LICENSE SALE FOUND HEAVY

Trout Rising to Spinners, Chubs and Salmon Eggs Declares Fisherman

If Willy Trout fails to show up for lunch today, Pa and Ma Trout may rest assured that their wandering boy will come home no more, but has found his way into the basket of any one of the hundreds of fishermen who are hitting the trail for choice fishing spots, not only in this district, but throughout the state, for sunrise this morning ushered in the 1925 trout fishing season.

Fishermen of the Salem district, according to licenses issued, will try their luck in various streams within easy motoring reach today. An unusually large number of these permits have been taken out and there is every indication that the trout tribe will be short many members before the season closes. At any rate, the casualty list will be great.

Within easy reach of the city are several streams that have proven to give results in the past and are regarded by local fishermen as choice fishing spots, according to George Cadwell, of the Anderson sporting goods store. Among these favorites are the mecca of the nimrods are Mill creek above Aumsville; the Little Lucklamute above Falls City over

BEARCATS START SEASON BY WIN

Pacific College Baseball Team is Defeated by Score 10 to 1

The Willamette University baseball squad got off with a flying start on this year's season Tuesday by defeating Pacific College of Newberg by the score of 11-1 in a game featured by a home run hit made by Kalahan when three men were on base. Other long hits were the home run made by Isham third base and the two-bag hit gathered by Poling, second base. Ellis former Salem high star pitched the first four innings and the remainder of the 7 inning game was pitched by Robertson.

The Bearcat infield played good consistent ball and give promise of correcting the weaknesses of last year. The infield men were Herman first base; Poling second base; Isham third base; and Fasnacht short. Buck Towner continued to do good work behind the bat as he has done for several years past.

The 11 hits gathered by the Bearcats including the three long hits would seem to show that Coach Rathbun has made considerable improvement in the batting of the men and if the infield continues to play their usual game Willamette stands a strong chance of winning several of her games this year.

The next game of the season will be played with the Oregon normal of Monmouth Friday afternoon on the Willamette diamond at 4 o'clock.

SALEM TO PLAY CHEMAWA TODAY

Postponed Game Will be Staged if Weather Conditions Permit

After many preliminary tries the Chemawa Indians are to meet the Salem high school on the Indian grounds this afternoon, providing the weather conditions are favorable. Last Saturday the two teams were to tangle, but the rain postponed the game.

This will be Salem's first game of the season, while it will be the Redskin's third play, which makes it a little bad for the locals, however, and expect to put up a good fight.

The Indians have LeAndre Wilson and Charles George in the box and it is reported that they have been going fine. They have in reserve a southpaw, Fleury who has a lot of good stuff and plenty of control. With DePoe on the first sack, Williams at second, Dandro George, shortstop all regulars from last year will make things hum.

In the outfield the Indians will have Brendible, Clapham, veterans, who are considered class players in their positions.

LUTX—Sports—MUST

Francis Lutz was elected president of the Salem Tennis association at the annual meeting held at the Chamber of Commerce, with Jack Minto secretary-treasurer. A great amount of interest is being shown in the sport this year and some big things are being planned for the season.

Tournaments outlining the year include a city tourney, probably to be held the last week in May, as well as a Willamette valley tournament. Interclub matches are also contemplated.

Plans this year include the sponsoring of junior as well as senior tournaments. All schedules will be worked out at a later meeting of the club.

Willamette Net Artists Rapidly Getting in Form

The Willamette university tennis teams are working hard and are rapidly getting into form for the coming inter-class series and varsity season. The men's varsity squad of last year are all in school and will probably be representing the school this year. No formal tryouts are scheduled as yet, although any man has the right to get a match with any one of the three varsity men—Mitkey, Emmel and Walsh.

The inter-class teams are not definitely selected although Litchfield has won the position as first man for the freshmen.

Other classes have not completed their elimination tournaments although the matches are but a short time away.

DAMAGE AWARDED RELATIVES OF MEN

Families of Members of Crew of Lost Vessel to Collect From Company

TACOMA, April 14.—An amount totaling close to $30,000 was awarded relatives of those lost in the sinking of the sound freighter W. W. Lake in December, 1923, by Judge Edward E. Cushman in the federal court, in a memorandum decision handed down today. A decision last week given from the bench Judge Cushman held the vessel unseaworthy.

The decision ruled that the evidence in support of each claim showed the deceased was the main factor in the loss of the vessel and not the sole support of those "on whose behalf the several claimants sued."

