FALLS CITY NEWS ITEMS FOR THE WEEK BY VERY COMPETENT REPORTER

The Doings of a Live City and the Comings and Goings of the People Thereof — The Town Looks Good to Old Timers Returned—Another Poultry Breeder Among the Outstanding Ones in That Line in That District

First Visitors of the Season Camp in Park

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Case and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Woolridge, all of Portland, are camping in the City park, having driven up from Portland last Saturday. They are enthusiastic over the beauties of the scenery and well pleased with the facilities for comfortable camping in the park.

Mr. and Mrs. Clay Guthridge and daughters, Dorothy and Frances, were visitors to the state capital on Saturday.

Mrs. E. P. McNeer, of Silverton, a former resident of Falls City, was in town over the week end visiting with friends. This is the first visit Mrs. McNeer has made to Falls City since a year ago last November, and she is kind enough to say our clean up and civic pride campaign has produced decided results and that we are much improved since that time.

Pioneer Resident Celebrates Birthday

On Sunday Mr. T. D. Hollowell entertained as dinner guests Mrs. May Warren and little son Bobby, and Mr. John Walling of Amity, and Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Brown of Falls City. The guests presented Mr. Hollowell with a delicious birthday cake, the occasion being a very pleasant celebration of Mr. Hollowell's birthday, which was on Friday, the 24th.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dunn were over from Salem for the week end, visiting with his mother, Mrs. Ida Dunn.

Mrs. Wilkinson had as a guest last Friday her mother, Mrs. Chas. Baker from Guthrie.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Meyers were business visitors in Salem last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Olson drove to Hillsboro Saturday afternoon, where they were the guests of relatives until Sunday evening.

Among the former Falls City residents who were in the city Sunday for the opening of the baseball season with the game between Val Setz and Falls City were Mr. and Mrs. Ted Cochran and daughter, John and Grant Fallin, Coy Morris and Lot Gardner.

Mrs. Mildred Berg of Salem was another visitor in Falls City Sunday.

Miss Irene Dodd, who is a nurse in Salem, was the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Dodd, last week.

Mrs. Harry Dempsey and two sons were from Perrydale last Friday and Saturday, guests at the O. Arland home.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Roy McDonald, accompanied by Mrs. Alf Young, drove to Canyonville last week, visiting Mr. Young and transacting business there. Mr. Young and Lester Bowman are partners in operating a meat market in Canyonville and are succeeding very nicely. Mrs. Young will probably sell her home here and go to Canyonville to reside after the close of the schools.

The Donalds report a very pleasant trip, saying the flowers and gardens are in advance of ours up here, snowballs being in full bloom.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Russell and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond were visitors from Toledo Sunday, the guests of Mrs. Russell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Courter, and also visiting Mr. Russell's brother, J. G. Russell and family.

The ladies of the Good Will club, with their husbands, had a very jolly dinner party at the E. C. Richardson home Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Elle and daughters, Bernice and Helen, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. West, Mrs. Carrie Jones, Miss Pauline Jones, Henrietta Jones and Edna Watt made up a party visiting the tulip farms near Salem, and enjoying the picnic grounds in Holman park, where they ate dinner. They report the tulips are wonderfully beautiful just now.

Mrs. Dora Freer of Fir Grove was a visitor at the home of her sister last week.

E. C. Titus has gone to Stayton for a visit.

Clarence Lee was a visitor to Monmouth last Saturday, where he went to attend an I.O.O.F. dinner that evening.

Prof. I. G. Colcord of Portland, superintendent of schools, made a visit of inspection to the local Adventist school last Monday. The Adventist children will help in the observance of forest preservation week by having special exercises next Saturday morning at ten o'clock a. m.

Miss LaVerne Mickelson and Mrs. Elsie Graham went to Salem last Saturday morning, where Miss Mickelson will visit for a few days. Mrs. Graham returned to Falls City that evening with her sister, and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bandy, who spent the week end here.

