THE FIRST LARGE VALENTINE tea of the season was the exceedingly charming affair of yesterday afternoon at which Mrs. Walter Page, Mrs. Leo Page, and Mrs. E. M. Page were hostesses at the E. M. Page home, 1560 Court street. One hundred and fifty cards were issued for the tea, with calling hours from 3 to 5:30 o'clock.

A large basket of pussy willows on the veranda gave a suggestion of the dominating note within where red carnations and red candles blended with the silvery gray of the catkins on slender stems. Lovely pieces of pottery about the floor held many pussy willows, while clusters of red carnations were arranged in vases on the mantel. The completing touch in the drawing room was afforded by the lovely basket of blossoms before the window, tied with tulle and adorned with satin heart and arrow.

A green fernery in the dining room added to the decorative effect. A beautiful silver candelabra, filled with red candles, centered the table, exquisite with its linen and silver. Mrs. Paul Johnson greeted the guests at the door, the hostesses receiving. In the living rooms were: Mrs. William McGilchrist, Jr., Mrs. Linn Smith, Mrs. Walter Spaulding and Mrs. S. E. Davis. Hostesses at the urns were: Mrs. C. K. Spaulding and Mrs. Seymour Jones, alternating with Mrs. W. Carlton Smith and Mrs. George G. Brown, at the second hour. Assistants in the dining room were: Mrs. R. J. Yalliton, Mrs. S. E. Davis, Mrs. Lester Barr, Mrs. William Besick, and Mrs. Phil Newmyer.

Twelve grandmothers—and two of them having the distinction of being great grandmothers—made up one of the most interesting groups that have been entertained in many weeks when, on Tuesday afternoon Mrs. W. H. Steusloff was hostess for their pleasure. A no more interesting program can be imagined than that which the guests who represented England, Scotland, Germany and various states of the union, themselves gave in telling of their own personal histories. Fifty-five grand children and three great grand children are claimed by these 12 grandmothers. Mrs. G. Steiner, 78 years of age, and Mrs. E. C. Small, who is now 84, were the two great grandmothers in the group. Entertaining games were enjoyed during the afternoon with a beautifully appointed table arranged for the tea hour, on which lavender and old lace gave a charming motif. Each place was marked with an individual corsage of violets and a quaint place-card. Three cut glass baskets, filled with violets and freesias, centered the table. Lavender candles and beautiful bouquets of meline completed the effect. Little lavender nut-baskets were used, while the favor to each guest was a lavender silk handkerchief.

Stuffed chicken, old-fashioned pickles, fried cakes, and caraway seed cookies were treats which the menu afforded. The decorative icing of the delicious cake which the hostess served was wreathed with lavender roses. Those in the group, with the name of the state or country from which they came, are as follows: Mrs. E. C. Small, Iowa; Mrs. G. Steiner, Ohio; Mrs. D. J. Fry, Illinois; Mrs. H. E. Cupper, England; Mrs. W. E. Wilson, Ohio; Mrs. M. A. Thompson, Ohio; Mrs. R. E. Lee Steiner, Oregon; Mrs. C. K. Spaulding, Indiana; Mrs. D. A. Hodge, New York; Mrs. W. J. Chambers, Pennsylvania; Mrs. William McGilchrist, Sr., Scotland and the hostess, Mrs. W. H. Steusloff, Germany.

Since one of the grandmothers, Mrs. M. A. Thompson, who has already passed her 82nd birthday was unable to be present for the afternoon, Mrs. T. G. Hopkins was a special guest in her place.

The OAC club dinner at 6 o'clock this evening at the First Congregational church will be one of the day's most delightful affairs. The honor guests of the evening will be the legislators and their wives who are alumni of the college. Percy A. Cupper will be toastmaster for the evening.

The Loyal Women of the First Christian church will meet at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon in the church parlors.

One of the most interesting affairs of the week was the informal tea at which Mrs. John A. Carson was hostess yesterday afternoon when she entertained for the pleasure of Mrs. Walter H. Brown, who, with her husband, has moved to Salem in the interest of the child health demonstration. Those invited to meet Mrs. Brown at this time included wives of school officials, and those having been actively associated in clinic and hospital work, as well as others who will be associated with Dr. and Mrs. Brown during their five year work.

One of the attractive dinners of the early week was that on Sunday at which Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Anderson were hosts at 6 o'clock at the Gray Belle. Covers were placed for 22. The table was lovely with acacia, freesias, daffodils, carnations, and blue candles. Covers were placed for: Mrs. and Mrs. W. H. Dancy, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Smith, Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Olinger, Dr. and Mrs. Frank Griffith, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Durbin, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Anderson.

