

DR. HICKMAN GIVES TALK TO KIWANIS

Business Man's Responsibility to Youth Stressed in Talk at Luncheon

Rev. E. C. Hickman, president of the Kimball School of Theology, made one of the most profound addresses at the regular meeting of the Kiwanis club yesterday. Choosing as his topic, "The Unprivileged Boy," the speaker stated the greatest asset of the nation rested in the boyhood and girlhood of the nation. Nothing else is of value, in comparing the results to be secured for the future development of the nation.

"Every Kiwanian has an interest in boys, and that has to be an intelligent one, which is manifested in many ways. Every Kiwanian has the latest literature and periodicals on the newest kinks in his business, but I'll venture to say that few men have the latest literature on boy and girl development," was the declaration of the speaker.

"During the past few years the increase of crime among the young people under 20 years of age has increased until it is 78 per cent, in comparison to the former 50 per cent of pre war days. There has been a greater need for the understanding of the boys of the country."

"Every man knows the mechanic who tinkers with his car, but he does not often know the teachers in the schools who have his children for six, seven and eight hours of the day. Every man should specialize in one subject so that he will be ahead of his boy when he begins to grow and should be able to lead him on. It is better to give the lad the right facts of life than to let him glean them from the four places of the street. It is better that the father give companionship to his son than to let him be without it. It is better to give the proper help in raising the boy than to let him just grow," such were the pertinent facts presented to the Kiwanians.

"The understanding of boys will go a long way in making this world a better place to be in," was the comment of the speaker. Music was furnished by Rev. E. C. Hickman and his father, G. W. Hickman, retired minister, in duet numbers. The program was one of the best featured at the Kiwanis luncheons.

Another Oregon Cow Makes Double Medal

St. Maves Lad's Oxford Lady 472257, has made her contribution to the fame of St. Maves Lad 330501 by completing a test in which she won both a gold and a silver medal for producing, with calf, 618.39 lbs. of butter-fat and 11771 lbs. of milk in 291 days. She started on this test at 3 years and 8 months of age and carried calf for more than 3 months while making this splendid record. For 2 months of this test she produced in excess of 70 pounds of fat per month and for 7 months she exceeded 60 lbs. of fat by a comfortable margin.

When Lady was first tested at 2 years of age she yielded 567.45 pounds of fat in 365 days.

Lady is by St. Maves Lad 130591, the renowned Gold and Silver Medal bull that has 19 daughters and 1 son in the Register of Merit. His daughters have won 5 gold medals and 10 silver medals and their average production in 23 tests at an average of 2 years and 5 months is just a little under 600 pounds of fat. In addition his daughters hold first, third, fourth and seventh places in the yearling class for the Jersey breed; sixth place in the junior two-year-old class, and second place in the junior four-year-old class for the breed.

The dam of St. Maves Lad's Oxford Lady is an imported cow, Edith's Oxford Belle 312639. This cow won a gold medal with her record of 746.73 pounds of fat. She has 1 Register of Merit daughter and this daughter is a silver medal winner.

St. Maves Lad's Oxford Lady is owned by D. C. Howard of Beaverton, Ore., and completed her splendid record under his care.

Boys From Training School Visit State Legislature

The population of the Oregon state training school for boys has increased 77 during the past two weeks until 261 boys are confined in the institution. Twenty boys were brought to the school during the past two weeks, which causes it to be filled almost to capacity.

Several years ago the school was considered to be full when the population was at 110, but the few changes that have been made make it possible for the greater number to be cared for.

Yesterday a group of 50 boys from the school visited the state legislature while it was in session, making the last group of boys to be so favored. An additional venture was given them when they were taken to the top of the state house and allowed to enter the dome, where they were able to see over the city.

Washington's Birthday Observed at Silverton

SILVERTON, Or., Feb. 24.—(Special to The Statesman.)—Silverton schools observed Washington's birthday Monday morning by giving a program. At the close of the program the students were excused for the remainder of the day. The program was given jointly by the grade school children and the high school students. Songs, recitations, piano solos, and flag drills were put on by the grade school children. The most interesting feature of this part of the program was a colonial costume dance by the Washington Irving girls.

The high school program was given under the auspices of the Senior eight class. It consisted of a piano solo by Myrna Sather, reading on Washington's life by Leora McClung, violin solo by Francis Coberly, one act play by Olive Banks and Edward Syring. The feature of this program was a little skit written by Amos Benson, Leora McClung, and Mary Egan. It consisted of "Ghosts of the Past," such as Washington, Patrick Henry, Webster and others, coming forward and speaking on the progress the world had made since they took part in affairs.

VOLUNTEERS ARE TO GATHER HERE

Student Volunteer Conference to be Held on Willamette Campus

The fourth annual student volunteer conference to be held in Oregon is to be at Willamette University, February 27, 28 and March 1. The feature of the conference is to be an address given Friday by Dr. Norman C. Coleman, president of Reed College. Dr. Coleman has traveled widely in the Orient and is the former president of the 4L organization.