There still remains two claims filed. One of these is that of Etienne S. Skillman, mother of Walter S. Skillman, a deck hand, and the second is the claim of the Younglove Grocery company.

The T. W. Lake, owned by the Merchants Transportation company of Tacoma, was sunk during a heavy gale in the San Juan islands district. The entire crew, consisting of 14, was lost.

Queen's Court Pined—

The queen's court will be placed in front of Waller hall in the same location as last year for the Willamette university May Day exercises. The work of constructing the court is already in the hands of the committee and is progressing rapidly. Bleachers will be brought over from the Willamette gym and the seating capacity around the court will be greatly increased from what it was last year. All May Day program work is progressing rapidly and the crowd will be assured of a full program and ample accommodations.

man and the most important archaeological exhibit ever found in Mesopotamia.

It was uncovered by workmen under C. Leonard Woolley, head of the expedition financed by the two museums and the inscriptions were read by Dr. Leon Legrain, curator of the Babylonian section of the University museum now in U.

The stela or slab is five feet wide and 15 feet high, carved on both sides with a series of horizontal or symbolic scenes arranged in horizontal bands of unequal height.

Aside from the artistic value, the announcement said, "its historical importance is far-reaching as it contains pictures in stone of the building of the Ziggurat, the Tower of Ur, similar to the Tower of Babel, several likenesses of the king, Ur-Engur, the founder of the third dynasty of Ur, and the only representation of Nannar, the moon god, ever found. Prior to the discovery it was not known whether this early Babylonian god was a person, animal, or a symbol of divinity. In addition, the earliest representation of angels is contained in the marvelous carvings made by some unknown artist who produced the monument 4200 years ago. The stela in all probability was the pride of Ur when Abraham lived in the city."

Shortage in Apples is Reported by U. S. Bureau

CHICAGO, April 14.—Apple supplies are rapidly decreasing, the United States bureau of agricultural economics reported today. Barreled and boxed apple holdings in storage are about 40 per cent less than was the case a year ago.

"Idaho in particular has shipped only 2150 carloads of apples this season. The combined output of all western states to date is less than 40,000 cars, as against a movement of 61,260 in 1924.

ANNUAL CLARION IS COMING FINE

Publication Will Come From Press at Early Date; Prize is Sought

The 1925 Clarion of the Salem high school is to make its appearance from the press at an early date, with good chances for winning the Sigma Delta Chi prize in state-wide competition.

Members of the staff have yet to finish up some of their advertising in order to complete the publication, but that is expected to be finished soon. With the completion of the annual and at the close of the exhibition, the Salem students expect to add the laurel to their already crowded shelves.

"We are out after that cup this year harder than ever before," said Cecil Edwards, editor of the annual. "I think we can put the stuff into it, if we can only get the money to pay for it."

The 1925 annual will have 250 pages with a Malley imitation leather cover. Nathan Buell, senior student, has made an original design for the cover, to replace the one submitted by the company. In order to improve the chances for securing the prize is the reason for changing the design.

Following the competition at Corvallis the Salem school will submit their annual in a national contest at Chicago.

The photography and printing of the annual is being done in Salem, while the engraving is done in Portland.

Permanent roads are a good investment — not an expense

The High Cost of Postponing Permanent Highway Building

Poor motor roads stifle industry and agriculture, waste huge sums annually in high maintenance costs, and greatly increase gasoline, tire and repair bills.

There is not a state, not a county, not a community, that isn't paying a heavy price for having too few permanent roads.

There are still many sections of the country—even whole states—that are trying to operate twentieth century traffic over nineteenth century roads.

This is costing millions of dollars every year, and will keep on costing millions until we have well developed permanent highway systems everywhere.

Even what we often call the more progressive communities are far behind the demands of modern highway traffic with its 17,000,000 motor vehicles.

From the Atlantic to the Pacific, and from Canada to Mexico, we need more Concrete roads—the roads for twentieth century traffic.

Your highway officials want to be of the greatest possible service to you. Get behind them with ways and means that will provide more Concrete roads and streets. Such an investment will pay you big dividends year after year.

Monument Declared to be Most Important Discovered Found in Babylon

PHILADELPHIA, April 14.—The finding at Ur of the chaldees of a great sandstone sculptured stela or monument of King Ur-Engur, who ruled Babylon in 2300 B. C., was announced in London and Philadelphia tonight. According to a statement issued by the University of Pennsylvania museum, Sir Frederic G. Kenyon, director of the British museum, and Dr. George B. Jordan, director of the university museum, which are conducting a joint expedition in the buried city of Abraham, regard the stela as of the "greatest pieces now known to
