CIRCUS DAY HERE; SAWDUST ON RINGS

WOW Engagement Brings Season's First Circus to Salem for 3 Days

This is circus day in Salem. The big WOW circus opens tonight at the armory for a three day engagement. Amid the blare of bands, the husky cries of the ballyhoos men, the tantalizing odor of the sawdust rings and the glare and glamour of the circus performance itself, Salem's amusement loving public will enjoy the thrills of the season's first circus. Preceding this evening's performance the big street parade will form at Marion Square at seven thirty and headed by Mayor Geley will cover the principal downtown streets, ending at the armory.

Friday night the big style show will be staged. The very latest creations which Fashion has decreed will be displayed on a group of professional models. The stores which are participating in the style show are the French Shop, Shipley and John J. Rottle.

The local WOW committee of which F. P. Smith is chairman, have provided a number of extra features to please and entertain the public. After each evening's performance there will be free dancing for everybody.

RADICALS CAUSE UNION TROUBLE

Action of Seattle Labor Council in Ousting Communists Is Deferred

SEATTLE, March 18.—After three of six alleged communists, delegates to the Seattle central labor council, tried on charges of radicalism, were found guilty by a strikes and grievance committee in a report read in the council here tonight, a defendant read a statement signed by the six members declaring they were communists. A debate ensued and the council postponed final action until Wednesday.

The committee found that H. G. Price, Joe Havel and W. H. Johnson were members of the workers' party and recommended their expulsion from the labor council. M. Hanson, J. C. Carlson and Paul K. Mohr were exonerated.

Havel read the statement that precipitated a three-hour debate.

FOREIGN DIPLOMATS RECEIVE POSITIONS

For First Time in Years, All Berths Are Now Filled By Ambassadors

WASHINGTON, March 18.—For the first time in years that portion of the American diplomatic corps on which are written the names of the ambassadors to South and Central American republics is one hundred per cent complete, while the list of those who represent the United States in other parts of the world is nearer completion than it has been for a long while.

The appointment and confirmation today of Peter Augustus Jay of Rhode Island as ambassador to Argentina, of Ulysses Grant Smith of Pennsylvania as minister to Uruguay, and George L. Kreech of Kansas as minister to Paraguay filled the last vacant Pan-American diplomatic posts; of the three selections, those of Mr. Jay and Mr. Grant were made from the present foreign service personnel. They were ordered transferred to their new posts respectively.

Mr. Kreech is a banker. Secretary Kellogg is expected to make recommendations to fill the remaining vacant places without delay and, in the interim of senate adjournment, will ask for recess appointments. Only selection of a minister to China to succeed Dr. Jacob Gould Schurman, transferred as ambassador to Berlin; a minister to Rumania to succeed Mr. Jay; a minister to Albania to succeed Mr. Grant Smith, and an agent to Tangier now will be necessary to complete reorganization of the foreign service in a way that will give the Washington government full contact with all foreign capitals with which it has diplomatic relations.

Scarf Raffle Postponed By Silverton Auxiliary

SILVERTON, Ore., March 18.—(Special.)—Very little business came up at the regular auxiliary meeting held Monday night. As not enough chances had been sold on the scarf which was to have been raffled off, this was postponed until a later date. The scarf is on display at the Ames Hardware company store. It was made by an ex-service man who lost his arm and the use of his legs during the World war. The proceeds of the sale of the scarf will all be returned to the maker.

BOY KILLS BROTHER IN PLAY WITH GUN

Portland Lad Fires Fatal Shot From Supposedly Unloaded Revolver

PORTLAND, Ore., March 18.—A shot from a revolver aimed in play by Arthur Willis, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Willis, at his chum, Francis Laing, 10, here tonight, caused the Laing boy's death. The Willis' boy said that he thought the revolver was not loaded.

The boys were playing in a bedroom of the Willis' home when young Willis found a 44 caliber revolver belonging to his father, and aiming it at his playmate pulled the trigger. Young Laing ran downstairs and expired on the floor before help could arrive. He had been shot through the breast.

NEW DISASTER SWEEPS TOKIO

the Tokio terminus of the Northern railway, a section which was partially destroyed after the earthquake of September, 1923.

