Bits For Breakfast

They know beans—
Our Salem district growers—And they are getting back into stringless bean growing the coming season, on a good sized scale.
Hope there may be still more plants established for packing beans; making a specialty of high quality.
There should be no strings on the full development of the string bean industry of the Salem district. What is needed is specialty handling of the product; putting out quality goods and advertising them; especially salad beans for the best trade of the United States and the wide world.
In other words, we must prepare to spill the beans from the Salem district in all the countries bordering on the seven seas.
Let's grow from hills of beans to mountains of beans; beans that will tickle the palate of the epicures and stick to the ribs of plebs and proletariat and patrician alike.

Salem people are to see at the Oregon theater, beginning today, "Abraham Lincoln," one of the greatest screen pictures ever produced, and one that will make history—or rather help to make real history accurate. There was a small crowd of Salem people invited to the Oregon theater for a preview of this picture yesterday, and every single one who saw it was thrilled and filled with burning enthusiasm over the great production. The coming of the picture to Salem is an event. It has taken the big cities of the country by storm. This is the American picture, produced at enormous cost and with infinite gains, in the course of the making of which 114 settings were used.
It is far ahead of the Drinkwater (English) play. It is the real Lincoln, walking and talking and acting his great part in the greatest world drama ever enacted.

Songsters Delay Tour—
The spring tour of the University of Oregon glee clubs has been postponed until April 23, 24 and 25, according to word received from James W. Leake, manager.
Definite announcements will be made later.

Film Epic, "Abraham Lincoln," Viewed at Early Showing Wednesday Morning

Production Shows Vast Amount of Research Work and Receives Endorsement of Many Associations and Organizations in Salem

By AUDRED BUNCH
It doesn't much matter what one is looking for, chiefly, in the tremendous film epic, "Abraham Lincoln." Whatever it is, he will be sure to find it. And, moreover, it is bound to find something in him, too. And that is about the biggest response he is capable of giving. A large guest-audience present yesterday morning at the pre-viewing lived, some for the first time, and some for the second time, through one of the most dramatic visualizations of the nation's history.

If one has a tendency toward research work, he will find abounding satisfaction time and again. He will revel at the sight of the old shovel on which the future president did his "digging"; in the way the son of Thomas and Nancy Lincoln got his name; what Mary Todd confidentially surmised a whole half decade before her marriage, and who it was, anyway, that gave Lincoln this idea about growing a beard.
The love idyll between Abraham Lincoln and Anne Rutledge, the loveliest girl in all New Salem, is a drama apart.

He who sees Lincoln as standing for all that is typical and triumphant in human character will be glad for the gamut that honor and justice and mercy may run in the life of a school-boy without any school, a rail splitter, a grocery clerk, a post-master, a husband, a father,—a president of the United States. If this regard has been great before, it can only be more so after seeing the picture. It hasn't been in Lincoln's life alone that many have had to put on the cap and bells in order to divert themselves from a heart that is breaking. Perhaps that is one reason the drama is so moving.

He who sees not in the character of the man, but in the events that encompass him, a philosophy of history will be engrossed to the quick in what took place between the years of 1809, when on February 12, a perilous blizzard swirled about the cabin on Rock Spring farm where a mother, two days without food, lies with her newborn babe, and 1865 when the dramatic whole country is startled at the ghastly mingling of orchestra strains and pistol shot.

"Abraham Lincoln," a First National picture, and opening today at the Oregon theater to continue for three days, is heartily endorsed by practically every club in Salem. The Better Films committee of the American Association of University Women is receiving the splendid cooperation of Mr. Stille, the manager, in bringing an important group of pictures to Salem.

In speaking again of "Abraham Lincoln" it isn't the sort of film one wants to talk about volubly.
That is like clapping when the moment is too intense, too big.
Yet one wants to feel sure that all his friends are going to see it, not for any personal satisfaction that it is going to bring him, but because he would feel that something vital, something vast, had been left out of their lives if they missed it.

Not only representatives from various local clubs, but the residents of the Old People's home and the GAR comrades were in the audience for a successful previewing.

DEBATE TRIP IS AWAITING ACTION

Salem vs. Salem Cannot Be Held Unless $500 Is Secured By Local School

Unless business men contribute $500, the Salem, Ore., versus Salem, Mass., debate will be a matter of words instead of an actuality, according to the statement made yesterday by J. C. Nelson, principal of the Salem high school.

