

Grip Left You All Run Down?

BACK lame and achy? Sharp pains stab you at every sudden move? Nerves "all unstrung"? Then look to your kidneys! Winter, you know, is danger time for the kidneys. That's because grip, colds and chills are apt to weaken the kidneys and allow body poisons to upset the whole bodily machinery. Then is apt to come lameness, soreness and stiffness; constant backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness and irregular or painful passage of the kidney secretions. Don't risk serious kidney sickness! Use Doan's Pills before it is too late. Doan's have helped thousands. They should help you. Ask your neighbor!

Here is Salem Proof:

Mrs. Ruth Danison, 1540 N. Liberty St., says: "I had attacks of kidney complaint and my back ached considerably. I could scarcely keep on my feet. I felt so miserable. When I stopped, I became dizzy, and spots floated before my eyes. My kidneys acted irregularly, too. After using Doan's Pills, I was free from all signs of kidney trouble."

THE BENEFITS OF AN EGG LAYING CONTEST

The State of Oregon Above All Others Should Have Established a Contest

(Mr. N. C. Westerfield, a feed and poultry specialist of Tacoma, Washington, in a speech before a recent poultry men's meeting at Portland, said regarding an Oregon egg laying contest:)

Of all the states in the Union that should have established an egg laying contest, it should be the state of Oregon, because your agricultural college has taken front rank in the development of the poultry industry through the increased production of eggs in our poultry flocks.

Six years ago the poultrymen in and around Santa Cruz, California, decided they would start an egg laying contest, but soon discovered that it would take a large amount of money to establish such an institution.

They finally brought to the attention of the chamber of commerce of Santa Cruz the necessity for such an institution and what benefits would be derived therefrom. After due consideration the chamber of commerce loaned the poultrymen $10,000 with which to put such an undertaking under way.

Five years after starting this contest, I visited Santa Cruz, my purpose being to find out what this contest had done, not alone for the industry, nor for Santa Cruz either, but for the poultrymen themselves, and I found that ALL were benefited—greatly benefited.

I called at the chamber of commerce and asked the secretary that if the opportunity again came up, would the chamber again put up $10,000 for a like undertaking, and he advised me that the president of the chamber had said, "We have never invested a dollar in any manner that brought such splendid results as the money we invested in the establishment of the Santa Cruz egg laying contest. That it put Santa Cruz on the map of the world and helped to commercialize the poultry industry of that county, until the evidence was plainly visible that these poultrymen now own their homes and are contented citizens in a prosperous community."

Salem Would Like It There is a proposition before the legislature to establish an egg laying contest on the Oregon Agricultural college grounds at Corvallis.

Salem is willing to step aside, in the interest of harmony, and have the proposition put over.

But the people here realize the importance of an egg laying contest, and in case the proposition for one at Corvallis is not put through, it is likely the Salem Chamber of Commerce will come to the front and show the poultrymen of Oregon a way to get a contest; to be located here at Salem.

Resolutions Are Adopted At House Session Tuesday

Several resolutions were adopted by the house Tuesday, covering a variety of subjects.

Official appreciation of the gift of Mrs. Edwin W. Morris and Edwin Doernbacher of Portland, of $200,000 for the erection of a children's hospital upon the University of Oregon medical school grounds, was given by one of these.

Others urge a new mapping of the mouth of the Columbia river so that marine maps and charts may be brought up to date; that the ICC be memorialized to build and back the movement of the construction of 321 miles of railroad in central and southeastern Oregon; that no income tax measure will be introduced at this session of the legislature, and that a committee be named by the governor to confer with representatives of other states that lie in the basin of the Columbia river and protect the rights of the several states.

Four new bills were introduced just before the closing session of the house Tuesday.

HB No. 419 authorizes the appropriation of $100,000 for salaries and expenses of the public service commission.

HB No. 420, a substitute for HB No. 321, remitting taxes in certain counties.

HB No. 421, a substitute for HB No. 211, providing for the compulsory grading of potatoes.

HB No. 422, a substitute for HB No. 166, relating to party committees. HB No. 166 was introduced by the Jackson county delegation, which sought a post-primary convention plan and was directly opposite to the plan set forth in the Mills primary measure, which sought pre-primary conventions. The two measures were not in conflict.

ROLL CALL OF RED CROSS A SUCCESS

Despite Shortage of Workers Members Are Signed Up for Present Year

Returns to the Red Cross roll call are coming along in fine shape although nothing definite can be stated. Workers are still in the field, but the few that have returned to the office stated that much enthusiasm was manifested in the roll call. Following the big kick-off at the chamber of commerce yesterday morning workers scattered to every part of the city. Teams invaded the business district, and carefully combed the offices for Roll Call signers.

Cash returns are coming in splendidly, was the comment made by several workers.

T. M. Hicks, director of the Salem district of the annual Roll call stated that a number of workers who had promised to put in their appearance failed to do so.

and as a result part of the city was not canvassed.

It is necessary that there be more volunteers in order to get the Roll call signed up as quickly as possible.

E. T. Barnes, chairman of the Marion-Polk county district of the American Red Cross is organizing the territory very thoroughly. Today John L. Brady, E. T. Barnes, and C. E. Albin are to confer with the Dallas Chamber of Commerce preparatory to starting the Roll call in that city. The conference is called to explain several features of the Roll call. Mr. Brady is to deliver an address before the conference.

Many of the classical and sacred publications used by musicians are from the Flammer press.

How Much Is an Heirloom Worth?

The intrinsic value of a trinket which has been in your family for years cannot be measured in terms of money. Nor would you want to sell it.

Therefore, the loss of an heirloom such as this cannot be covered with insurance but should be given the best possible protection from loss by fire or theft. You can keep them in the great vaults here at the United States National for about a cent a day.

ROBBER VISITS QUINABY STORE

Nearly $600 is Stolen; Prowler Frighted Away From Waconda Store

Robbers secured between $500 and $600 in a successful robbery of the grocery store at Quinaby Monday night but were frightened away at Waconda when the proprietor, J. C. Savage was aroused by the crash of falling glass, the sheriff was notified yesterday. A. N. Anderson, manager of the Quinaby store states that just before dark a stranger drove up in front of the store, entered the store and purchased several small articles. Anderson thinks the stranger might have pulled the job because of his actions. Entrance was gained to the store by cutting out a section of the glass in the front window, practically the same entrance system used at the Waconda store which was unsuccessful.

Articles such as socks, tobacco, gum, shirts, a typewriter and other articles were taken. Articles that could be easily hauled away and disposed of were stolen.

Savage, who reported the attempted robbery of his store, states that the robber fled after the glass fell. This aroused him in time to catch a glimpse of the fleeing man. He is firm in his declaration that he knows who tried to break in.
