Anchored— at the Foot of the Class!

The he tries hard—harder than his mates—Johnny seems to be anchored at the foot of the class. He has ability, still he doesn't make any headway because—Unknown to him and his parents—he is handicapped by defective vision.

Give him his rightful chance to compete on even terms with his school mates. Have his eyes examined and remove that "cloud."

BEFORE YOU BUY BIFOCAL GLASSES

BE SURE you see and have demonstrated the new lens known as the "Cross Trifocal." This is the latest optical achievement for those requiring far and near lenses and was introduced into Salem by us several weeks ago. From the above illustration you will get an idea of the range of vision this new lens gives you, a range hitherto impossible with ordinary bifocal glasses. We have already made up a great number of these lenses, some for people who could not wear bifocals at all, and every pair have proved entirely satisfactory.

Have Your Eyes Examined

We have all the special instruments for taking the correct measurements in fitting cross Trifocals and we will be glad to give your eyes a thorough examination, and furnish perfect fitting glasses.
