are as good in the west as in the east. If not better, it was his comment. The financial readjustments of the middle west are taking longer time than the adjustments in the west. Practically every community, in the middle west and east has suffered a bank failure from the inflated farm values. The conditions on the Atlantic seaboard are somewhat better. The comment on eastern conditions. Mr. Trindle appeared before the income tax department of the treasury department of Washington, D. C.

STAYTON NEWS

STAYTON, March 4—Ex-county Judge W. H. Downing of Sublimity was in Stayton Saturday for the first time in many months. His numerous friends here were glad to see him so well appearing after his long serious illness.

Mrs. Gale Monroe arrived from Drain the first of the week and is assisting with the care of her mother, Mrs. Hester Coats, who is very old and in poor health.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kimsey, who live out in the Silver Creek country, came Saturday to visit her brother, C. C. Nott, who is seriously ill. Mrs. Kimsey remained to assist in caring for him. Mr. Kimsey returned home in the evening.

Florer's Comedians, a traveling show company, closed a week's engagement at the Star theater Sunday night. Mrs. Walter Miller was voted the most popular lady, for which she was awarded a set of silverware.

Mr. and Mrs. George Dorcas, who recently returned to Salem from Los Angeles, drove over to Stayton Sunday where Mr. Dorcas was looking up old friends and acquaintances, he having spent several years of his boyhood here.

Dr. Van Valza and family have returned to Portland after spending the past three months here. Dr. Van Valza had charge of the dental office during the absence of Dr. W. N. Pintler, the resident dentist, who recently returned from an extended motoring tour through California. The doctor reports a most enjoyable winter spent in the south.

The Henry Sigmund family of Fern Ridge drove down from the farm on Sunday afternoon and visited at the home of his sister, Mrs. J. M. English.

J. A. Shultz, a well-to-do farmer of Scio, route 1, was here Saturday looking over and trying out the Crosley radio sets with the view of having one installed at his home in the near future.

Judge Downing Now Well—For the first time since his long illness, Judge W. H. Downing stepped into the county clerk's office yesterday to transact some business. He has now practically recovered his health.

Challenge Not Accepted—The Rotary club of Salem did not accept the challenge of the Salem Kiwanis to the attendance contest held at them recently, but instead appointed a committee to confer with the other service clubs of the city for a joint meeting. Charles Knowland, George Hug and Al Pierce were named on the committee.

Vets Have Fine Meet—The Veterans of Foreign Wars held their regular meeting at the Armory last night and put across the first step in their membership campaign. The local organization has been divided into two divisions with commanders for each one, for the purpose of stimulating interest in securing members. The entertainment was furnished by Misses Betty Siddall, Eugenia Savage and Irene Smith, in musical and reading numbers. Miss Siddall rendered a violin number of patriotic airs with Miss Savage as accompanist. Miss Smith presented two readings.

Paved Roads Wanted—Delegations from the various districts of Marion county are appearing before the county court in an effort to secure part of the new road work that is to be awarded this year. Delegations have appeared here from Aurora, Donald, and from the Pratum district. The new roads to be made this summer are under the mar-
