MRS. JOHN J. ROBERTS' SPEECH

To the Ladies of the Board:

At this time I wish to express my appreciation of the honor you have bestowed upon me in appointing me president of the Young Women's Christian Association. It is a wonderful privilege for one to work and study the problems and responsibilities which confront an organization of this kind. We are told that great privileges never come save in company with great responsibilities, but I am convinced that all responsibilities, great or small, are in no small degree lightened and made more agreeable, by the measure of love and conscientious effort which we put into them. In looking back over varied experiences, we will find that the moments most cherished; the moments which stand apart and in which we have really lived are those in which, in a spirit of love, we have done something for someone.

With our powerful church, social, and educational forces at work there still remains an unquestioned place for the YWCA. We are living in a day when young women are taking no small part in reforms, education, and Christian service, and in these fields of endeavor our association accomplishes much.

A new impetus should be given the work of our association at this time; that more strength and energy be instilled by every officer and committee member in charge. Aside from our efforts in administration work we must not overlook the personal contact and assistance which means so much to our organization. A friendly smile to the girls when we are around the rooms, or a pleasant word to a stranger, is but a little for us, but may mean so much to the girl in a strange city. To be successful in our undertakings we must have great faith in our cause as well as great confidence in the people to whom we look for moral and material support.

While it is my earnest purpose and desire to devote as much time as possible to the furtherance of our aims and ambitions I shall in a large measure depend upon the hearty cooperation of all of our officers and committees, to whom are entrusted the destinies of the association.

May we all work together in our Master's Kingdom and find our inspiration in the beautiful sentiment:

"I expect to pass through this world but once. Any good thing, therefore, that I can do, or any kindness that I can show any fellow being, let me do it now. Let me not defer or neglect it, for I shall not pass this way again."

This little verse conveys my feelings when again I say thank you for the faith and confidence which you have reposed in me.

HARRIET I. ROBERTS

CHAPTER AB of the PEO sisterhood was delightfully entertained Monday evening by Mrs. Alice Thompson, with a program at Miss Lena Belle Tartar's studio, and a late luncheon at the Colonial Dame Tea Shoppe. A constitutional program was given under the direction of Miss Grace Elizabeth Smith. Mrs. A. R. Hunter and Mrs. Ivan E. Oakes were special guests for the evening.

At the tea shop the table was attractive in gold and blue, a blue bowl of golden acacia centering the table, and yellow candles completing the effect.

Covers were placed for: Mrs. A. R. Hunter, Mrs. Ivan E. Oakes, Mrs. H. E. Barrett, Mrs. W. D. Smith, Mrs. E. C. Richards, Mrs. Harry M. Styles, Mrs. T. E. McCroskey, Miss Lena Belle Tartar, Miss Mae Rauch, Miss Osbourne, Miss Dorothea Steusloff, Miss Grace Elizabeth Smith, and the hostess, Mrs. Alice Thompson.

On the twenty-fourth of the month the members of Chapter AB will entertain Chapter G at the home of Miss Dorothea Steusloff.

The Business and Professional Women's club is sponsoring a much anticipated dance at Derby hall on the night of Lincoln's birthday, with tickets available to

TWO PORTIA MANSFIELD DANCERS

Dutch Love, as it will be enacted in colorful dance concert by Jeanne Fuller and Jack Daw, with folk tune arrangement on Wednesday, February 13, at the Grand Theatre.

Mr. Sater's father, Mr. Ole Sater, was Saturday, while Ole Dahl, father of Mrs. Sater, celebrated his birthday on Sunday. Mrs. K. Furrue was also a Saturday celebrator. Those present at the dinner were Mrs. K. Furrue, Mr. and Mrs. Ole Sater, Ole Dahl, E. Strand and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sater. Miss Louise Henriksen, whose birthday was Thursday, gave a slumber party at her home Friday night to which were invited eight of her friends. The girls who made merry during the greater part of the night were Misses Ida Osa, Sylvia Larson, Esther Towe, Marie Klev, Ingaborg Goplerud, Myrna Sather, Grace Lyons, Ethel Larson, Dora Henriksen and Louise Henriksen.