The conference will open with the registration of delegates Friday afternoon and after a brief discussion the address of Dr. Coleman will be given on the subject of "Japan and Her Religion."

On Saturday an address will be given by Andy Wakeman on "Africa," after which several discussion groups will be formed. Later an address is to be given by Dean Ava B. Millam, OAC, on "The Orient." In the afternoon a worship service will be held followed by several discussion groups.

The conference will close Sunday morning after all discussion has been concluded and the report of the resolutions committee accepted.

About 150 delegates are expected to attend the conference from Oregon colleges. The following colleges have already agreed to send a representative: O. A. C. U. of O., Reed, Linfield, P. U., C. P. S., Medical Group of the University of Oregon and Albany College.

The conference last year was held at Corvallis under the direction of the Oregon Agricultural College.

The visiting delegates will be entertained in church homes and at the different fraternities and sororities, according to Paul Johnson, state president of the organization.

A banquet will be held Friday evening that will be open to the general public. Eight well-known speakers will attend the conference and it is expected that the meeting will draw wider attention than any other one event during the year.

MARDI GRAS IS ON

NEW ORLEANS, La., Feb. 24.—Parades by carnival organizations, promiscuous masking from sunrise to sunset, and numerous balls filled the program of the 1925 mardi gras here today.

MOTHER!

"California Fig Syrup"

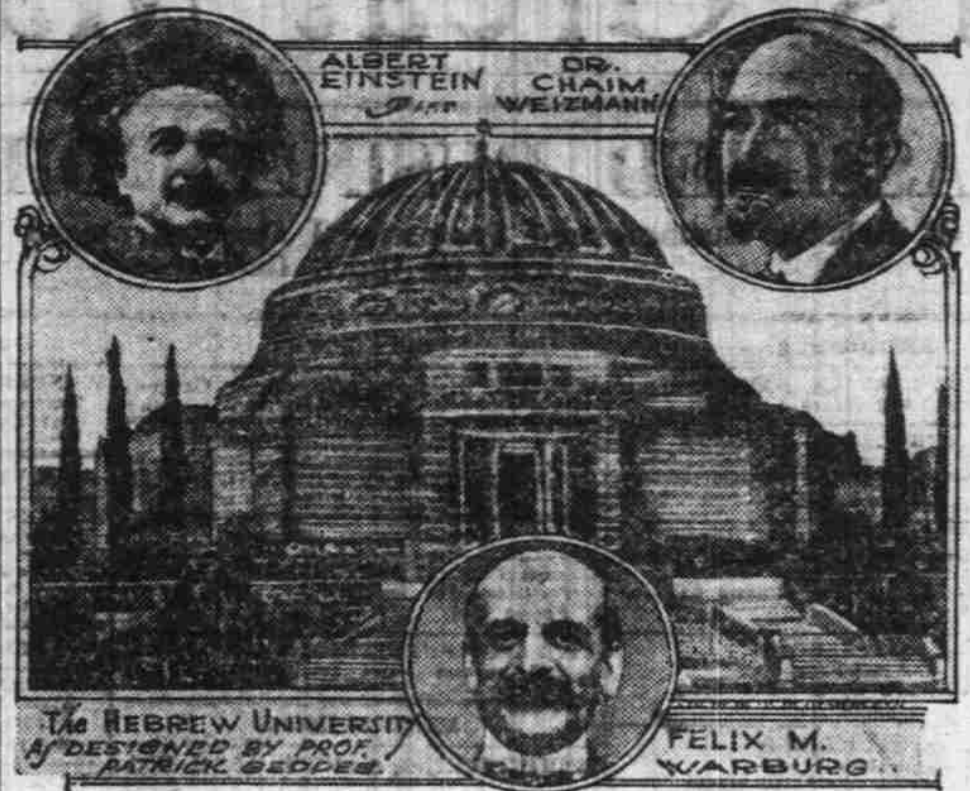

Dependable Laxative for Sick Baby or Child

Harry Mother! Even a bilious, constipated, feverish child loves the pleasant taste of "California Fig Syrup" and it never fails to open the bowels. A teaspoonful today may prevent a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.—Adv.

World-Famous Scholars Join Faculty of Great University On Historic Mount of Olives

On the historic Mount of Olives, towering above Jerusalem and overlooking many of the most sacred localities in the Holy Land, the Hebrew University is being built as the climax of the Jewish Homeland movement. The University, designed by Prof. Patrick Geddes, noted architect and town planner of the University of Edinburgh, is one of the principal projects of the Palestine Foundation Fund, the chief financial instrument for the rebuilding of Palestine. The Fund draws its principal support from American Jews.

Many world-famous scholars have already joined the faculty of the University, whose first departments began to function a year ago, and whose latest college, the Institute of Jewish Studies, has just been opened under the Presidency of Dr. Judah L. Magnes, a former well-known Jewish scholar of New York. Felix M. Warburg, American banker and philanthropist, contributed $100,000 toward the Institute.