The many friends of Vernon Estelle will be glad to learn that the accident which he recently met with, while employed in logging near Toledo, is not so serious as at first reported. He suffered the loss of a portion of his right thumb, also partial bruising and lacerations of the right arm and shoulder, with cuts on his head, but has no broken bones or internal injuries. He is confined to the hospital in Toledo; will have to remain there for some time, and will make a complete and speedy recovery. His escape from more serious injuries was due to the fact that when the loading booms struck him he was thrown between two logs.

The Misses Jessie Paul, Lois Kendall and Margaret Allen hiked over from Monmouth Friday evening, returning Sunday afternoon. The girls had several rides both ways, but still have several miles toward their Normal sweaters, which are earned by hiking a certain number of miles.

Miss Margaret Allen sang "My Lord and I," at the Christian church, Sunday morning.

The Women's Missionary society of the Christian church will hold a missionary tea in the basement of the church Friday from 3 to 6:30. Everyone is invited.

H. F. Pyle and family of Forest Grove were dinner guests at the W. D. Bancroft home on Tuesday.

Miss Lotta Courter and her friend Miss Maud Jameson, who are attending U. of O., were week end guests at the Calkins home.

Good Will Club Holds Interesting Meeting With Mrs. A. G. Adams as Hostess

Thursday afternoon, the 23rd, the Good Will club met with Mrs. Adams. Many interesting subjects were discussed. Mrs. Blackerby gave a very interesting talk on Woodcraft, which was enjoyed by all.

The following members were present: Mesdames Cochran, Black Chamberlain, Richardson, Wingo, Gottfried, Griffin, Rhodes, Jones, W. Mack, F. Mack, and the hostess, with Mrs. Blackerby and Mrs. Dora Freer special guests. A delightful lunch was served by the hostess.

Miss Ruth Gottfried, who teaches in the Junior high school of Silverton, was home visiting her parents over the week end. Miss Gottfried has accepted a contract to teach the same subjects in this school next year.

Claud Graham and wife, of McMinnville, recently visited relatives in the city.

Wallace Brown and Merton Young were in McMinnville valley last week, where Mr. Brown will soon start a sawmill on the old Brown homestead there.

Mrs. Blackerby, district guardian neighbor of Woman of Woodcraft, was a special visitor here, transacting business with the local members of the order.

Mesdames Alice Bell of Independence, Myrtle of Dallas, and Mildred Berg of Salem, were Sunday visitors at the home of Mrs. Bell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Bancroft.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. White and daughter, Dorothy, drove to Newport last Sunday, spending the day, and bringing Mrs. Elsie L. Hyde, Mr. White's grandmother, home with them for a visit with her daughters, Mrs. E. G. White and Mrs. H. A. Bowman.

F. M. Waters and wife, of Pelee, were Wednesday visitors with Mr. Waters' sister, Mrs. Mollie Pugh.

Ennis Frink and Clarence McCoy drove up from Newburg Saturday evening to visit with relatives and enjoy fishing in the Little Luckamute.

FALLS CITY SECTION

This section is devoted to the industrial development of Falls City, Polk County, Ore. The section will be under the direction of the Falls City Commercial Club, H. Mather Smith, President and Mrs. Abigail Watt, Secretary. The advertisers in this section are Falls City firms. Each takes pride in advancing the civic and industrial development of the community. Every dollar you spend with them will help build a bigger, better and more prosperous city.

Surprise! Last Wednesday evening, following their regular business meeting, the local chapter of Rebekas gave a handkerchief shower for their members who celebrated their birthday in April, who are: Mesdames Moyer, Adams and Loftus, and Mrs. W. W. Hill, who now resides in Newport.

After the shower and social hour the ladies who had been the recipients of the shower invited their fellow members to the dining room, where they had a delicious luncheon prepared. They served sandwiches, pickles, coffee and a Lady Baltimore cake baked by Mrs. Loftus. Those present expressed themselves as having enjoyed a very pleasant evening. There were twenty-three present.