The long promised rummage sale will be opened by the Business and Professional Women's club on Thursday morning, Feb. 12, in the U. S. National Bank building. The members of the club are being urged to furnish and solicit stock and their friends can in this way be assured that garments of value will reach people who can use them to the best advantage. Quite a supply of men's clothing is already in hand, some of large sizes. With the excellent location a patronage is expected which will call for all the goods which can be secured.

The ladies' aid of the Christ Lutheran church will meet at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. Propp at 960 Parish street.

Mrs. P. D. Ott, 1290 N. Capitol street, has been called to Corvallis on account of the illness of her mother, Mrs. Maria Croskey.

Miss Margaret Smith and roommate Miss Alice Horn both students at the Oregon Agricultural college spent the week end at the home of Miss Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Smith.

Portland, Ore., Feb. 9.—Invitations have been issued by the off-cers and ladies of the Oregon national guard for a reception and ball in honor of Brigadier General and Mrs. George A. White on the occasion of their 20th wedding anniversary Saturday evening, February 21. The affair will be held at the armory, Tenth and Couch streets, at 9 o'clock.

Officers and their wives from Vancouver and Camp Lewis will be guests.

The affair will be informal.

The coming of the Portia Mansfield Dancers on February 13 is arousing unusual interest, probably because this unique organization appeals not only to music and dance lovers, but to all who are interested in the development of physical strength and grace. The amazing acrobatic feats, which these girls perform with such apparent ease, are of interest to all who are concerned in the physical development of the race. The ancient Greeks and Romans were devoted to acrobatic dancing and many of their most famous philosophers and thinkers were adepts in the art. Socrates, himself, is said to have been an expert dancer. One of the most interesting dances on the Mansfield program is "From An Etruscan Screen," as its steps and poses are taken from the statues and paintings of the ancient Etruscan period, and represent the dances then used in funeral ceremonies, and which were regarded as most dignified and fitting to mark the departure of the soul. The screen used is an exact reproduction of an ancient Etruscan tomb mural. It is danced to music by the French composer, Gabriel Pierné.

Seats for this unusual treat will soon be on sale at the Grand theatre.

Theodore A. Harper, author of the "Mushroom Boy," will give the regular program of the General Arts' League meeting tomorrow evening when he takes as his subject, "Adventures in Imagination." The meeting is open to all interested. In addition to Mr. Harper's talk, a short musical program will be given, with numbers by Miss Ruth Bedford, a duet by Mrs. Monroe Gilbert and Mrs. J. F. Lau, and solos by Leon Jennison.

Mr. and Mrs. George Waters will sail today from San Francisco for Hawaii. They plan to be gone for several months.

One of the many delightful pre-nuptial affairs given for the pleasure of Miss Teresa Fowle was the pre-Valentine party on Thursday, last week by Miss May Bollier and Miss Elsie Lippold at the Bollier home. Valentines, pussy willows, and cyclamen were used variously in the decorations. During the evening the hostesses were assisted by: Mrs. Robert Bollier and Miss Elsie Bollier.

The following were present for the occasion: The guest of honor, Miss Teresa Fowle, Mrs. T. S. Creech, Miss Winifred Eyre, Miss Gladys Humphreys, Miss Mae Rauch, Miss Ann Bentje, Mrs. Harriet Mercer, Mrs. Josna Given, Miss Vivian Hargrove, Miss Marian Lind, Mrs. Robert Bollier, Miss Elsie Bollier, and the hostesses, Miss Elsie Lippold and Miss May Bollier.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Fry, Sr., spent the week-end at their beach cottage at Neskwon.

A group from the Salem high school including the director of the music department, Miss Lena Belle Tartar, have been invited to be guests of the Franklin high school in Portland on Friday evening when they present "The Mikado" with Tom Badley taking the lead.