Dr. Albert Einstein, of Relativity Theory fame, heads the distinguished faculty. He will be a member of the Science Department as will Dr. Chaim Weizmann, President of the World Zionist Organization and a noted chemist. Dr. Weizmann was chief of the high-explosives laboratory of the British Government during the war, rendering distinguished service to the Allied Cause.

The Medical College and Hospital of the University are being built by a group of American physicians, headed by Dr. Nathan Ratnoff, a noted New York obstetrician. The chemical and microbiological departments of the University have been functioning for about a year. A number of Agricultural Experiment stations, connected with the University, have made valuable contributions to the agricultural development of the country, which is the major activity of the Palestine Foundation Fund.

Wood to be Prosecuted on Worthless Check Charges

BIARRITZ, France, Feb. 24.—After having waited a week in order to give Osborne C. Wood every opportunity to redeem what he alleges is a worthless check which Wood cashed February 17 at the Biarritz casino, the director of the casino announced today that he had decided finally to take legal proceedings against the former American army officer.

Even at this stage of the proceedings the police assert the director of the casino expressed his willingness to withdraw the charge, should he be reimbursed in the 25,000 francs alleged to have been paid to Wood. It was added that the cash payment must be made promptly, however, inasmuch as the controversy tonight passes out of the hands of the local authorities and into the jurisdiction of the Bayonne magistrates, who will decide whether a warrant should be issued or not.

All Fat People Should Know This

Fat people owe a debt of gratitude to the discoverer of the now famous Marmola Prescription. And they ought to be still more grateful because this effective obesity remedy is now prepared in tablet form. Marmola Prescription Tablets can be obtained at all drug stores the world over at the reasonable price of one dollar for a box. Or you can secure them direct by sending the price to the Marmola Co., General Motors Bldg., Detroit, Mich. This now leaves no excuse for dieting or violent exercises for the reduction of the over-fat body to normal.—Adv.

BOYS ARE TO HAVE BANQUET AT YMCA

Rally to be Held of Boys Selling Song for Benefit of Blind in Oregon

Boys from three prominent organizations of Salem will gather at the YMCA tonight, for a "get-together" of an unusual nature. The occasion is the first rally of the Salem boys who have been so efficiently assisting in the sale of the song, "That Beautiful Home of the Rose." This song is being sold for the relief work for the blind people of Oregon that are outside of state institutions.

As invited guests will be boys from the Salem Pioneer clubs, one boy from each club; and one boy from each of the Boy Scout troops of the city. In addition to the above mentioned will be several boys who have been assisting in the sale and are not now connected with any boys organization.

Adult guests will be Merle Bonney, president of the Willamette University YMCA; Mr. Love of Kimball college; Clarence Oliver, YMCA boys secretary; Mr. Love of Croskey instructor of the YMCA salesmanship class; Leland Chapin who represents Willamette University in the state "Y" oratorical contest; and Loyal Warner who is in charge of the Pioneer Boys clubs of the city.

Mr. McCroskey will deliver a short talk on practical salesmanship. Others will speak on subjects interesting to boys. A letter will be read from Mrs. Adelaide Dorothy Graham expressing her appreciation of the assistance rendered by the boys in the sale of the song which she has donated for this worthy work.

Waitresses will be from the YWCA. Chief cook will be Mrs. J. Woodry assisted by Mrs. Rev. Putnam.

Former Salem Man Dies in East; Body Sent to Oregon

Samuel Newby, son of Axsum and Rachel Newby, was born in Grant county, Indiana, Dec. 9, 1884, where he spent his early life.

When but 20 years old he was married to Martha C. Pemberton. About one year later he moved to Marshall county, Iowa, where he settled in the Hartland community and resided for 30 years. To this union there were born seven children, five of whom are still living.

In 1895 he moved to Salem, where he has since resided. Mrs. Newby passed away in October, 1904, and in 1907 he was married to Deborah King, who lived but two years after their marriage.

On May 1, 1912 he was again united in marriage to Alice Pearson Elliott, who survives him. He was a birth-right member of Friends church. He is survived by his widow and five children: J. P. Newby, Marshalltown, Ia.; Mrs. E. J. Pearson, Bozeman, Mont.; Mrs. J. L. Wagoner, Marshalltown, Ia.; E. A. Newby, Washougal, Wash.; Mrs. C. D. Huff, Harrisburg, Ore.; Mrs. L. M. Crozer and Mrs. L. D. Dobbins having preceded him. He is also survived by one brother, Axsum Newby, Newberg, Ore., and 12 grandchildren, also five great grandchildren.

He departed this life at the home of his son, J. P. Newby, Marshalltown, Ia., Sunday morning, Feb. 15, 1925, aged 80 years, two months and six days. On the 30th of October last, he with his wife, went to Marshalltown to visit with children and friends. He had not been well for two or three years and about the holidays became worse and since that time had been confined to the house.

The body was brought to Oregon for burial.

If there should come another war, the common people should demand that it be fought out by the gentlemen who are inventing all the deadly war engines we read about.
