LATE BEET SUGAR INDUSTRY NEWS

The writer assumes, as he believes, that Salem is to be a beet sugar manufacturing center-

And it is certain that the more our people think about the industry and realize its many benefits, direct and indirect, the easier it will be to bring Salem to this sweet distinction-The following beet sugar industry news will be both interesting and useful in helping along the consummation: The Great Western Sugar company, headquarters in Denver, is to build a new factory in Sedgwick county, Colorado; to be ready for the 1926 crop.

The Utah-Idaho Sugar company is to build new factories at Chinook, Montana, and Raymond, Alberta; the latter to be a big one, with a pulp drying plant on the same 135 acre site. This is the company that is building at Bellingham, Wash., and that wants sample tracts of beets in the Salem district.

RUSSIA REAWAKENS TO RELIGION

Observers, of whom it must be said that their hopes and wishes are back of their opinions, regard with happiness the signs of the times in Russia where a sturdy popular reaction appears to be neutralizing if not nullifying the atheistic anticlericalism of the Bolsheviki.

Persons who have read history, heedfully and analytically, will not be surprised at the news conveyed in the assertions of the Most Reverend William Henry Francis, Metropolitan Archbishop of North America of the Western Orthodox Church, that a real religious revival is at full flood, that churches are crowded to the doors, and that devotional processions are to be encountered everywhere. Neither will the further intelligence that the so-called "Living Church," a device of the Soviet government, ministered by Communist pastors and supported by contributions of silly American sympathizers and by Bolshevist donations from confiscated properties, is having a desperate struggle to make any headway at all.

The Orthodox Church, under the Tsars was a political as well as a religious institution. The fact was an embarrassment, once the Russian imperial government ceased to be, but this fact must be understood by Americans who would scrutinize Russia's problem of today. So, when the communist revolution swept away the old state, its leaders very naturally decided that they must sweep away the old church

And it was to them more than an anti-religious sentiment, though there was quite enough of this in the minds and hearts of the destroyers at Moscow. It was a matter of practical necessity, if the revolution was to prevail, because it was only through its completeness that it seemed to them to stand a chance. Where the Bolsheviki blundered was in failing to distinguish between mere ecclesiastical fabric and the real warp and woof of religion. The Church they could crush, the moral force upon which all churches are builded was quite irresistible for such as they. The Reds drove out; the weaklings, the time serving prelates and priests, the men for whom religion was a living. They could not reduce the faith, the devotion, the patience and the vision of the real men of the Church.

It was not an accident that the woman came to draw water at that moment. God's plans "work together." (Rom. 8:28) They work for "good." A convinced believing woman carried the message, "good news", back to her village and the whole community turned to Jesus. The power of a testimony that is backed by a conviction and an experience is great. Jesus abode there two days and nights and the whole city was blessed because of one woman's witness. BALSAMEA for all bronchial affections. BALSAMEA is a pure vegetable preparation made from a newly discovered plant. Dr. Benj. P. Orabtree, Anderson, Mo., writes: "I use it exclusively for my practice and my family. It is quick, sure and safe in its action like nothing else."

Toward the end of the influenza epidemic a government physician noticed that a tribe of Indians in Nevada, by the use of oils from a native plant were immune from the ravages of Influenza. He used these oils among his white patients and then in a hospital overflowing with "death" cases, News of the results swept the world and for some time it was not possible to supply the demand.

BALSAMEA has now been standardized and gives uniformly miraculous results in four ways: 1. It soothes the inflamed membranos and relieves irritation. 2. It increases secretion of mucous and permits easy expectoration. 3. It stimulates porces of the skin in throwing off body poisons and 4. It strikes at the cause, thecking germ action immediately.

Brighten up with happiness, every little while, Other folks will smile at you, just to see you smile. Frowns are only smiles, you know, twisted out of place; You can put them right again, with your beaming face.

There are many heavy hearts, many lives are sad; Wishing you would come along, just to smile them glad. This will be a happy world, in the afterwhiles, When at every other one, everybody smiles.

Put some music in your voice, every time you speak; Set the elfin melodies, playing hide and seek. Love is like a lilting lark, when he spreads his wings; Down he purs his happiness, as he sings and sings,

Be gladsome as the lark, like the lark rejoice, And from dawn of day to dark, speak with cheery voice. As the meadow in the morn sparkles, dewy pearled; Let us all with sunny smile, happy up the world."