Week End Trip to Newport Now Enjoyable; Road in Good Condition, King's Valley a Better Route Than via Corvallis

Early Sunday morning a party composed of Mr. and Mrs. H. Mather Smith, Misses Ardella Dunlop and Wendolyn Mickelson, and Olive Courter, and Richard Horn left for Newport in Mr. Smith's new Dodge sedan. They made the trip down by way of King's valley, the speedometer registering seventy-six miles; enjoyed a "perfect day" at the beach and drove home by way of Corvallis, that trip registering an even one hundred miles. No effort was made to time the trips, as using a new car they could not have made quick drives. Mr. Smith reports the roads as being very good, with the King's Valley road better than the other one.

Falls City Population Increase

Mr. and Mrs. Dee Chamberlain are the parents of a daughter, born last Sunday night, April 26. Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Sample are the parents of a son, born on Tuesday the 28th.

Frink's Orchestra Gives Successful Dance in King's Valley

Last Saturday evening Frink's orchestra gave a very enjoyable dance in King's Valley. A number of local people drove over to enjoy the occasion.

Next Saturday night, May 2, they will hold a dance in Victory hall, Falls City. The piano fund will benefit by hall rents paid for these dances.

Mr. and Mrs. G. D. McCoy drove in from Idaho last week, and were guests of old friends of Mr. McCoy's, as he lived in Falls City over thirty years ago. Mr. McCoy noticed many changes, and seemed surprised at the improvements since he last saw our town.

They are now visiting with Mr. McCoy's brother who lives in Valsetz.

Little Doris Tanner, who lives with her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Ida Dunn, was pleasantly surprised on Tuesday evening by a visit from her Grandfather Tanner, and an uncle and aunt, who live in Eugene.

The date for the senior play, "The Jonah," may be changed from May 9 to another date, as that is "circuit day" in Dallas, and of course the seniors don't want to miss a circus. They will give this play in Pelee a week from next Wednesday, the 13th having no terrors for them.

The junior and senior banquet will be on May 15.

Mrs. H. Glaze is another resident of the Falls City community who is engaging in the poultry business. She has two hatcheries of one hundred and fifty each of very fine White Leghorns, and expects to raise several hundred this year.

Parent-Teachers Association Hold A Very Interesting Meeting

Chester A. Lyons of the Big Brothers and Little Sisters Farm at Lebanon the Evening Speaker

The local P. T. A. held a meeting Monday evening, April 27, in the high school auditorium, with the president, Mrs. E. L. Griswold, in the chair. A short business session was held, at which time a report was made on the flower exchange, also a final report from the committee having charge of the "hot soup luncheon" at the grade school. The report showed that while the serving of lunches was not a success financially it was a success in so far as the benefit to the public went; the price per plate being made very low to enable all children who needed the hot food to have it.

The committee extended special thanks to Mrs. Hatcher, who so ably and willingly prepared and served the food, and to Mr. McDonald for courtesy in always having soup bones and other supplies for them; and the president also extended special thanks to the members of this committee for their work in assisting Mrs. Hatcher, caring for the lunches during her illness, and in every way working for the success of the plan. This is the first time the Falls City Parent-Teachers association has attempted a service of this kind, but they do not intend it shall be the last. The committee recommended to the parents and children interested that they plant extra vegetables to grow for use next winter, and suggested to the mothers that they "can what they can and dry what they can't" for next year's soup. Dry beans will be needed in large quantities.

Prof. J. A. Goodwin opened the program for the evening with a talk on forest conservation. Mr. Goodwin gave a very interesting and instructive talk.

Mrs. Marie Lunney sang, with Mrs. J. F. Dunlop accompanying; she responded to an encore with a charmingly sung "lullaby song."

Following this, with Mrs. Dunlop at the piano, Mrs. Lunney leader, we enjoyed a community sing, using the songs furnished by the forest conservation committee for the state of Oregon. Chester A. Lyons, head of the Big Brother movement for Oregon, gave a most interesting talk, explaining the beginning of their movement, told of the farm home at Lebanon, which now has both "big brothers" and "little sisters" under the direction of Mrs. Lyons and himself. He spoke upon his work in Portland along the line of social welfare, telling many interesting experiences, and making one point stand out above all others that "Character is what we are; reputation is what people think we are."

The evening closed with a social hour and light refreshments of fruit punch and cookies.

