night on the subject, "This Generation."

The Salem Six o'Clock club is an organization of the men of the Methodist churches of the city and is not of a denominational or religious character, and any one is welcome to attend. The meeting Monday evening will be held in the basement of the First Methodist church where the ladies will serve supper at 6:30. This will be concluded at approximately 7 o'clock when Mr. Piper will deliver his address, and the meeting will close in time for any one to keep an engagement for the evening.

Mr. Piper is one of the best speakers in the state of Oregon and will have a message for those who hear him of importance. He recently made a trip to Europe to study conditions there and will probably have something to say about those conditions in connection with the subject upon which he will speak. Mr. Piper has spoken before the Six o'Clock club several times in the past and in every instance gave to the club an address which is still remembered. His talks are full of interest, information and good sound advice, and a large crowd is expected to hear him.