The gravest aspect is the addition of thousands of homeless to the already congested refugee areas induced by the big earthquake. Steps are being taken for the relief and housing of the affected.

The loss by the fire is roughly placed at $2,800,000.

The district was largely one of small dwellings and power factories class. Several small factories, schools and temples were burned.

One of the debutantes tells us she either has to go without any clothes or go without men.

May 9, 1905—Thirty killed at Marquette, Kansas.

May 11, 1905—One hundred and thirty killed at Snyder, Okla.

March 21, 1906—Twenty-five killed at Meridian, Miss.

April 24, 1908—Five hundred killed in Mississippi, Louisiana and Alabama storms.

June 5, 1908—Twenty-seven killed in southern Nebraska and northern Kansas.

March 13, 1913—Heavy damage and loss of life in Illinois, Indiana, Tennessee, Louisiana and Texas.

April 25, 1923—Nearly 100 killed in Oklahoma.

July, 1913—Sixty-three killed at Pomeroy, Iowa.

The most recent storm disaster was at Lorain, Ohio, on June 28, 1924, when 67 persons were killed and scores injured during a heavy wind which swept the southern shore of Lake Erie. The property loss was placed at $25,000,000.

On March 23, 1913, Omaha was visited by a storm which took a toll of 102 lives and caused property damage of $5,000,000.

STUDENT-FACULTY DEADLOCK BREAKS

SEATTLE, March 18.—A month's deadlock between students and faculty of the University of Washington over a problem of student honor was broken here today when a joint committee reached an agreement on a plan of student government.

The student honor system is to be retained, according to the plan, with the students' senior council having jurisdiction in all cases where cheating in examinations is reported, but faculty members are to have the right of appeal from the student council to the faculty discipline committee. The plan was recommended to the faculty by the faculty members of the joint committee.

Truss Experts Coming

We wish to announce the visit of the Collins Truss Expert at the Marion Hotel, Salem, Ore., Friday and Saturday, March 20 and 21, Hours 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m., and 7 to 9 evenings.

New Broad Back Truss
We want to demonstrate to you absolutely without a penny in advance our new invention for holding difficult or aggravated cases of rupture whether of inguinal or Umbilical character. If you are ruptured you should be interested in our ability to fit you with a truss that will do its work properly and give you the greatest ease and comfort possible.

Scientific and Practical
This new Collins Truss is based on the most scientific principles for holding a rupture. It is not only representative of mechanical perfection but contains that super-power for holding a rupture without discomfort and that makes for a complete recovery where this result is possible.

Contains No Springs
There are no springs or metal parts used in this new truss other than the small necessary buckles; instead it is made of high grade elastic web with soft, pliable cloth back made wider so as to distribute the pressure over a broader surface. Prevents all cutting and chafing, and gives the necessary uplift to the pads.

It Holds the Rupture
It is easily, quickly and permanently adjusted so an even and uniform pressure can be constantly maintained at any desired tension. The patented sectional pads are adaptable and will fit any kind of rupture. As the cure progresses the pressure can be lessened without a change of pads.

It Stays Put
When placed in position, the Truss stays put and does not skid or slide. Regardless of the position of the wearer's body: stooping, jumping or standing erect, the Truss remains firm and set, and adjusts itself as the occasion demands.

Comfortable Day or Night
To do its maximum amount of good, a truss should be worn continuously day and night. Upon retiring many people remove their truss, with the result that the weakened muscular tissues relax and oftentimes allow the rupture to assume the form of the original protrusion. This new Truss can be worn at all times.

THE COLLINGS TRUSS EXPERT
Gives FREE DEMONSTRATIONS Friday and Saturday, March 20, 21 Every ruptured person should visit our Truss Expert and learn what genuine truss-comfort means. No charge for demonstration or information.

Art Exhibit at Englewood School Offers Unusual Quality in Work

Elson Display Viewed by Students and Parents Who Are Spell-Bound; Exhibit Will Remain Today and Friday

By AUDRED BUNCH
Much interest attended the opening yesterday afternoon of the Elson art exhibit at the Englewood school. Children and grown people alike were straightway spell-bound with the quality of the work, making the art of the ages available for such a nominal fee, and with that fee to go for no other purpose than to make an interesting number of the pictures the permanent property of the school!

