MARCH

A madcap runs along the street
On flying, eager, noisy feet;
A boy whose whistle, loud and shrill,
Goes echoing from hill to hill.
To hail against the windowpane,
The screaming wind, the beating rain
Have called to him, "Come out, Come out!
"Come out and play!" They run, they shout,
He scampers here, he scampers there,
The raindrops sparkle in his hair.
He's splashed with mud, he's cold, he's wet,
His teeth are chattering, and yet
Above the wind his laughter rings;
What jolly little notes he sings!
Hurrah for snow that melts and runs
And glitters like a hundred suns!
A madcap runs along the street—
I hear the clatter of his feet!

—Abigail Cresson.

"BON VOYAGE" affairs for Mrs. William H. Burghardt, who leaves soon for Paris, have been attractive among the calendar events of the past week. Mrs. Burghardt, who will leave tomorrow night for Portland, plans to leave for New York on Tuesday. She will sail for Cherbourg on March 14, taking passage on the Andania. Mrs. David W. Eyre, Mrs. Clifford Brown and Mrs. William Walton are among those who have entertained with delightful affairs for Mrs. Burghardt's pleasure.

a group of intimate friends. On Thursday afternoon Mrs. Clifford Brown entertained with luncheon and tea, at 1 o'clock, and at 4 o'clock, and on Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. Walton entertained at dinner.

Society's most brilliant affair of the closing week was an event of last night at the Marion hotel when Mr. and Mrs. James Linn and Major and Mrs. F. G. Andreae entertained at an elaborate dinner dance in the hotel ballroom which was transformed into a lovely summer garden. Pergolas blended with awnings in the creation of garden effects. Balloons and Japanese parasols in pastel shades lent an airy charm to the scene, where the lavish gowns of the guests made an unforgettable picture.

Invitations for the affair were issued to the following society folk, a number of out-of-town guests being included for the gala event:

Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Slade, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Young of Albany, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Fry, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Thielson, Chauncey Bishop of Pendleton, Mr. and Mrs. Asahel Bush, Miss Marguerite Leprette, Miss Margaret Rodgers, Carl Gabrielson, James Young, Mr. and Mrs. Denton G. Burdick of Redmond, H. B. Tronson, Geo. Putnam, Frank Durbin, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Burghardt, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Heinlein, Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Lytle, Mrs. Iva Blomquist, Miss Mildred Rodgers and Miss Hattie Reeder of Corvallis, Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Beyrele, Mr. and Mrs. Shaffers, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Livesley, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Lockwood, S. M. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Jackson of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ritner of Pendleton, Miss Louise Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lachmund, Mr. and Mrs. John McNary, and A. N. Pierce.

Mrs. G. Ed Ross has been called to Eau Claire, Wis., on account of the serious illness of her mother. Her mother, Mrs. Mary E. Ross, spent the winter in Salem two years ago and has numerous friends here and in Silverton.

Honoring Miss Adella Prichard, national president of the Business and Professional Woman's club, the Salem club women will be hostesses on Wednesday of this week at their formal annual banquet at the Marion hotel at 7 o'clock. Dr. Mary Purvine, president of the local business and professional women, will preside as toastmistress. Not only Miss Prichard—taking as her subject "National Organization in Relation to Problems of Girls"—will favor the guests with a speech, but also Edith Tozier Withered will be present in that capacity. Musical numbers and a variety of toasts will add to the pleasure of the evening.

Reservations for the banquet may be made with Mrs. L. A. Kezar at the state house or with Miss Sylvia Woods at the Capital drug store.

Miss Elizabeth Levy directed the Independence high school orchestra in an enjoyable concert on Wednesday evening at the Isis theater.

The 6 o'clock supper given by the Sons of Veterans auxiliary on Tuesday proved to be one of the week's successful affairs. The attendance was large and a very profitable as well as social time was enjoyed. Following the dinner the regular business meeting was held, after which a Washington program was given. Dr. Pound gave a fine description of the home and estate where Washington lived. James Remington, Mr. Lausch and William Adams gave talks on the boyhood, social and political phases of Washington's life. Mrs. Ida Traglio, whose home at one time was not far from the home of "The Father of His Country," gave a reading. A talk on Washington was also given by Mrs. Elizabeth Levy directed the Independence high school orchestra in an enjoyable concert on Wednesday evening at the Isis theater.

The Salem Music Teachers' association will meet tomorrow evening as the guests of Mrs. Walter A. Denton at the M. L. Meyers home, 1055 Court street.

Miss Edna Garfield and Mrs. F. G. Franklin invited several friends to a luncheon in honor of Senator Kinney, in the Rose room of the Spa, Friday noon. Besides the honor guest and Miss Garfield and Mrs. Franklin, the following were present: Mrs. C. P. Bishop, Mrs. Donald Riddle, Mrs. Winifred Pickering, Portland, Miss Eva Feree, Mrs. J. F. Blair, Miss Grace Smith, Miss Renska Swart, Senator Kinney gave interesting reminiscences of the legislature and described in detail how our laws are made. She also told many humorous incidents of her experience as the lone woman of the thirty-third session of the Oregon legislature. She spoke very highly of the treatment accorded her by the senators, and expressed the hope that Oregonians would send more women to the next legislature.