Dr. and Mrs. Walter H. Brown had as their house-guest for the early part of the week, Miss Eleanor Thompson of San Francisco. Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Elliott entertained last evening at their home for a group of 12, the guests including friends of the Elliotts who are in the legislature from eastern Oregon.

Covers were placed at the attractive Valentine dinner for: Senator and Mrs. Bruce Dennis and son, Jack, of La Grande; Representa-

GUS ANDERSON

A visitor Salem today who is attending the law school of Northwestern University in Chicago, and who, as business manager, is bringing the Glee club of Northwestern University to this city for a concert to be held in the First Methodist church this evening at 8:30. Mr. Anderson is staying during his visit at the home of his mother, Mrs. I. M. Anderson of 995 N. Fifth street.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan E. Oakes of Malheur county; Senator and Mrs. George E. Davis of Harney and Malheur counties; Representative and Mrs. A. R. Hunter of Union county, John Elliott, and the hosts Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Elliott.

Two charming dinners in the series being given by Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Steeves were those of Friday and of Monday evenings. Beautifully appointed tables were used for both dinners, with flowers and place cards in delightful harmony. On Friday pink cyclamens centered the table, with a similar color scheme in use on Monday.

At the earlier dinner covers were placed for: Mr. and Mrs. H. Vandevort, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Price, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Lee, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Steeves.

On Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. Steeves had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Carey F. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Miles, and Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Millard.

Practically every member of the Etokta club was present for an unusually interesting meeting at the home of E. E. Fisher, on Tuesday. It is the plan of the club to follow the course of study outlined in "Know Your Own Town" published by the National League of Women Voters. This study will continue throughout the club year. At the next meeting, on March 10, the first discussion will be conducted, the members having supplied themselves with the necessary literature. Delightful refreshments were served on Tuesday afternoon by the hostess.

Parents all over the city who take pleasure in providing for their children the best will appreciate the fact that the third of the Yale University series, "Chronicles of America" will open tomorrow afternoon at the Liberty theater. It is only by the patronage of such films that they may be brought to Salem in increasing numbers. "Vincennes," which is the third chronicle, will show not only tomorrow, but also Saturday. David Belasco's "Daddies," an exceptional comedy, will be shown in connection. "Vincennes" depicts the tremendous achievement of George Rogers Clark, a gallant and courageous Virginia pioneer, in driving the British out of that vast territory in the Northwest that gave the colonists the five states of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin and Michigan. In 1777, while the Thirteen American Colonies were fighting Great Britain in the east, Henry Hamilton, Military governor, held a parley with the Chippewa Indians near Detroit and encouraged them to make warfare on the colonists along the western border. These Indian outrages so incensed George Rogers Clark that he appealed to Patrick Henry, governor of Virginia, for money for an expedition to proceed against Hamilton.

The vastness of this undertaking by Clark, the obstacles in his path, the tremendous physical endurance and the indomitable courage of the brave leader and the hardy pioneers is dramatically relieved in "Vincennes," directed by Edwin L. Hollywood. Leslie Austin plays Clark, a man of unusual physical, spiritual and mental attributes.

The Kensington club will meet this afternoon with Mrs. Otto J. Wilson, 1336 State street. A Washington's birthday and Valentine party was an interesting event in the social calendar of the Court Street Christian church when the members of the Loyal Fifty class met for an evening of varied delights. Red streamers and hearts combined in an effective decorative plan. The games were both original and amusing. The cleverest of all was "Truth-telling" event, with a little red hatchet to mark each offense. The wearer of more than one hatchet automatically became eligible to the "rope game" with duties in the dining room and kitchen. Valentine cakes and candy cherries featured on the menu.

The North Salem WCTU will meet this afternoon at 2:30 at the home of Mrs. Mary E. Wooten, 2255 North Church street. The dance concert to be given by the Portia Mansfield Dancers at the Grand theater on February 18 presents several features totally different from that of any other musical offering. These young girls, chosen by Portia Mansfield, and trained by her till they are artists in their own right, give rhythmic visualization to various masterpieces of instrumental harmony. The closing number of the program "Hymn of Joy" is a study in the combination of shapes and colors to dance rhythms. It starts with the wave-like motions of girls tossing balloons to the strains of a Brahms waltz. Then the music changes to Beethoven's "Ruins of Athens," the rhythm quickens, and the dance ends in a whirl of color and moving bodies. Tickets for the dance concert are on sale by Bertha Junk Darby. Judging from the heavy advance sale, the Mansfield Dancers will be greeted by a capacity house.

On Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the church parlors, the Women's society of the First Baptist church will entertain the mothers and babies with a cradle roll party to which all the women of the congregation are cordially invited. The following program has been arranged which will feature some of the little folks from the primary department. Devotional, Mrs. Polling; "With Children in Foreign Lands" Mrs. Lettis; recitation, "A Little Girl's Story," Vera Huber; "With Foreign Children in America," Mrs. Fred Broer; song, "Blessed Jesus," Marjorie Alice White; children's playlet, "Christina chilren at Home," Geneva Barnes, Margaret Davis, Doris Barnett, Maxine McKillopp; duet, "World Children for Jesus," Florence Foster, Helen Latham; solo, "Sleep Little Baby of Mine," Denee, Mrs. Ernest H. Shanks.

The Ladies of the Silver Bell circle are sponsoring benefit card affairs for Friday, both afternoon and evening, at the WOW hall.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Woman's Relief Corps will meet this afternoon with Mrs. Louise Koozitz, 671 Winter street.

Interesting plans are being completed for the large formal tea of this afternoon at Lausanne Hall when the Town and Gown club will entertain for the members of the Northwestern University Glee club who will appear in concert this evening at the First Methodist church, the only place in Oregon outside of Portland. Calling hours will be from 2:30 to 4:30 o'clock, while the concert will be given in the evening at 8:30 o'clock.

During the afternoon the following will formally receive: Miss Frances M. Richards, Mrs. C. P. Bishop, Mrs. George H. Alden, Mrs. E. C. Hickman, Mrs. Donald W. Riddle, and Mrs. F. A. Elliott. Greeting the guests at the door will be: Mrs. Roy Harding and Mrs. Horace Williston, during the first hour, and, during the second hour, Mrs. E. T. Brown and Mrs. Charles L. Sherman. Mrs. J. H. Lauterman and Mrs. R. J. Hendricks, alternating with Mrs. W. H. Dancy and Mrs. Leta Westacott, will invite the guests to the dining room where Mrs. Henry J. Beah and Mrs. John Albert and Mrs. William Brown and Mrs. Frank Snedecor will dispense tea-table hospitalities. In the dining room Mrs. John Scott will be in charge. Assisting her will be: Mrs. Curtis Cross, Mrs. O. E. Price, and Mrs. T. S. Roberts.

In the drawing room and hall the following will act as hostesses: Mrs. A. N. Moores, Mrs. E. T. Barnes, Mrs. E. C. Cross, Mrs. W. E. Kirk, Mrs. Mattie Beatty, Mrs. N. C. Kafoury, Mrs. B. L. Steeves, Mrs. Ronald Glover, Mrs. Elmo S. White, Mrs. U. G. Boyer, Mrs. Alice H. Dodd, Mrs. Emory W. Hobson, Mrs. M. C. Findley, Mrs. E. C. Richards, Mrs. F. G. Franklin, Mrs. Frank Erickson, Mrs. Florian Von Eschen, Mrs. Gustav Ebsen, and Mrs. S. B. Laughlin. An invitation has been extended to all townswomen with an interest in the university as well as to the members of the two campus glee clubs.

Mrs. Paul Todd, accompanied by her two little daughters, after spending two months with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Hodge, returned over the week-end to her home in Long View, Wash.

Theodore A. Harper, author of "The Mushroom Boy," and Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Euwer, were honor guests at a dinner last evening when the Writers' club entertained in the Writers' club at the Spa. The occasion also marked the birthday of Mr. Euwer who was presented, in behalf of a group from the club, with an attractive fountain pen. Mr. J. M. Clifford made the presentation, with Mr. Euwer accepting in his inimitable manner. Present as special guests were: Miss Cernelia Marvin, Miss Zoe Stockton, Miss Kathryn Gunnell, Mrs. John W. Harbison, Prof. and Mrs. Gustav Ebsen, and Otto Paulus. Members of the Writers' club in the group were: Professor and Mrs. M. E. Peck, Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Barton, Gertrude Robison Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Paulus, Dr. and Mrs. F. G. Franklin, Miss Edna Garfield, Miss Grace Elizabeth Smith, Miss Audrey Bunch, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Lisle, Mrs. J. C. Nelson, Miss Renaska Swart, Perry Reigelman, Miss Marie Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Kells and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Clifford.

