THE APRIL social meeting of the Salem Woman's club will be in the nature of a lecture on "American Mysticism" by Rev. Martin Pereshetian, pastor of the Unitarian church, at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the club house.

The social committee for April includes Mrs. John McCourt, Mrs. Herbert L. Stiff, Mrs. Walter Kirk, Mrs. Wilson Darby, Mrs. G. W. Shand, Mrs. W. B. Mott, Mrs. Blane Darby, Mrs. Lewis D. Griffith, Mrs. Frank Meyers, Mrs. C. B. Webb, Mrs. George White and Mrs. A. F. Marcus.

Friends of Dr. and Mrs. Carl Gregg Doney will be interested in the news that they are expected to arrive in Salem after spending the winter in Cambridge, Mass., on May 9.

A concert by the Oregon Agricultural college full symphony orchestra of 35 pieces at 8:15 o'clock this evening in Waller hall promises to be one of the most interesting events of a full musical week.

The advanced orchestra has been received this season with exceptional favor wherever it has played. Mrs. Marguerite MacManus is the director of the group which the soloist for tomorrow night, a concert, will be Byron D. Arnold, pianist.

Rev. and Mrs. Fred C. Taylor were the honor guests at a large

How To Solve Cross Word Puzzle
Each number is the start of a word. White space represents a letter. Look at the key printed and see the definition for the word you seek. Select a word that has the right number of letters for the space allowed it horizontal or vertical, as the case may be. Remember the word ends in the square just before the first black square you reach or at the border of the puzzle. After you have found one or two words you will have clues to all others.

Cross Word Puzzle Synonyms
Horizontal Words—
Word 1—A small moving body of water.
Word 2—A kind of cloth made from flax.
Word 3—A lady's gown.
Vertical Words—
Word 1—A word used to describe the condition of cotton or any other merchandise after it has been pressed and bound tightly for shipment.
Word 2—It takes sixteen of them to make a pound.
Word 3—The ruler of a monarchy—plural.

The Ladies of the G. A. R. will meet today with Mrs. George Smith, 965 North 15th street in celebration of the birthday of U. S. Grant as well as Appomattox day. All comrades are invited to be guests.

The Sweet Briar club was enjoyably entertained this week at the home of Mrs. L. A. Grote. The afternoon was fascinatingly spent in listening to a talk on home and general conditions of France by Mrs. Jack Richardson, who was born and reared in France, coming to America only five years ago. Special musical numbers that were enjoyed included a vocal by Mrs. Arthur Utley, a piano solo by Mrs. Corydon Blodgett, and a piano duet by Mrs. Utley and Mrs. Ira Darby. Willie Utley and Corydon Blodgett, Jr., were also on the program.

The tea table was beautifully centered with a bowl of pink tulips and lilacs. Mrs. C. C. Page and Mrs. Mose Adams presided at the urns. Assisting in the serving were Mrs. Karl Kugel, Mrs. Ed. Pratt, Mrs. Corydon Blodgett, and Mrs. Arthur Utley.

Guests invited to meet with the club included: Mrs. Earl Duce, Mrs. Merrill D. Ohling, Mrs. Charles Pratt, Mrs. I. M. Doughton, Mrs. Ida Babcock, Mrs. Herbert Hauser, Mrs. P. G. Brady, Mrs. William Gorsline, Mrs. John Schindler, and Mrs. Ira Darby.

SILVERTON SOCIETY

SILVERTON, Ore., April 22.—(Special to The Statesman).—Trinity Dorcas society met at Trinity social rooms Tuesday evening of this week. At the business session the matter of entertaining the visitors for the Lutheran Brotherhood convention to be held at Silverton in the early part of May was discussed. It was decided that Saturday evening the Dorcas society will serve dinner for those attending the convention. Committees were appointed to take charge of the matter. The menu committee is composed of Mrs. Esther Weaver and Mrs. Andrew Hall. The kitchen committee is made up of Mrs. Henry Storle, Mrs. Oscar Starn, Mrs. L. M. Larson, Mrs. John Goplerud, Miss Marie Tinglestad. In charge of the dining room will be Alice Jensen, Mrs. Sater, Joris Kloster, Lillie Madson, Viola Riveness and Mrs. Melvin Riveness.

Following the business session a lunch was served by Mrs. Henry Storle, Mrs. Helmer Rue, Mrs. M. C. Jacobsen and Miss Cora Sater.