Two hundred pictures will continue on display both today and tomorrow over the walls of two of the classrooms arranged for that purpose. Carbon photographs, photogravures, engravings, copper-plate color paintings, and carbon color work all combine to present the art of America and abroad in its most attractive form.

The exhibit is the most comprehensive of its kind that has ever come to Salem. The pictures shown range all the way from the sphinx and pyramids of Egyptian art to modern decorative work of Whistler. It isn't pictures as pictures that one sees—it is architecture, it is events, it is the world's great men—it is history.

William Tell comes to life, as the eager spectators move in interested throngs about the rooms—and Washington, Lincoln, and Shakespeare. The glories of old world architecture are apparent in a few inches of artful canvas. Pages of mythology are again related, and the very incidents of everyday life ennobled and given grandeur. One doesn't think how little a "Song of the Lark" is—so great a thing has the picture made it.

The great educational factor that art is acknowledged in the most splendid way possible when such an exhibit is put on as Salem is having the opportunity of seeing, last week at Highland, this week at Englewood, and next week at Lincoln.

Tonight the different grades at Englewood will put on a program beginning at 7:30 o'clock in conjunction with the exhibit.

"The Indian and the Water Lily," by George De Forest Brush, has been chosen as the fitting award for the room, selling the most tickets. It is one of the most beautiful of the pictorial canvases in the old exhibit—combining the exquisite glow of a star-myth with the stern grace of the Indian figure bending above it.

RITOLA DEFEATS PHANTOM NURMI

Finland Wonder Loses in Dazzling Race; Is Unable to Reach End Tape

NEW YORK, March 18.—(By The Associated Press.)—Wille Ritola, Paavo Nurmi's most consistent challenger for distance records, defeated his ancient rival tonight in a 5000 meter match race, the feature event of the Knights of Columbus meet in Madison Square Garden.

Nurmi quit three laps from the tape, after setting a dazzling pace leaving Ritola an undisputed victor in one of the greatest races ever run in the famous garden.

Four laps from the finish Nurmi suddenly slackened his pace, placed his hand to his side and came to a walk. He tried to resume the race but after completing half a lap quit the competition and left the track.

Officials of the meet announced that Nurmi had shattered two world records before his withdrawal from the race.

At the time of his silent Nurmi was leading Ritola by almost half a lap and from all prospects would have chopped several seconds off the world's record.

Nurmi suffered an acute distension of the stomach from eating meat a few hours before he took part in the race. It was announced he was unable to meet Joie Ray and Lloyd Hahn at a mile later in the evening.

Campaign Against Tobacco Began Three Centuries Ago

LONDON, March 18.—Some of the first books ever published on tobacco, for and against its use, are to be sold in March when the Britwell Court library will be offered to the highest bidder.

The defense of tobacco is represented by a copy of a book which came to light in 1602, entitled "Dr. Bellamy's New and Short Defense of Tobacco." Attacks on the use of the newly discovered weed for smoking purposes were frequent in those days and simultaneously with Dr. Bellamy's defense, there appeared another book, "Work for Chimney Sweepers," designed as a warning to tobacco users. In this work consumers were informed that it was "better to be choked with English hemp than poisoned with Indian tobacco."

That Silverton men are not "lounge lizards," or "tea hounds" was conclusively proven Tuesday afternoon when the Legion Auxiliary gave a St. Patrick's tea at the home of Mrs. LeRoy Lemmon at 212 North High street. Among the ninety people who called during the afternoon was not one man. In spite of the absence of the men, the tea was a brilliant success and the largest social event of the season at Silverton. In accordance with the day, "the wearin' of the green" was carried out by means of green carnations and green candles. The three maids who assisted about the rooms wore green caps and green doilies in the shape of shamrocks ornamented the plates. Acting as hostesses were Mrs. Russell Scott, Mrs. E. E. Kleinsorge and Mrs. George Steelhammer. Mr. LeRoy Lemmon and Mrs. C. M. Wray presided at the tea table, and assisting with the serving were Mrs. John Elder, Mrs. Claire Jarvis and Mrs. Paul Wray.
