

SENATORS OPEN BASEBALL SEASON AGAINST CAMAS TODAY

ONLY RAIN TO PREVENT GAME

Team in Fine Condition for Visitors; Many Prizes are Offered Players

Unless weather conditions prevent, the Salem Senators will open the 1921 baseball season against the Camas, Wash., nine at Oxford park at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Camas, according to word received Saturday, is bringing down a large rooting delegation. Camas comes with a good reputation and a strong aggregation of semi-pro players.

Kruss, otherwise known as "Big Bill," will hurl for the visitors, while Barham will do the offering for the Senators.

"Frisco" Edwards, manager of the Senators, will probably start the best lineup the Senators have had for years. It is not known definitely what players will participate, although it is a fact Barham will twirl. The tentative lineup for the game will be: Blanchard, 1b; Proctor, 2b; Miller or Bouton, ss; Maples or Coleman, 3b; Edwards, c; Geene, Steers, Harb and Coleman, outfielders. It may be necessary to shift Keene to the first sack. The tentative lineup for the visitors: Kuss, p; Dillon, c; Tidland, 1b; Rogoway, 2b; Boesch, 3b; Gaberino or Zimmerman, ss; Jacobberger, Goldman, Goodwin and Blair, outfielders.

Several prizes are offered for the first home run, first two-bag hit, and other events of the diamond. Interest is high and the local players are putting in some good licks for the coming season. To the man getting the first assist a new necktie will be given.

Other prizes arranged are: First putout, one pound of chewing tobacco; first walk, necktie; first steal, cigarettes; first single, 10 shins; first two-bagger, $3 in merchandise; first three-bagger, $5; first home run, $5 hat; first run scored, an inner tube 30x3 1/2; most hits in game, $5 shirt; most runs in game, box of 25 cigars; and to the first man making an error will be given a big surprise. COPPER BEEFS ABOUT STEAKS SOLD FIGHTER

"Gol dang Harry Levy and his ding-basted steaks," now sayeth Patrolman Walter Thompson since viewing the devastating affliction of one Mr. Frankie Lewis, fistic combatant extraordinary, who carved out a slice of questionable renown last Friday evening by getting a very little bit of a Mr. Dawson, citizen of Eugene, Or.

The whole story of Patrolman Thompson's grievance in connection with Mr. Levy and his said steaks seems to be very much to the point insofar as beef and boxers are concerned. It would appear, according to Officer Thompson, that before getting down to facts with Mr. Dawson, the brisk young Mr. Lewis first surrounded himself with a large and juicy steak, the said steak being purchased with much personal care and selection by the boxer himself. With this hunk of meat under his belt, so says Thompson, Mr. Lewis laid in wait for the patrolman's favorite boy and subsequently just naturally lambasted the far out of the Eugene chap in spite of all a friendly referee could do, with the result Officer Thompson parted with $1.75, together with much self-esteem as a judge of what constitutes a man of parts in the squared circle.

"Yep, I'm in favor of closing up Levy's shop 24 hours prior to all future bouts in this town," orates Thompson, "and if I had my way about it I would make it a crime for any boxer to enter this fellow's shop unless he first tipped us heavy betting tellers off."

STANFORD DEFEATS OREGON AT MATCH

Field Meet Honors Captured by Southern University; 92 to 38

STANFORD STADIUM, April 11.—Stanford university's track and field team, with nine firsts and a tie for another, won 92 1/2 to 38 1/2 from the University of Oregon athletes here today.

The outstanding time of the meet was Al Smith's record of four minutes and 25 seconds in the mile on a track that slowed up all the other race events.

Stanford's array of nine second places and a tie for a tenth helped to pile up the one-sided score. Hartrant's throw of 155 feet in the discus was said to have been the best throw made this year in collegiate meets and within one foot 8 inches of the world's record.

Hartrant was high point man of the meet with 11, with firsts in discus and shot and third in the 100 yard dash.

Fishing Tackle is Moving According to Local Dealer

"Fishing tackle is on the move at the present time and the indications are that the season will open with a bang. Spinners are being sold for trout fishing, as well as numerous flies," according to George E. Cadwell, sporting goods salesman at Anderson's store.

Many sportsmen plan to visit the coast streams which are easily accessible from the good roads. Several of the sportsmen also plan to take a fling at the streams nearer home, and it is believed their success will be as marked as the brethren that take the long trip to the coast.

HIGHEST COURT WILL HEAR SENATE CASE

during that period notify the senate of his removal.

Myers contested the action as illegal and when the four years ended, sued the government in court of claims for back salary. That court found he had been guilty of laches in not prosecuting his claim with sufficient promptness, and dismissed it. From that decision he appealed to the supreme court. To enable the senate to be represented by counsel the court ordered the case argued and designated Senator Pepper of Pennsylvania to appear for the senate in the capacity of a friend of the court. The president will be represented by Solicitor General Beck. In his brief filed with the court today, Senator Pepper pointed out that congress in providing for postmasters of the first, second and third class had authorized the president to appoint and remove them "by and with the advice and consent of the senate."

"While at that time well-deserved public confidence in the president is equalled by the unpopularity of congress," the brief asserted, "it must never be forgotten that English speaking peoples have found it wise to place their trust in the legislature, subject only to constitutional restraints. The constitutional "no man's land" between "the lines of well established legislative power and of entrenched executive prerogative" should be removed, it added, by a decision which dispel existing uncertainty.

PORTUGUESE ARMY SAID TO BE IN MISERABLE CONDITION

LISBON, April 11.—A frank letter from a Portuguese army officer, written in reply to a general query as to what the army would do in case of a popular uprising, has focused attention on a very serious situation. The writer, Captain Jose de Barros Norfolk, says the army, dying of hunger, would remain inactive except in the face of national danger. His letter in part follows:

"The soldiers are half starved and the officers are poverty stricken under their gilt braids. The recompense to the army for putting down strikes and rising and reducing the turbulent classes to order, is the misery in which officers and their families live, and hunger among men. The indifference of the politicians will be rewarded by our folding our arms in our barracks and letting people outside kill each other. We are tired of so much talk, so much moral misery, so much robbery and exploitation. The army has three paths before it, and will shortly have to choose the one to follow.

DENVER RAIDS TO CONTINUE ACTIVE

Onslaught on Underworld is Unabated; 204 Men and Women Taken

DENVER, Colo., April 11.—Continuation of the onslaught launched last night and today upon the so-called underworld of this city as a result of which 204 men and women were lodged in jail, was predicted tonight by leaders of the raiding forces.

While members of the liquor and vice "rings" not yet entangled in the toils of the law's net were fearing the recurrence of the raids, the men and women already in the custody of the authorities were being thoroughly investigated by the district and city attorneys in order to determine the validity of filing charges against them. One by one the "victims" of the law's swoop upon their haunts were questioned by the authorities as to connection with bootlegging, gambling or vice activities.

The raids which were launched last night were only the opening guns of the battle which Mayor Benjamin F. Stapleton, District Attorney Foster Cline and Manager of Safety Reuben W. Hershey, declare will be conducted against Denver's underworld until it is "cleaned up."