Immediately after the dinner the group adjourned to the Chamber of Commerce rooms where an enjoyable talk was given by Mr. Harper on "Adventures in Imagination." The Willing Workers' class of the First Christian church will hold a silver tea tomorrow afternoon in the church parlors. A Valentine program has been arranged, with decorations also in keeping with the holiday. The

WOODBURN NEWS

The first presentation of "Down in Maine," the anticipated play of the Salem's Heights Community club, was made last night at the club house before a large enthusiastic crowd. The play, a drama in four acts, has been splendidly coached by Lloyd Waltz. Twelve characters take the parts. The play will be repeated again this evening.

The chief musical event of the week is without question the concert which the Northwestern University Glee club will give at 8:30 o'clock this evening at the First Methodist church. Mr. Gus Anderson is instrumental in bringing this splendid group of singers to Salem. His growing success is evidenced not only by the achievement of making the glee club on its transcontinental tour in which is being carried a company of thirty-five singers and ten other artists including the championship relay team of the university, but also by other accomplishments of importance in Chicago and Evanston.

Mr. Anderson has made a splendid record for himself as a student in the law school from which he will soon be graduated. In addition, his work at the music school has won for him the warm friendship of Dean Peter C. Lutkin. Here Mr. Anderson has for several years acted as the manager of the famous A Cappella Choir during which time he has secured engagements in many cities in the territory of the middle west. Probably the most significant tribute to Mr. Anderson's ability as manager is Dean Lutkin's offer to him of the management of the great Northshore Music festival involving some seven concerts in which are engaged such artists as Galli Curci, McCormack, Elman, and the Minneapolis and the Chicago symphony orchestras.

During their stay in Salem the company will be entertained by automobile tours of the city. In the afternoon a reception for the members of the company is being prepared by Mrs. George H. Alden and Mrs. C. P. Bishop to be held at Lausanne hall. Those members of the company who are special acquaintances of Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. Riddle will be entertained at luncheon at their home.

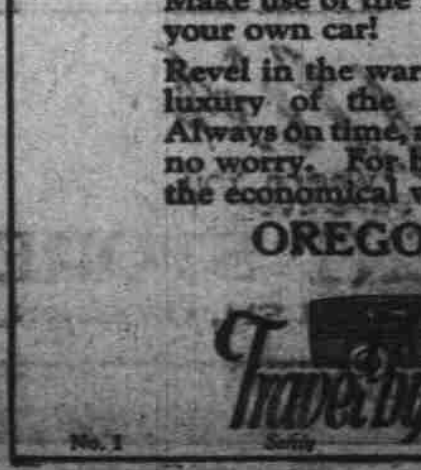

Surely the people of Salem are under a deep obligation to Mr. Anderson for bringing to our city the unusual opportunity offered in the appearance of these visitors.

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's club was held Wednesday at the home of Mrs. C. F. Whitman. Miss Ava Milam of Corvallis gave a 45-minute talk on the "Women of China." Joint hostesses of Mrs. Whitman were Mrs. Schreiber, Mrs. Klamp, Mrs. F. X. Beck and Miss Mary Scollard. February 20, they will give their annual Martha Washington tea.

A. W. Hindman is enjoying a visit with his brother, W. B. Hindman of Elgin, Ore. Mrs. F. W. Settlemeier was a charming hostess Thursday afternoon. The rooms were decorated with red hearts and valentines were the favors. Six tables of bridge were played. The prizes were given to Mrs. L. M. Bitney and Mrs. H. M. Austin. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Keith Powell, Mrs. H. D. Miller and Mrs. H. M. Austin. Those circling the tables were: Mrs. T. C. Poorman, Mrs. Blaine McCord, Mrs. C. F. Whitman, Mrs. H. M. Austin, Mrs. Frank Proctor, Mrs. Eugene Courtney, Mrs. E. G. Emmett, Mrs. Fred Haverham, Mrs. Fred Evenden, Mrs. Lyman Shorey, Mrs. Keith Powell, Mrs. H. D. Miller, Mrs. Adolph Glatz, Mrs. A. J. White of Canby, Mrs. J. W. Saylor of Aurora and Mrs. L. A. Beckman of Hubbard. The ladies in for tea were Mrs. H. L. Gill, Mrs. Eugene Mosberger, Mrs. C. J. Espy and Mrs. Mary Scollard. Friday night Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Whitman entertained the members of the Knafke Klatch. Four tables of 500 were played. Mrs. F. X. Beck and F. W. Settlemeier received the prizes. The hostess was assisted in serving by Mrs. L. M. Bitney and Mrs. H. D. Miller. The members enjoying the evening were Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Settlemeier, Mr. and Mrs. F. X. Beck, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Haverham, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Bitney, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Saylor, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Shorey. Mr. and Mrs. Scott were additional guests.
