COW AND $10 ARE BASIS FOR ACTION

Strawberry Diet Also Interests Into Suit Featuring Silver-ton Men

SILVERTON, Ore., March 12.—(Special to The Statesman)—George Schweigert brought suit against J. H. Engeman at Silver-ton Tuesday, for a cow and $10. Mr. Schweigert alleged that Mr. Engeman held a cow belonging to him. Mr. Engeman brought a counter claim against Mr. Schweigert. It was alleged that the cow, which belonged to Mr. Schweigert had broken through the fence into Mr. Engeman's strawberry patch.

Mr. Engeman claimed that he locked up the cow and held her for damages. Mr. Schweigert, it was claimed, came for the cow but didn't tender payment for damages. Mr. Engeman refused to give up the cow and Mr. Schweigert brought suit against Mr. Engeman. It developed in the case that the cow had been running at large prior to the time when Mr. Engeman locked her up. The defendant, Mr. Engeman, won the case.

M. Van Valkenberg was attorney for Mr. Schweigert and J. E. Hosmer for Mr. Engeman.

One of the features of the court of honor will be the presence of six Eagle Scouts, the highest rank of Scoutdom. These boys are to be in the city at that time while en route to a California conference. They will be in charge of S. P. Walsh of Seattle.

 defendant in the case and that they could not be classified as direct evidence. His second objection was that Conway was testifying to records made by other persons than himself and that he, therefore, had no personal knowledge as to their actual connection with Fall of any other person involved in the case.
 Mr. Roberts had told the court earlier in the day that he was questioning Conway and employees of other banks where Fall's transactions were recorded, that he was attempting merely to identify the process of routine through which liberty bonds and coupons passed, and that he would later cite his authority for such. It was then that Judge Kennedy reserved decision on the question of admitting bank records of Fall in the case, upon which the government hinges its attempt to prove that bonds from Sinclair eventually found their way to the credit of Fall.

L. C. Dunbar, cashier, and J. E. Gonzales, an employee of the First National bank of El Paso, Texas, and Harlan J. Smith, cashier of the First National bank of Pueblo, Colo., identified accounts of Fall and the Tres Litos Land & Cattle company in which Fall is interested and Liberty bond coupons alleged to have been cashed by Fall.

It was his investigation of reports to him that his wife formerly was known in the long-suppressed club which led to the indictment of Stokes and Lee.

Former Champs Smothered

In the second game Medford, winners of last year's tourney, went down in defeat before the Franklin high team from Portland by the score of 32-16.

The first period was fast and close, the score standing 4-4 at the end of the period. Scallon, Franklin forward, scoring two field goals and Medford converting two free throws and scoring one field goal.

In the second period the play began to run in favor of the Portland team with Scallon doing most of the scoring. Medford seemed unable to work the ball into scoring distance with any degree of consistency. The half ended 16-8 in favor of Franklin.

Franklin Easy Winner
 The third quarter was a walk-away for Franklin. Medford was able to get but one point while Franklin ran up a total of 14. In the final period Medford out-pointed the Portland men by scoring 3 points to their 2. Franklin was making no great effort to score but were saving their strength for the following games.

The Willamette University band played a number of selections during intermissions and relieved the monotony of these periods to a great extent.

LOS ANGELES
WESTERN OILS' BASE EXPLAINED
 Chemist Straightens Out Misconception

The marketing public of the Pacific coast region has a misconceived notion of the quality of western lubricating oils in the opinion of Thomas F. Oil, prominent chemist and lubrication expert.

However, this erroneous impression is being dispelled with the increasing use of western oils in some of the most important and exacting operations of modern industry.

These oils are known as being superior to any other because they have an asphaltic deposit in their lubricants.

Asphalt base crudes really do have their own merits. The residue which remains in the still as a result from the distilling process and which is a quantity the result of "concreting," said Mr. Oil.

Certainly, lubricating oils, eastern or western, cannot be classified as being of equal quality, but when we consider these two points, the difference between western oils can not be viewed in any light except that of likely superior products. Since the greater of distinction are the oils, it is difficult to compare them.

As a matter of fact, the oils of the Pacific coast are the most reliable oils obtained by the process of distillation from the residue of the asphaltic deposit.

Distillation is fine. The points of distinction between good lubricating oils are not so much in the residue of the asphaltic deposit as in the quality of the oil itself. The residue of the asphaltic deposit is not so much a matter of quality as it is a matter of quantity. The residue of the asphaltic deposit is not so much a matter of quality as it is a matter of quantity.

Whether eastern or western, authorities will tell you that all motor oils deposit carbon.

But there are two kinds of carbon. One is hard and gritty, an abrasive which scores and scratches metals. You must remove it every few thousand miles at considerable cost.

Not so with Aristo Motor Oil—a product from the finest western crude.

The residue from Aristo is soft and fluffy. Most of it blows out with the exhaust. It cannot scratch or score.

Motors run 10,000—20,000

—50,000 miles without the need of cleaning—so scores of Aristo users testify. Thus to avoid hard, gritty carbon forever, simply use Aristo motor oil.

Aristo—a perfect lubricant—is the product of one of the largest and best equipped refineries in the world. That is quality insurance.

Use Aristo regularly if you want protection and less carbon trouble at a minimum of cost. You can pay twice as much for "Eastern," and not get as good an oil.
