LESLIE METHODIST MEN ENTERTAINED

Supper Served by Ladies of Church; District Superintendent Speaks

A most enjoyable meeting was held by the men of the Leslie Methodist Episcopal church last night. The feature of the evening was a talk given by the new district superintendent, Rev. D. H. Leach. The men enjoyed a dinner given by the Ladies Aid society at 6:30 o'clock. After the dinner a few old time songs such as Annie Laurie and Old Black Joe were sung. This was followed by the introduction of guests. Nine new men were present including Professor J. C. Nelson of Salem high school. Following the introductions two solos were rendered by Claud Stevenson of South Liberty. Rev. D. H. Leach, new superintendent for the district, was then introduced and gave a short talk.

DETAIL ACTION IS FORTE OF SESSION

City Council Acts Upon Many Minor Matters During Regular Session

The city attorney was instructed by the city council last night not to contest the suit filed by David A. Wright against the city to quiet title to property on Division, between High and Church. This portion of Division street has been used as private property during the past 74 years. Recently when the city undertook to open up the street the title was discovered to belong to the city. The action of Wright was merely to secure title for the property and to have the title transferred to him. The transfer is to be made if the expense was borne by Mr. Wright.

The ordinance prohibiting the driving of an automobile or motor vehicle across sidewalks was sent back to the committee for changes, while the ordinance asking for the marking of all street intersections hereafter paved, was lost, and sent back to the proper committee. Councilman Ploener reported that the heating system of the city hall was not giving proper service because there was more heat in the room than was necessary. The largest part of the heat remained at the top of the room and the lower part was cool. He recommended an additional heating system for the room during the cold months of the year. The main pipe running through the room is to be covered, according to his report.

The city engineer is to draw up plans for the installation of a sewer at Nebraska and Kansas streets, as well as Fourteenth and Fifteenth. Because it would cost between $250 and $300 to standardize hose couplings and fire hydrant fittings to correspond with the changes made throughout the state, the city council did not set aside funds for the purpose. It was referred to the budget committee for the coming year.

Due to a letter sent out under the direction of Councilman Daney, the "Cracker Jack" brand of water hose was not quoted for the city, according to the report made last night. The letter stated that bids would be opened on March 2, but as a matter of fact the bids were opened at the last regular meeting of the council. Last night the awards were made, with the contracts going to the United States Rubber company and to the Eureka Fire Hose company for fire equipment to be used by the city.

Through the endorsement of the health and police committee nine hotel, rooming house and apartment house licenses were granted, while permit to maintain a public card room was granted to Butler & Albright. Petition for six additional licenses were made. The petition for the vacation of Leslie street from Commercial to the Willamette slough, was lost because of opposition from council members.

Sidewalk resolutions for eight properties in the city were rushed through last night. Mayor Gleay, commenting upon the hasty action, urged the council members to show more caution in acting upon such matters. A resolution directing the city engineer to file plans for the improvement of North Summer was accepted, while approval was given for the sale of lots in the Oaks addition to J. B. Young and F. L. Cunningham.