The matter of teams, question and other matters have been arranged, but the prohibitive question of expense has not been settled. At first the Salem Mass., school wanted to send three men on the team, but due to the request of the local organization the team was cut down to two men and the debate coach. The elimination of the third man has cut the expense down to a minimum, but even with that the difficulty is to be faced in securing the funds.

Practically all the money in the high school funds has been placed at work, and it is up to the school officials to get the money from some other source.

From all considerations the expense of the trip can be cut to about $1000, of which the eastern school will pay one half. This would leave the local high school to pay their share of the expense in addition to the entertainment of the visiting team.

"We would have to depend very largely upon the business men of the city," declared the principal yesterday, "and they are crowded to support a number of projects already."

It was pointed out that the big debate would detract from the state championship debates by eliminating some of the high class debaters of the Salem team. The state question would have to take a back seat. In order to meet the eastern team, the local team would have to put on the two strongest men to handle the question. As a result the work on the state question would be shortened. This is a problem facing the Salem team, but they think they can overcome it some way, although it will mean slighting the state question.

The two high schools decided upon the question of the federal child labor amendment, and will be stated so as not to apply to any particular state. Originally the easterners wanted to defend the stand taken by Massachusetts in rejecting the amendment. It was shown that the advantage of the western team could not be faced by the local team.

Students are working on the proposition of securing money for the trip, but from all indications the trip will fail. The original plan called for a return debate between the two schools in 1926, the contest being slated as a part of the 300th anniversary of the founding of Salem, Mass.

INVADING NAVY RUINED BY US UNDERSEA CRAFT

scout cruisers, bore down on the rear of the black battle line and the invaders were repulsed.
Throughout the night submarine periscopes popped up through the crest of moonlit waves and shafts of light upon destroyers and battleships indicated the submarines had taken the range, simulating firing of torpedoes. Destroyers darted back and forth, simulating the ramming, torpedoing, training rifles and setting depth charges in attack and defense. The new scout cruisers of the defending forces took part in the attack.

Divisions darted about in devious lines and all conditions of battle were present.

One hundred and nine United States navy fighting craft, darkened in battle array maneuvers, formed the mightiest demonstration of night naval warfare ever engaged in by American forces in the Pacific. Observers aboard each vessel surveyed its movements and staffs of the high commands were on the alert throughout the night to study the results of contact and engagement.

Messages, orders, reports of positions, poured through in code and the fortified cities, aggregating 25,000 men, were active with burning excitement. All navigational dangers of battle were present as dreadnaughts, cruisers, destroyers, submarines, mine sweepers and auxiliary craft worked in and out in perfect tactical positions at all speeds in the moonlit waters.

That many of these vessels were not actually rammed and sunk is a monumental demonstration of efficient seamanship.

At 5:25 o'clock this morning, Admiral Coontz dispatched the command ending the battle and terminating the problem after nine hours in which the fighters had been engaged.

When all nations are completely converted to the world court idea, there will be little need of it.

DOCTORS SAY: DON'T NEGLECT COUGH OR COLD

Physicians warn against neglecting coughs and colds and tell of the serious lung complications that may result. Leading physicians now prescribe BALSAMEA for all bronchial affections. BALSAMEA is a pure vegetable preparation made from a newly discovered plant. Dr. Emil F. Grabtree, Anderson, Mo., writes: "I use it exclusively for my practice and my family. It is quick, safe and safe in its action like nothing else." Toward the end of the influenza epidemic a government physician noticed that a tribe of Indians in Nevada, by the use of oils from a tree that were immune from the ravages of influenza. He used these oils among his white patients and in a few days' overlying with "death" cases. News of the results swept the world and for some time it was not possible to supply the demand.
BALSAMEA has now been standardized and gives uniformly intravenous results in two ways: 1. It soothes the inflamed membranes and relieves irritation. 2.
It increases secretion of mucous and permits easy expectoration. 3. It stimulates pores of the skin in throwing off body poisons and 4. It strikes at the cause, checking germ action immediately.

Do not confuse it with ordinary balsam cough syrups that are only soothing syrups and do not go to the base of the trouble. Unlike other cough remedies BALSAMEA is free from coal tar and other harmful narcotics. Pleasant to take and absolutely safe to give to children.
Be sure you get BALSAMEA with the picture of the Indian in the package.
Guaranteed to relieve any cough, no matter how long it lasts, or your money back.
