Look at it

Open a can of Snowdrift and you will see why Snowdrift was named Snowdrift. It is as white as freshly fallen snow. This whiteness does not make Snowdrift pure, but its purity is one reason why Snowdrift is so white.

Snowdrift is made by the Wesson Oil people out of oil as good as fine salad oil—hardened and whipped into a creamy white fat—and packed in an airtight can to keep it as sweet and fresh as the day it was made.

There couldn't be anything nicer than Snowdrift for making cake, biscuit, or pie crust, or for frying.