The next and last meeting, for the current school year, when officers will be elected, will be held May 25.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Courter had a very enjoyable motor trip last week, going from here to Eugene, where Mr. Courter's father remained for a visit with his daughter; after which they visited Marshfield, North Bend, and other coast and southern Oregon points.

Next Saturday evening the Gem theatre will have Cecil De Mille's production, "Feet of Clay," a production with many thrilling scenes, and a fine cast.

Holly Tree Planted on Grade School Campus

Mrs. Ida Dunn has purchased the holly tree given by the city and has set it out in the space between the two flights of steps leading down from the grade school building. The tree is a beautiful specimen, about three and one half feet high, and full of buds. The work of setting shrubs and flowers is progressing nicely and the pupils of the grade school are to be congratulated on the fine manner in which they are cooperating with Mrs. Dunn in this work. The patrons of the school, and many others who have no children to enlist their interest have been very generous in gifts of plants and shrubs. It will be "our" school and "our" flowers. Let's all continue the good work.

What One Home Gardener Has Done in Falls City. Reports From Others Will Be Appreciated

The following interview with Mrs. Ida Dunn, who does her own gardening hiring only the plowing and heavy work, will surprise many, for it shows the results to be secured from small plots of ground when well cared for.

"What has been done can be done again. I am cultivating a little more than three lots on my place here. Last year my expenses were as follows:

Taxes $20.50
Flowing, narrowing, digging 3.00
Seed potatoes 5.00
Other garden seed 3.50
* * * * * $32.50
And I raised:

Potatoes, 15 sacks $30.00
Parsnips 2 sacks 3.00
Caulis 1 sack 1.00
Tomatoes, 15 bushels 20.00
Cucumbers, 5 bushels 5.00

String beans 4.00
Peas 1.00
Sweet corn 6.00
Lettuce, radishes, onion .. 5.00
Greens 5.00
Beets 2.00
Cabbage 5.00
Rhubarb 4.00
Evergreen blackberries .. 6.00
Crab apples and loganberries 6.00

$103.00
Less expenses listed above 38.00
$65.00

So you see there was good wages for the work I did mornings and evenings, for I did all cultivating by hand. It pays to raise a garden in Falls City.

Commercial Club Meeting Wednesday

Regular meeting of Commercial club held last Wednesday. Miss Frances Hatch entertained with piano selections. Mr. Cole, of Willamina, was the principal speaker of the evening, outlining the difficulties, as well as the advantages in the way of a local newspaper in a small town. He advocated an independent paper which would print "all the news fit to print," and boost for the entire Little Luckamute valley. His talk was well received. No definite action was taken. Mr. J. A. Reiber, who has been a resident of this community for several years, is one of the men figuring on giving us a paper. The matter will probably be settled within a few days.

Ladies' Art Club Entertained by Mrs. M. D. Hammel

Tuesday, April 21, Mrs. Hammel was hostess for an interesting meeting of the Ladies' Art club. A short business session was held and it was decided the club would sponsor a vocal concert by Salem artists if a suitable date can be arranged.

At four o'clock the guests partook of a delicious luncheon. Mrs. Hammel used apple blossoms very effectively about the rooms and on the place cards, with a tiny nosegay at each place.

Mrs. W. J. West and Mrs. C. E. Elle were special guests and most of the members were present. Mrs. Mollie Pugh will entertain next week.

Everday Poultry Farm Increasing Their Acreage

A deal has been closed whereby the Dorman of the Everday Poultry farm secured the tract adjoining their property on the east which belonged to C. M. Horn. They have already enclosed this tract with a poultry proof wire fence and are using the land for range for the young pullets which they are raising for next winter. This tract is set to young prune trees and will add materially to the value of the Everday ranch. The taking down of an old barn unsightly fences has improved the appearance of the ranch very materially.

The Ruby Confectionery Changes Hands

Last week a sale of the Ruby was made by H. W. Koehler to Ira C. Davis, who will take possession May 1. Mr. Davis is a recent arrival from Portland, having traded for the A. N. Tee property southwest of town. Mr. Davis has had a number of years experience in the confectionery business and plans to continue to make the Ruby a credit to Falls City.