The Woman's Study class will meet today at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. W. W. Emmons, 828 N. Commercial street. The lesson study will be the third chapter in "China's Challenge to Christianity."

All young married people interested are invited to be guests at the regular social meeting tomorrow evening of the young married people's society of the First Baptist church. Dr. and Mrs. A. F. Goffrier will be hosts at their home, 244 N. 12th street.

Mrs. Wanda Gaymond entertained at the home of her parents,

A lovely pre-Valentine luncheon was that at which Mrs. F. D. Thielsen was hostess at 1 o'clock on Saturday, entertaining for the pleasure of her daughter, Miss Nancy Thielsen, and a group of her friends among the younger set. A crystal bowl of red carnations and frezias centered the table with red tapers in crystal candle sticks completing the charming effect.

Mah Jongg was the diversion of the afternoon the first prize going to Miss Marian Doyle, and the second to Miss Dorothy White.

At the tea hour a delightful musical program was given, with Miss Marion Boyle and Miss Maxine Glover, each giving piano numbers. Mrs. Ada Strong dispensed hospitalities at the tea.

The guests included: Miss Mildred Roberts, Miss Dorothy Liverley, Miss Bertha Babcock, Miss Maxine Meyers, Miss Honora Reedy, Miss Maxine Glover, Miss Dorothy White, and Miss Nancy Thielsen.

Mrs. R. V. Bates and Mrs. S. Barnett of Sunnyside were hostesses last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bates. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Murray, who have moved to Salem, and Mrs. Thomas and her daughter, Miss Plovene Thomas who have been visiting in Oregon, from Milestone, Sask., were the guests of honor. The rooms, where the guests gathered to spend the evening playing games were beautiful with pussy willows and valentines. Late in the evening refreshments were served to about 50 guests.

The naming of the standing committees of the year was the chief business yesterday at the YWCA board meeting, when the members met for the first time under their new executive, Mrs. John J. Roberts.

There are many dainty, intimate things that you would much prefer to wash yourself. The ease and satisfaction with which it is done depends on the soap you use. A few moments rinsing in the bathroom bowl, using—will bring results that will reflect your pride in your prettiest garments.

It will never harm the most delicate fabrics that water alone does not injure.

"It takes so little." "For every household use."

Bell Ringers or House to House Canvassers

How often have you heard a house to house salesman say: "The price of these goods is less than you would have to pay at a store because we sell direct from the factory and therefore cut out the middleman's profit."

That is one of the stock arguments used by those who ring your doorbell and attempt to sell you all manner of articles, from clothing to hardware.

But it is NOT true!

The canvasser cannot and does not sell merchandise at a lower price, quality for quality, than you can purchase them at Miller's store. This may be proven in two ways:

First—By remembering that factory-to-customer goods go through at least four hands when you get them the canvasser way—the factory, the district manager, the branch manager and the individual salesman. Goods bought at a store pass through two or three hands only—the manufacturer and the store or the manufacturer, the wholesaler and the store itself. And, by virtue of long experience and the most efficient management, the profits made by each of these units are held down to a minimum. (The report of the Committee of Congress which investigated retail business showed that the average store retains as profits only 1.13 cents out of every dollar you spend there.)

Second—By an actual comparison of the goods, quality for quality and price for price. (Even the largest of the factories manufacturing silk hosiery has been found to ask $1.75 for stockings equal only to those on sale here at $1.39).

Finally, what the canvasser cannot give you in any case is the certain and absolute satisfaction which you can secure at Miller's—satisfaction which guarantees you against loss because Miller's, unlike the peddler, intends to stay in business in Salem and depends upon your good-will and future confidence.

If anything goes wrong with the merchandise we sell, you know where to come for an immediate and satisfactory adjustment. If something goes wrong with the merchandise the peddler sells—try to find him!

Will you do yourself and us the favor of remembering these points the next time a canvasser tries to sell you something?

We are ready, as we always have been in the past, to supply you with the market's most reliable brands of goods at the lowest possible prices, plus guaranteed satisfaction.
