THIS LITTLE OLD WORLD

How little we know about hearts of men
In this little old world of ours.
We whisper and judge and sing without ken,
In this little old world of ours.

There are some who would rather give than take
In this little old world of ours.
Who would rather heal a heart than break
In this little old world of ours.

There are some who rejoice in justice done
In this little old world of ours.
And the broken bonds reunite as one
In this little old world of ours.

There is never a matter who is to blame
In this little old world of ours.
We will keep on singing just the same
In this little old world of ours.

—MARTHA MILLER

THE APRIL SOCIAL meeting of the Salem Woman's club was an interesting calendar event of yesterday afternoon. Mrs. C. K. Spaulding, the club president, presided. After the singing of "American the Beautiful" reports of the county convention were heard. Mrs. Harry J. Weidner reported on "Education," Mrs. W. F. Fargo on "Federation Extension," and Mrs. W. I. Staley on "Legislation." Earl Kennell gave three pleasing vocal numbers which were well-enhanced by the piano accompaniment of Miss Mildred Jaeger and the violin obligato of Mrs. P. H. Brown. Mr. Kennell was so heartily cheered after singing "I Love the Moon" that he was forced to respond not once, but twice, first with "I've Been Wondering" and "The Barefoot Trail."

Later in the afternoon the club women heard a popularly given talk on "American Mysticism" by Rev. Martin Pereshetian who gave many appropriate examples.

Mr. Pereshetian's talk was followed with "Hearts and Flowers" and "Love and Dreams," two numbers by an instrumental trio composed of Miss Margaret Kaaster and Peter Poelkel, violins, and Robert Alexander, piano.

The tea table for the afternoon was one of the most attractive of the year. A French bouquet of flowers in pastel shades, arranged in a lavender-pink pottery bowl centered the table. Pink candles in crystal holders repeated the pink shades in the bouquet. Mrs. Joseph Baumgartner and Mrs.

C. K. Spaulding presided at the urus.

The afternoon's social committee, with Mrs. Walter J. Kirk as chairman, included: Mrs. Herbert L. Stiff, Mrs. Walter Kirk, Mrs. Wilson Darby, Mrs. G. W. Shand, Mrs. W. B. Mott, Mrs. Bliss Darby, Mrs. Lewis D. Griffith, Mrs. Frank Meyers, Mrs. C. B. Webb, Mrs. George White, Mrs. A. F. Marcus and Mrs. U. G. Boyer.

A splendid concert is anticipated for Wednesday evening when the Willamette University Ladies' Glee club will appear in varied and interesting numbers at Walker hall.

The personnel of the club, of which Professor E. W. Hobson is director, includes the following group of co-ed under-graduates: First sopranos, Miss Faye Sparks, Miss Gladys McIntyre, Miss Beulah Fanning, Miss Elizabeth Silver Smith, Miss Lena Gilbert, Miss Aldeane Smith, Miss Helen May Lockwood, and Miss Fay Spaulding; second sopranos: Miss Lucia Card, Miss Beryl Masters, Miss Virginia Van Horn, Miss Gladys Morton, Miss Margaret Arnold, and Miss Gladys Gilbert; first altos: Miss Ruth Ross, Miss Volena Jenks, Miss Elois Heinck; second altos: Miss Marian Wyatt, Miss Thiaie Chapin, Miss Frances Hodges, and Miss Ruth Heinck.

Miss Mildred Grand is accompanist for the club.

A large group of Salem women attended the county convention of the Federation of Women's clubs on Thursday in Aurora.

Among those from the Salem Woman's club in attendance were: Mrs. W. E. Kirk, Mrs. C. K. Spaulding, Mrs. Harry Weidner, Mrs. R. J. Hendricks, Mrs. W. F. Fargo, Miss Hattie Beatty, Mrs. W. I. Staley, Mrs. Seymour Jones, Mrs. W. E. Anderson, Mrs. W. C. Dibble, and Mrs. Elmo S. White.

The following officers were nominated for the new year, the report receiving acceptance as read, President, Mrs. W. W. Allen of Mill City; vice-pres., Mrs. Ida Moshberger of Woodburn; secretary, Mrs. E. H. Brewer of Stayton; treasurer, Mrs. Waldo Brown of Hubbard; auditor, Mrs. E. H. Looney of Jefferson; and directors, Mrs. Frank Merritt of Aurora and Mrs. G. H. Thompson of Willard.

Mrs. P. H. Raymond arrived last week from San Francisco for a protracted visit with relatives and friends in Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Sanford are entertaining as their house guests the weekend Miss Helen Lamond and Mr. Alexander Page of Portland. Miss La Mond and Mrs. Sanford are sisters.

The Young People's class of the Central Congregational church gave a delightful surprise party last night at the home of Miss Grace Welborn complimenting Rev. and Mrs. Harry Johnson. Games and music were the diversions of a happy evening. A lovely gift was presented by Willbur McCune to the honor guests, in behalf of the class.

