SONGS

I
Give me a star, a bird, a flower,
And I will spin you a song that shall live
An hour.

II
Give me a heart, a smile, a tear,
And I will weave you a song that shall live
A year.

III
But give me a love Death cannot sever,
And I will build you a song that shall live Forever.

MISS LEONE HAIT entertained a group of girl friends at a Valentine tea on Saturday afternoon from 2:30 to 4:30 o'clock. The early afternoon was devoted to a musical program after which the guests were ushered to the dining room to be met by the glow of Valentine decorations. The table was attractive with a cut glass basket of carnations, red candles in silver holders, and heart-shaped place cards. Through the red chandelier-covers a subdued glow was cast over the Madeira table cover. Mesdames George E. Emory, W. H. Hertzog and Donald W. Riddle assisted the hostess in serving the refreshments, appropriate to St. Valentine's.

Tiny red-dressed dolls, with pointed caps, circled the table, each holding two tiny hearts in its hands.

As the group was about to leave the dining room, at the direction of the hostess, the caps were lifted from the dolls, disclosing the secret which was the special occasion of the party. A small valentine contained the news of the betrothal of Miss Hait to Mr. Jack Corley Burleson of McMinnville, Ore. Miss Hait, formerly of Kirkland, Ill., is the niece of Dr. and Mrs. Donald Wayne Riddle, making her home with them at the Kimball apartments. She is a graduate of the Salem high school with the class of 1923 and a student of the Northern Illinois State Teachers' college at De Kalb, Ill. Mr. Burleson was formerly a student at Willamette university where he was a member of the Alpha Psi Delta fraternity and the Chrestophillian literary society. He is now attending the University of Oregon where he is a student in journalism and a member of Sigma Delta Chi and the Phi Gamma Delta fraternities.

The guests for the tea included: Miss Lorena Geer, Miss Lois Moorhead, Miss Genevieve Campbell, Miss Ada Ross, Miss Fay Wassam, Miss Helen Pollock, Miss Pauline Knowland, Miss Marie Hitecock, Miss Paloma Prouty, Miss Blanche Billmeyer, Miss Nevada Millard, and Miss Kreta Janz.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Euwer and baby son, Anthony Junior, were entertained during their stay in Salem at the home of Professor and Mrs. G. Ebsen, 635 Chemeketa street.

Thursday was an interesting day to a large group of Salem society folk when Mrs. Grover C. Bellinger and Mrs. E. A. Colony were hostesses both in the afternoon and evening at the Bellinger home. In the afternoon guests were invited for six tables of bridge, and in the evening for nine tables of five hundred. The attractive rooms of the Bellinger home were beautifully decorated with baskets of daffodils and acacia, with here and there a suggestion of the Valentine season.

The afternoon high scores were won by: Mrs. E. M. Page and Mrs. W. E. Anderson. In the evening awards were made to Mrs. Phil Newmyer and to B. L. Barby.

Guests of Mrs. Colony and Mrs. Bellinger for bridge were: Mrs. Will Busick, Mrs. C. H. Robertson, Mrs. B. F. Pound, Mrs. Linn Smith, Mrs. Leo Page, Mrs. Max Buren, Mrs. W. I. Staley, Mrs. W. S. ## How long is your clothesline?

Do you measure your clothesline by feet—or by days? Does it stretch from the corner of the house to the fence—or from one week to another, always keeping you tied to a disagreeable task? The true measure of a clothesline is the time it represents in your daily life. A washday a week means 52 days a year, or one-seventh of your time.

To many women who use our laundry service a clothesline means "something to tie up trunks with", or "a rope for the children's sled". They send us their weekly washing—rid themselves of the drudgery of washday slavery—free themselves from the bonds of the clothesline. A telephone call will bring our representative to explain our various services. Call us today.