Mrs. H. Willis Koehler and small daughter, and her mother will go to Portland, where Mr. Koehler holds an important position with the Oregon-Portland Cement company.

Valsetz Wins First Game of Base Ball

The first game between Valsetz and Falls City was played on the Falls City grounds last Sunday, the score being 7 to 5 favoring the visiting team. A good crowd was in attendance, Valsetz being well represented.

On Sunday the 3rd, Amity will play Falls City on the Falls City grounds.

The Ladies' Art club plans to give an entertainment on May 11, sponsoring a performance by Mrs. Carle Chase, Miss Naomi Phelps and Mrs. Ethel Poling Phelps. The proceeds from this fund will be used to purchase a new stage curtain for Victory hall, so should receive the support of all.

Crews were out several days last week, slashing brush and widening the road to Valsetz to enable the county court to send in the road building equipment work on the Val-Setz-Falls City road, as previously planned.

Regular services as follows: Bible school, 10 a. m. Christian Endeav-vor, 7 to 8 p. m. Evening services, 8 p. m. Everyone cordially invited to attend these services.

Council Meets Monday, May 3
If you care to know how the city dads govern our town, just attend some of these meetings. Go down next Monday night and if you are pleased with results tell them so. They're just like the rest of us, they want to know if their efforts are being appreciated. Also if you have any suggestions, constructive suggestions rather than criticism, offer them. All residents of the community are welcome and will receive a courteous hearing.

Christian Endeavor Social

The Senior Christian Endeavorers of the Church of Christ held their regular business and social meeting in the church parlors last Friday evening. Several out of town visitors were present: Mrs. Frank Cunningham, Mr. Bern Schults, the Misses Lotta Courter and Maud Jameson of Eugene, the Misses Jessie Paul, Lois Kendall and Margaret Allen of the Monmouth Normal school.

Every one enjoyed the novel lunch of hot waffles and syrup served at the close of the evening's program.

FALLS CITY CLEAN UP WEEK PROGRAM

In response to the mayor's proclamation committees have been appointed for planning the work to be done in the new park along the Little Luckamute, and plans, while not complete as yet, call for everyone interested to be on hand on South Main street, near where Mr. Reiber lives, at 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon prepared for work. Canvas or other heavy gloves should be worn, and the following is a list of tools from which to select your favorite: bring it with you, prepared to do execution upon dead limbs of trees, evergreen blackberry briars, rubbish, and old buildings:

AX, grub hoe, brush scythe, heavy hatchet, hammer, garden rake, ladder, hay fork, light ax, and a pair of work gloves.

Mr. R. Paul will captain the crew in charge of tearing down old buildings. Mr. J. A. Reiber the crew in charge of removing dead limbs from trees; Eldon Frink, road work and hauling, as he has kindly donated the use of his team in addition to volunteering for work; Mrs. R. Paul, marking out the flowers and shrubs to be left intact; E. B. Wate widening and deepening the waterway for the small creek through this tract; Albert Teal building and caring for the fires necessary to destroy refuse, principally dead limbs. A captain will be chosen for work with rock, as rock steps are needed, especially from foot bridge down to the park level. Other volunteers will be on hand to captain the work of building rustic tables and benches.

Mrs. Raymond Criswell, who is chairman of the "cats" committee, says there will be hot coffee, cream and sugar ready for all, free of charge at 5:30, and the committee is reserving the balance of their plans as a surprise. It is urged, however, that everyone bring his own drinking cup, and that each family have sandwiches sufficient for themselves. Anything else you care to bring. This is to be an old fashioned picnic supper, eaten early enough to have daylight left for some work afterward. Those who cannot observe the entire afternoon are invited to come any time and do what they can.