The invited group for the evening included:

Myra Gleason, Jesse McCune, Vera McCune, Veda Korb, Lena Cox, Jessie Mason, Anna Butte, Laura Yantis, Mable Van Patten, Mrs. Frances Karn, Mrs. Nellie Skewis, Pearl Eyre, Jessie Eyre, Mrs. Everett Craven, Wilbur McCune, Gordon Barker, Herbert Miller, Carl Shafer, Walter McCune, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hand, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd LaDue, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bates, Mrs. Elizabeth Welborn, Edith Welborn and the honor guest, Rev. and Mrs. Harry Johnson.

The membership committee of the YMCA will meet on Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the YMCA rooms. The personnel of the committee of which Mrs. Frank Zinn is chairman includes: Mrs. J. C. Nelson, Mrs. W. H. Steusloff, Mrs. C. V. McKelvey, Mrs. F. M. Erickson, Mrs. W. D. Clarke, Mrs. H. V. Compton, Mrs. George H. Allen, Mrs. E. E. Ling, Mrs. Frank Myers, Mrs. A. C. Perry, and Mrs. George Hug.

Mrs. J. E. Allison of Eugene is visiting in the city and is the guest of her sisters, Mrs. Frank E. Brown and Mrs. David H. Craven. She will return to her home Wednesday.

Miss Nell Thielsen was hostess at a charmingly appointed supper party following the successful Episcopal dance on Friday evening. Solomon's Seal in a silver basket centered the table, while green candles were effective in silver holders.

Covers were placed for: Mr. and Mrs. Rex Sanford, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Carson, Mr. and Mrs. James Humphrey, Mr. Cook, and the hostess, Miss Nell Thielsen.

The Home Economics committee of the Oak Grove grange will be in charge of a cooked food sale which will be held on Saturday, May 2, at the SP office on North Liberty street.

Miss Annabelle Lawrence and Miss Dorothy Smart, assisted by George Johnson, entertained for the Extra Nocturn club on Wednesday at the club house. Baskets of lilacs and lavender potted tulips were effective decorations. Each lady in the group came dressed in pastel crepe paper to represent some flower. Cards diversified the guests during the early part of the evening after which little Miss Rachel Hall delighted with a butterfly dance. After the luncheon, dancing was enjoyed.

Mrs. W. C. Conner and son, Clare, motored to Eugene and Cottage Grove on Friday where they will be guests over the week-end of relatives and friends.

The Highland Study class met on Friday at the home of Mrs. Stapleton on Hall street for the lesson in the "Know Your Town"

Knowles chapter of the Eastern Star of McMinnville has invited the members of Chadwick chapter to meet with them on Monday, April 27, for the regular stated communication and the official visit of the Grand Matron. The hour at which the members are asked to come is 8 o'clock. The Grand Matron, Mary Alice Burdette, is a resident of McMinnville. A large number from Salem plan to motor over for the evening.

An exceptional treat is in store for all friends and members of the Salem Arts' league when at a special meeting at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening at the public library, Robert C. Paul will interest a group with auto-chromes, studies from a field of work very much his own.

An auto-chrome is a photograph which reproduces the exact colors of the subject at the instant it is taken. It is with pleasure that many are anticipating the opportunity of viewing this interesting type of photographic art. The special meeting has been arranged by Mrs. J. M. Clifford, art director of the league.

One of the attractive club affairs of the week was the bridge luncheon on Thursday at which Mrs. Paul Hendricks was hostess for the members of her club. Mrs. Karl Becke was a special guest of the afternoon. Mrs. John H. Carson won the high playing score of the afternoon.

In the group were: Mrs. Karl Becke, Mrs. John H. Carson, Mrs. Allan Carson, Mrs. Homer Egan, Mrs. Clifford Farmer, Mrs. Orris F. Fry, Mrs. Clifton Irwin, Mrs. Donald Young and the hostess Mrs. Paul Hendricks.

Two hundred and fifty persons will take part in one of the largest musical programs ever put on in Salem on Tuesday evening, May 6, at the armory under the auspices of the Salem branch of the Oregon State Music Teachers' association in celebration of National Music week.

One of the most beautifully appointed of campus banquets was that at the Gray Belle on Friday evening when the Adelante and Websterian literary societies of Willamette university met together for the first joint affair of this nature.

Covers for seventy-five guests were arranged at small tables centered with pink tulips. The music of the evening was provided by an orchestra that included in its personnel: Miss Katherine Kirk, Fredrick Arpke, Quentin Cox and Charles Swan, and by the college songs of the group.

Cornelius Bateson acted as toastmaster of the evening with responses given by: Miss Mary Gilbert, Miss Jenelle Vandevort, Harold Eakin, and Ellis Von Eschen.