A group of Salem matrons were honor guests at a beautifully appointed 1 o'clock luncheon on Thursday in Portland when Mrs. J. E. Flanders entertained at the Campbell Court hotel. Covers for twelve were arranged in the Japanese room of the hotel with the Japanese motif attractive in the decorations. Following the luncheon the afternoon was devoted to bridge at the home of the hostess, prizes going to Mrs. Edwin L. Baker and Mrs. W. H. Dancy.

Covers at the delightful luncheon were placed for: Mrs. L. F. Griffith, Mrs. W. H. Dancy, Mrs. W. A. Jones, Mrs. E. L. Baker, Mrs. O. C. Locke, Mrs. Frank Meredith, Mrs. H. H. Ollinger and Mrs. George G. Brown who motored down from Salem for the occasion, and Mrs. Otto Metschan, Mrs. Ed Metschan, Mrs. K. K. Kubli, Mrs. A. W. Giesy, all of Portland, and the hostess, Mrs. Flanders.

Miss Carlotta Crowley is entertaining as her house-guest over the week-end Miss Beth Hileman of McMinnville.

Professor and Mrs. Horace Williston had as their house-guest Friday night, President Norman F. Coleman of Reed College, one of the speakers for the Student Volunteer conference. In the evening Professor and Mrs. Williston entertained at dinner in Giesy, all of Portland, and the hostess, Mrs. Flanders.

Miss Carlotta Crowley is entertaining as her house-guest over the week-end Miss Beth Hileman of McMinnville.

Professor and Mrs. Horace Williston had as their house-guest Friday night, President Norman F. Coleman of Reed College, one of the speakers for the Student Volunteer conference. In the evening Professor and Mrs. Williston entertained at dinner in honor of President Coleman. Daffodils were attractively used as the table-flowers with yellow candles in crystal holders completing the chosen color scheme.

Covers were placed for: President Norman F. Coleman, Miss Ruth Griffin, and Miss Helen Nelson all of Portland, Miss Inez Gottra, Leland Chapin, and the hosts, Professor and Mrs. Horace Williston.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Clifford have been the hosts during the past week at a series of small, but delightful dinners. On Washington's birthday Professor and Mrs. W. E. Lawrence of Corvallis were their guests, while on Tuesday they entertained for the pleasure of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Paulus. Mr. and Mrs. Clifford chose as their guests for Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Jones. On each evening the table was lovely with spring flowers.

Friends of Mrs. F. S. Barton who in a literary way signs herself Clara Virginia Barton, will share her pleasure at having been named the winner of a very expensive synchroscope receiving set in a St. Valentine radio contest sponsored by the broadcasting station of Richmond, Long Island. A total of 28,197 persons participated in this contest.

Mr. and Mrs. William Burghardt, Jr., and Mrs. Clifford Brown were among those from Salem who saw the incomparable Paviowa in Portland Friday night, a performance that many agreed was more exquisite than anything she has ever done.

The annual Day of Prayer of Missions on Friday at the First Baptist church was attended by a larger number than have ever before observed the day in Salem. The guests were graciously entertained by their hostesses who not only decorated the church in an attractive manner, but also provided largely for the noon luncheon which seventy-five women enjoyed together.

New officers were elected for the new year as follows: President, Mrs. F. A. Elliott; vice president, Mrs. J. L. Brady; secretary treasurer, Mrs. John O. Humphreys; and superintendent of migrant work, Mrs. John L. Brady.

Of especial interest on the program wonderfully planned for the day was Mrs. Herbert Low's talk on Foreign Speaking People. Mrs. Low was born in China of a family who have been Christians for three centuries back, is connected with the Baptist Mission for Chinese in Portland.

The afternoon program was opened with a talk by Dean Ava B. Milam of the Oregon Agricultural college at Corvallis. Miss Eugenia Phillips was the speaker of the later afternoon. Seven years of experience in the schools of Guatemala have been hers. The talk was descriptive and told of the development in churches and schools. Miss Naomi Phelps gave a beautifully chosen song.

An additional and appreciated feature on the program was given by C. M. Pierce, the Governor's brother, who gave a group of inspirational reading, a favored of which was as follows:

"I like the man who faces what he must
With step unflinching and heart of cheer
And fights his daily battles without fear.
Sees his hopes fall—yet with unflinching trust
That knows that God is good."

Kappa Alpha Theta alumnae will be the guests on Tuesday afternoon of Mrs. George W. Hug, 1249 South Commercial street. During the afternoon the time will be spent in sewing on linen for the chapter house in Corvallis.

The Rt. Rev. Walter T. Sumner, D.D., bishop of Oregon, will make his official visit and administer the rite of confirmation to a large class today at the morning service at St. Paul's Episcopal church. The public is invited to attend.
