STILL MORE TWINS FOUND IN COUNTY

Cub Reporter Suggests a Different Way to Take Census Next Time

If a personal opinion is not out of place, when it comes from a cub reporter, it might be well to suggest that the next time anyone wants to find out how many twins there are in Marion county, he had better first find out how many people there are in the county that are not twins, and then subtract that number from the county's population. It would be an easier task, and might not involve such large numbers as the plan being followed by this twin census taker. The latest additions to the list include the following: Esther and Olive Steward, age 13, Stayton; Harold and Mary Alice Bates, age 7, Rt. 4, Salem; Jene and Inez Leighton, age 9, Newberg; Anna and Clem Butsch, 19, Mt. Angel; Sylvester and Marie Schmitt, age 13, Mt. Angel and Barbara and Ullilia Schneider, Mt. Angel. A letter from a friend of The Statesman at Brooks reports the following: "There are Japanese twin boys, Tom and Kay, 6 years old, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Mio, living on Labish Meadows farm." The Statesman will be pleased to receive reports of twins in Marion county whose names have not yet been published in the twin census.
