THE ANGEL OF SPRING

There's a glory of pink in the plum trees,
There's a twitter of song in the air,
There's a fragrance of health on the cool breeze,
There's a stir of new life everywhere.

There's a love in each heart left unspoken,
There's a feeling that wings brush a-near,
There's a joy in the heart, that's a token,
That the Angel of Springtime is here.

Turner, Oregon.

A VERY FULL business meeting, replete with interesting discussion, was held yesterday afternoon by the Salem Woman's club at the club house following a board meeting at 2 o'clock.

Four new members were taken in and delegates named for the county convention which will be held this year in Aurora.

Chapter AB of the PEO sisterhood will meet at 7:45 o'clock Monday evening at the home of Mrs. W. E. Kirk, 1450 State street. Miss Grace Osborne will have charge of the program for the evening.

A business meeting of members of the Salem Arts league has been called for 7:30 o'clock Tuesday evening at the Woman's club house, preceding the program. It is important that as many members as possible be on hand in order to give the final vote on the constitution.

The Salem War Mothers will hold a cooked food sale on Wednesday, beginning at 10:30 o'clock at Neimeyer's drug store, 175 North Commercial street. All War Mothers are asked to contribute.

Salem friends of Mrs. W. H. Burghardt have been anticipating with interest the first letters to come through since her arrival in Paris. Mrs. Burghardt was on the Atlantic for ten days, the trip from New York to Cherbourg on the Andania, a steamer of the English line, taking a somewhat longer time than is usual. For one unused to the ways and language of a foreign people it was a pleasure to find at Cherbourg to meet her. Mrs. Burghardt writes, Mr. and Mrs. Dent Mowry of Portland. Following a night at a seaport hotel, Mrs. Burghardt made the trip to Paris the following day. Her letter glints with the pleasure she found in the charm and quaintness of the French villages. Her early impressions of Paris were up to every expectation, she writes, and nothing could have been more enchanting than the first glimpses of Parisian streets and their beautifully kept flowers and trees in the first days of spring. Mrs. Burghardt had the opportunity of meeting Mrs. Mabel Holmes Parsons in Paris soon after her arrival.

With the coming of the warmer days Mrs. Burghardt plans to leave with a party for southern France, and to Italy. After some time along the Mediterranean the group will return to Paris. In the autumn Mrs. Burghardt plans to cross the channel to England.

The Etokta club will meet on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. E. Fisher, 515 Market street. The chapter on "Home and Living Costs" from "Know Your Town," will be studied during the afternoon.

A surprise party was given Saturday afternoon in honor of the birthday of Jane Sanders at the home of her sister, Mrs. Henry Nusbaum. The rooms were prettily decorated with apple blossoms. Late in the afternoon dainty refreshments were served by the hostess to the following guests: Mrs. Harris, Misses Elsie and Bessie Tucker, Letta and Lottie Pe-

One of the most interesting meetings of the interior decoration section of the entire section was that held Friday evening at the E. Y. Lansing home on Fairmount Hill when the group met as guests of Miss Sarah Lansing for a study of pieces of furniture in her home of unusual value and beauty. Priceless among these is a Duncan Phyfe table in the dining room in beautiful marked mahogany; a set of early American chairs with carved back rails; two Chippendale chairs; a Chinese carved teakwood table; a cabinet in mahogany, and a grandfather father built by Joseph Dean.

The meeting was devoted to a discussion of the furniture of Georgian and Colonial period. An article on the new wing which has been added to the Metropolitan Art Museum in New York was read. In this wing, it was noted, will be housed furniture objects, and entire interiors taken from early American homes.

The guests were particularly impressed with four magnificent shawls from India, a silver desk set, and the Lowestoft china. A beautiful scarf from India is in a brilliant scarlet with a woven design across the ends. In two of the shawls the name of the artist is embroidered across the corner of the center. In Mr. Lansing's possession is an old letter, written in 1797, which requests a friend going to India to bring back a set of china with a certain monogram in gold, and also "satin" for waistcoat and breeches. Miss Lansing has in her possession pieces from the set of china which came in answer.

At the next meeting of the section, on April 24, the group will meet at the city library. Pictures, mantels and accessories will be the subject.

Many Salem friends of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Piper of Portland, where Mr. Piper is editor of the Oregonian, will be interested in the extensive trip which they are taking in the east. Mr. and Mrs. Piper, who have spent much of their lives against a Salem environment, left during the week.

Guests of Miss Edith Hazard and of E. W. Hazard during the past month have been Mrs. F. H. Hazard and daughter, Katherine, of Seattle, who left Wednesday for their home.

Thirty-five women of the First Presbyterian Missionary society met on Friday afternoon in the church parlors for an interesting study of the Negro work both in this country and among the natives. Myrtle Wainsley gave the part of the lesson devoted to work among the Africans, while "Lights and Shadows" was given by Mrs. Carrie Chase. Mrs. Henry Gilbert dealt with the industrial phase, while Mrs. R. M. T. Hester told of the life of John Carver. Mrs. R. A. Annin led the devotional.

The rooms were delightfully decorated with sprays of cherry blossoms, with Mrs. H. C. Wyatt, chairman of the social committee, assisted by Mrs. A. H. Wyatt, Mrs. Lasky and Mrs. Siegmund.

Mrs. G. L. Rathbun, accompanied by Miss Lucille Emmons, sang twice, so appreciated was her number.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan J. Fry have as their Easter guests Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Walsh, and Miss Priscilla Walsh and Raymond, Jr., of Eugene.

Two new members, Mrs. Henry J. Bean and Mrs. Horace Williston, were added to the roll of the Town and Gown club which met Thursday at Lausanne hall. Prof. James T. Matthews spoke to the guests during the afternoon in his inimitable manner. Instrumental and vocal numbers gave an attractive musical hour; Miss Gladys McIntyre singing, Miss Katherine Kirk playing the violin, and Miss Anna Howell giving piano selections.

Mrs. J. H. Lauterman, Mrs. William Brown, Mrs. A. N. Moores, Mrs. John H. Albert and Miss Nina McNary compose the membership committee of the club which includes in its membership a group of 40 prominent Salem women.

Mrs. B. O. Schucking, hostess of luncheon on Wednesday, entertained at one of the delightful affairs of the week.

Members of the Cosmo-politan club of Willamette university were entertained Friday evening at an enjoyably planned 6 o'clock dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Lisle, 1015 South Thirteenth street with Cedric Y. Chang as one of the hosts of the occasion. Baskets of Easter eggs and Easter novelties were used on the small tables where the dinner was served. The after-dinner hours were spent in inspecting articles of museum interest—curios especially from the Orient.

Members of the club present were Stanley Emmel, Te Chun Ma, To Fu Mang, John Tsai, Gilbert Wrenn, Dwight Findley, Ross Anderson, Shingo Marumoto, Lloyd Wheelerlight, Benito Mayo, Mr. Flores, Antonio Rowan, Charles Swan, H. Sashida and Cedric Y. Chang.

There will be a unique program and social at the First Baptist church on Tuesday evening at 7:30 under the auspices of the Woman's society, with the general congregation invited. In addition to other numbers, a drama, "Garments of Glory," will be presented.
