In the guests group were: Mrs. Asahel Bush, Jr., Mrs. William Boot, Mrs. John J. Roberts, and Miss Margaret Rodgers. Turkeys in pastel shades were attractive about the rooms.

Mrs. S. W. Thompson and Miss Louise Thompson had the pleasure, the first of the week, of entertaining Miss Florence Hein, private secretary to Pola Negri. Miss Hein makes her home in Seattle. She left Wednesday morning for California where she will await Miss Negri's return from Europe.

The Four M club was delightfully entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John U. Plank, 3043 Norway street, at an all-day meeting on Wednesday, April 1. A bounteous dinner was served at noon to 20 guests. The table was picturesquely decorated in harmony with the approaching Easter season.

Miss Lyle Murray, principal of the Englewood school, in encouraging the 10:30 o'clock lunch, is carrying out a project in the first grade that is its own hearty recommendation. Since the children have been having sandwiches or apples at the recess hour a distinct gain has been had toward normal weight throughout the class. Two-thirds of the entire 50 individuals enrolled in the first grade are now normal in weight, a percentage practically twice that sent out last year. It is generally understood that a child's weight is as good an index to general health as any other one factor. The parents have cooperated in a gratifying manner toward this simple manner of breaking a long stretch between a light, or hasty breakfast and the noontime meal.

The Missionary society of the First Congregational church will meet at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the home of Mrs. William McGilchrist, Sr., South Commercial and McGilchrist streets.

Later in the afternoon both groups joined their number and tea was served in the "Wigwam" to the entire 60. LENTEN TALKS THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO ST JOHN by
Rev. ERNEST H. SHANKS, Pastor of the First Baptist Church

APRIL 3, 1925
John 16:1-24. "Good Cheer."
Jesus Tells Them He Is Going Away. 1-6.
The Holy Spirit Will Come to Stay. 7-16.
Instruction and Assurance. 17-24.
Key: "Advent."
Memory verses: 7, 8, 9, 10, 24.

THIS is the chapter of "good cheer." This may seem a bit strange at first. But when the whole chapter is understood, the closing words will be found to be well conceived. Jesus is going away, and persecutions will come. Not a very cheerful prospect. But in His place the Spirit will make His advent and abide with the saints of God. His work of reproving the world of sin, righteousness and judgment will be with all truth, accompanied by the glorification of Jesus. Jesus tries to make the disciples understand that He is going away, and that that is best for them. Until He goes away the Spirit will not come. It is perfectly natural that they should cling to Jesus. As yet they did not know the Holy Spirit, the Comforter. There is really no excuse for a long face. The religion of Jesus is a joyous one. In the midst of tears and trials there is the deep satisfaction that God lives, and loves, and understands, and blesses His own. "All things work together for good to them that love God." (Rom. 8:28). Some one has said: "Accidents do not happen to the children of God." Can that possibly be true? Think it over.

It is expedient for you that I go away: for if I go not away, the Comforter will not come unto you; but if I depart, I will send Him unto you.

And when He is come He will reprove the world of sin, and of righteousness, and of judgment:

Of sin, because they believe not on Me;

Of righteousness, because I go to My Father;

Of judgment, because the prince of this world is judged.

Hitherto ye have asked nothing in My name: ask, and ye shall receive, that your joy may be full.

ion of Mrs. Virginia Bronson of Salem, N. J., who, after visiting at Chemawa is a house guest now in McMinnville. Assembling with the honor guests of the afternoon at the Hall home were Mrs. Seymour Jones, state regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution; Mrs. B. J. Miles, Mrs. W. M. Hughes, Mrs. E. E. Fisher, Miss Flora Hill, Miss Gertrude Eakin, and Mrs. Virginia Bronson, all of whom assisted with the success of the afternoon. The rooms were lovely with jonquils, ferns and potted plants. During the afternoon punch was served. The official guides of the afternoon were the Boy Scouts of the school, who escorted the groups from building to building.

At the luncheon hour the guests of Miss Skipton included the officers of Chadwick chapter of the Eastern Star, with places at the beautifully appointed springtime table placed for Mrs. Rose Babcock, Mrs. Lella Johnson, Mrs. Ida Babcock, Mrs. Katherine Bernardi, Mrs. Mabel Mintz, Miss Gussie Niles, Mrs. W. C. Kapner, Mrs. Pearl Pratt, Mrs. Crawford, Mrs. Betty Smith, Margaret Montgomery, Stella Henry, Zella Newmyer, Bernice Blodgett, Mrs. Green, Oja Miller, and the hostess, Miss Olive Skipton.

When Mrs. Hall's guests and Miss Skipton's guests assembled at the "Wigwam" the senior do-