A careful examination of the tract by the committee appointed by the Parent-Teachers' association discloses wonderful possibilities in this park to be. There are plenty of trees all through the tract, groups of shrubs and large beds of the wild bleeding heart, and other flowers, Oregon grape, fern, in fact the foundation for one of the most beautiful spots in the state. There is no poison oak or poison ivy on the tract. Thanks be! The old buildings belonging to the city will furnish material which can be used for the first necessary build-

FALLS CITY MAY BECOME THE MILK AND GRAIN PAUL OF LARGE SECTION

The Favorable Factors of Cheap Land, Cheap Feed, Friendly Climate and Soil Make Falls City a Natural Dairy Section—Development Waits For More People and More Capital

By EDWARD T. BARBER

The dairy cow is always found to be one of the most important factors entering into the prosperity of any community. The great dairying sections of the United States are the places where hard times have less disastrous effects than any place else.

Whole states which a few years ago were struggling under a burden of debt and discouragement, with worn out land and small crops as well as low markets, turned to dairying and are today among the most prosperous of the Union. The same transformation has taken place in hundreds of individual communities.

But such things are not the result of haphazard work. It is the result of high-powered cooperation among the entire citizenship. In a community as well organized as Falls City the development of the dairy business on a great commercial scale should be no difficult task. At least no unsurmountable difficulty should be met.

One of its great advantages is its abundance of cheap lands. Logged off lands may be purchased at very low figures and on very easy terms.

These lands especially adapt themselves to dairying and poultry. They may be used for either of these purposes without first clearing the stumps. Pasture grasses sown among the stumps will produce wonderful results and abundant pasture.

A living is assured to the family while the stumps are being cleared away.

As a side line, hog feed may be grown in the form of grain and peas which the hogs will harvest themselves, will also add to the family income, with hogs at the figure they are now and are likely to remain.

It is a sound philosophy of the successful farmer that bankruptcy states the farmer in the face who fails to convert the product of his farm into some form of concentrated product for the market.

The old time farmer planned to turn every pound of produce into fat of some kind—butter, cheese, pork, beef or mutton.

With the cheap lands about Falls City the problem of overhead cost is met in a way greatly ings, also brick for one or two "dutch ovens."

A road will be built through the tract from west to east, from Bridge street, following the line of the alley way marking the southern boundary of the tract. The plans for the regular clean up campaign call for all rubbish to be sacked or boxed and placed outside on parking, so it can be removed easily. There will be teams to do this work. Every household is requested to see that the very tin can is picked up and every other unsightly relic disposed of.

Don't forget that the government whitewash has been tried out this spring, right here at home, and it is a SUCCESS, does not rub off like the common kind, will last several years, can be tinted or used plain to match the complexion of other nearby buildings, and it is just a heap better for wood sheds, small barns, fence posts, board fences, and the like, than leaving them natural.

to his advantage. The territory about Falls City is capable of sustaining a cow and goat population sufficient to support one of the largest creameries in the state. Improved herds of dairy and milk goats are within reach of every interested farmer, so that high production herds may be secured from the start.

The average dairy cow in Oregon produces but 150 pounds of butter fat annually, which does not pay for her keep. This seems a peculiar situation when we consider the vast number of high producing herds there are in the state. But its answer is the reluctance of many men to take advantage of their opportunity.

A successful dairy depends as much upon having a pure bred dairy man in charge as it does in having pure bred dairy cows in the barn. No cow should be retained in a herd if she gives less than 300 pounds of butter fat a year, and the really profitable standard should be the 500 pound producer. She costs no more to keep.

But, getting back to Falls City as a dairy center. The situation presents itself as open for investment in both dairy herds and dairy marketing machinery in the form of creameries and cheese factories. Perhaps no better opportunity exists in the west for a live active creamery man to locate. The people are in a highly receptive mood. They will lend every possible assistance both to the creamery proposition and to the man who wishes to start a dairy ranch on the cheap lands in the vicinity.

Ten thousand cows could be handled in this territory without crowding each other in any manner.

The secret of success lies in producing a sufficient quantity of cheese or butter to command a permanent place in the market. The dealer is reluctant to build a demand for butter of a high grade which he is unable to meet at all times.

No matter how high a grade of butter is made, if it can not be produced in sufficient quantity to assure a constant supply for the demand it has created, its market is limited to a pure local affair which will fluctuate with local conditions and is easily over loaded. The big market is needed to stabilize prices and the big market can only be secured by the big, steady dependable output. This Falls City is abundantly able to produce—if she will.