Mrs. Charles Harwood was hostess at a "500" card party Tuesday evening at the Harwood home in honor of Mr. Harwood's 48th birthday. The affair was a surprise to Mr. Harwood. A yellow and white color scheme was used about the rooms, a large number of aprons, flowers being used. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Harwood of Albany, Mr. and Mrs. W. Haberly, Mr. and Mrs. Berge Borgerik, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Skelton, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Starn, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Ekman, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Stainer, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Cooley, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Moser, Mr. and Mrs. W. Egan, Mr. and Mrs. O. Standard, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Moser, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Moser, Miss Harriet Farrell, Gilbert Moser and Merl Harwood.

Mrs. Inez Reynolds is at Silverton for a visit with her son, Charles Reynolds. Mrs. Reynolds has been making her home in Los Angeles for the past year. She made a trip to Silverton by boat and reports a rough voyage. Thursday evening Mrs. Reynolds was honor guest at a dinner-party at which Mr. and Mrs. William Service was hosts. Guests were Mrs. Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Irish and Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Latham.

Miss Edna Hartley and Almond Balch were married at encounter in the early part of this week. Mrs. Hartley is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hartley of Silverton, a member of the 1924 class of the Silverton high school, and until recently a stenographer at the Lutheran Home Seekers agency. Mr. Balch is also a graduate of the Silverton high school and at present attending college at the Oregon Agricultural college. Mr. Balch returned Tuesday to Corvallis.

Forty members and their wives of the Silverton unit of the Lutheran Brotherhood surprised Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Nelson at their new home on East Oak street Thursday night. A coffee parlor was left as a remembrance of the evening. Rev. George Henriksen made the presentation speech to which Mr. Nelson responded. Mr. Nelson is president of the Silverton Brotherhood.

MARION DAVIES PLAYS A CAPTIVATING TITLE-ROLE IN 'JANICE MEREDITH'

A Thrilling Love Story of the Revolution Held Guests at the Pre-View Spell-Bound Yesterday; Historic Episodes Became Realistic.

By Audrey Bunch

After an audience has seen such cinematic spectacles as "Abraham Lincoln," for instance, and "The Thief of Bagdad" admittedly are, one may be inclined to ask, And, now, please, what is left for us on the screen?

And the answer is—"Janice Meredith."

"Janice Meredith," the film, is the gorgeous breaking of the crystal of which "Janice Meredith," the book, was only the woven cocoon.

"Janice Meredith," the film, is tremendous, it is real, that is what it is, real. And as it were not enough to show the actual scenes of the Boston tea party; the miraculously stirring ride of Paul Revere through the moonlight night with the waters, hillsides, and hedgerows, all bathed in a blue light; the pitiable winter at Valley Forge; the elegance and splendor of the Count of Versailles; and again, Washington Crossing the Delaware, an event more daring, more perilous, more vital to human life and love than it was ever dreamed before. An intense story of love, rivalry, jealousy, humiliation, and intrigue cements the whole into one stupendous documented American history and romance—chronicles inlaid with human desires, defeats, affections, triumphs.

"In Janice Meredith" there is the woman whose effigy, now hideous to one who had loved her, is not fit to lie even near "a heart so pure" as Janice's own. And yet she has to play her part in the drama of it all before, like Clowes, she is taken from the stage.

And if it is true that all drama with engrossing action, with characters of seething cross-purposes, depends for its appeal upon its ability to make the audience partisan as well as participant, "Janice Meredith" bids fair to score as might fly when it starts at the Oregon theatre this afternoon to continue through Monday as it did yesterday morning at the pre-viewing.

There will be no woman in the audience on any day who will not be distinctly partisan on the morning Squire Meredith chooses the bridegroom for his daughter. She may be the girl. She may be the mother. But she'll be on the edge of her seat when that girl goes to the altar on the arm of her father.

And the girl, in it, who gives the film its charm and its exquisite appeal, is Marion Davies.—Marion Davies, inimitably feminine, inimitably the actress. At one moment she seems as ephemeral as a flower; at another her eyes are haughty with their disdain, and again she is "stiff-necked and rebellious." But one who will agree that there are ample justifications in the action for every whim of her character.

But most of all Marion Davies in the title role is peerlessly beautiful with a fragility in it that hurts. But there is no fragility in the Marion that was the Janice who dared a ride into the night on a plunging horse alone.

"Janice Meredith," a tale of the Revolutionary war, is a picture that those who patronize the theatre regularly, or only occasionally, will be unanimous in their desire to see. And for three days through the cooperation of the Salem branch of the American Association of University Women with Mr. Stille, the manager, this is the glorious opportunity that Salem will have.