Miss Grace Jasper, bride-elect, was pleasantly surprised on Wednesday evening when a group of her friends gathered to give a miscellaneous shower. Excitement and enthusiasm reigned during the making of Miss Jasper's and Mr. Patty's life history. This was followed by a mock wedding ceremony in which Miss Marguerite Gilbert was the bride and Master Leonard Gilbert, the groom. Helen Jane Acheson and Esther Mae De Vore acted as ring bearer and flower girl. The costumes and flowers featured rural life. The bride's bouquet was thrown to Miss Jasper in which she found a note directing her to a large basket containing many lovely gifts for future use.

Miss Jasper is a senior at Willamette university, member of the Beta Chi sorority, and a member of the Chrestomathean Literary society. Her marriage to Mr. William Patty will take place during the early summer.

Theresa Smith added another surprise to the evening when she announced her engagement to Carl J. O'Neily of Marshfield, Oregon. Their wedding will also be an event of the early summer.

The guests were: Mrs. E. M. Jasper, Miss Grace Jasper, Miss Clara Jasper, Miss Theresa Smith, Miss Helen Miles, Miss Percie Miles, Miss Pauline Miller, Miss Beulah Fanning, Miss Mildred

Drake, Miss Bessie Taylor, Miss Rhea McCoy, Miss Alene Ritchie, Miss Gladys Gilbert, Miss Avis Hicks, Mrs. De Vore, Miss Luella Keighan, Miss Lois Hockett, Miss Neva Walker, Miss Clara Smith, and the hostesses, Miss Grace Tyler and Miss Inez Tyler.

The young married people's class of the Jason Lee church held a very friendly get-together on Friday evening. The program began with a sumptuous dinner in the basement of the church, after which several well planned games were enjoyed.

The fourteen couples and their respective children all agreed that this first of a series of social evenings was successful in deepening the local spirit and friendly feeling among the members of the class.

The wardrobe of "Janice Meredith" represents an expenditure of more than $200,000. Marion Davies, in the title role, wears twenty costumes. These gowns designed by Gretl Urban, cost more than $25,000. They range from the simple frock of the daughter of a Colonial country gentleman to the elaborate costumes of satins and velvets worn by the ladies of fashion of the period. The designs were copied from old prints, paintings and models found in various museums in New York, New England and New Jersey.

The dress worn by Miss Davies when she appears at the ball given in honor of Lord Howe at Philadelphia, is unusually elaborate. It is developed in taffeta, satin and velvet, and its bouffant lines are cleverly enhanced by bead and floss embroidery of flowers. Borders of jewel-encrusted flowers add color to the pale pink, with pearls and lacy ruffles softening the necklines and sleeves.

In addition, Miss Davies wears numerous hats and headresses, most of which are of an elaborate character.

Gorgeous costumes and gowns of the richest silks, satins and brocades were worn by the thousand or more persons who portray French nobility and courtiers of the period in the scene depicting the court of Louis XVI and Marie Antoinette, at Versailles.

More than 1,000 magnificent costumes of the finest silks, satins and velvets were used in the filming of the grand ball given in the honor of Lord Howe at Philadelphia. Nothing but the very best of materials was used in the execution of these elaborate costumes, for the pitiless eye of the camera will not tolerate shams or make-believes.

Museums and private collections were placed at the disposal of the Cosmopolitan Corporation in supplying the thousands of uniforms worn by the British, Hessian, French and Continental soldiers who appear in the battle scenes. The colorful uniforms of the officers with their real gold braid and lace trimmings were especially made for the occasion and contributed no small item to the cost of the wardrobe of the production.

From the simplest homespun frocks of the villagers to the elaborate ball-room and court gowns, nothing has been left undone to reproduce accuracy both in design and material.

One of the largest receptions held in Salem in many months was that on the evening of Friday, April 24, from 7:30 to 10:30 o'clock at the First Methodist Episcopal church formally welcoming to their new pastorate, Reverend and Mrs. Fred C. Taylor, who have come from Sioux City, Iowa to take the place of Dr. and Mrs. Blaine E. Kirkpatrick. The successful affair was sponsored by the Ladies' Aid society of the church of which Mrs. H. H. Vandevort is the president.

Assisting Mrs. Vandevort in the formal reception of the guests at the door was Mrs. F. A. Legge and Mrs. Mary E. Findley. In the receiving line of the evening were Reverend and Mrs. Fred C. Taylor, Dean and Mrs. George H. Alden, and Dr. and Mrs. Leach. Mrs. Alden presented the visitors to the honou guests.

During the formal program, Dr. Leach, district superintendent, presided, acknowledging the introduction given him by Dr. M. C. Findley, chairman of the official board. Since, on account of the illness of Mrs. Shepard, Bishop Shepard was unable to be in attendance, Dr. Leach extended the welcome of the entire Oregon conference as well as of the Salem district. Mr. A. A. Lee greeted the new pastor and his wife in behalf of the official board of the local church, and Miss Grace Elisabeth Smith, in behalf of the Sunday school and young people. In his splendid responses, Rev. Mr. Taylor expressed great satisfaction with the west to which he has come.

A vocal solo by Jack Vinson followed, Miss Louise Findley accompanying at the piano.
