

PROTECT FORESTS IS STARR'S PLEA

Taxation and Fire Protection Held Necessary For Reforestation

C. L. Starr, Portland business man, hit high lights on forest preservation as principal speaker before the Rotary club yesterday noon at the Marion hotel.

"It is up to the Rotarians to create public sentiment, to mould public opinion against the man who sets a fire in the forest. There was a time when sympathy was with the fellow who set the woods to blazing, but that is now changed.

"The forests are important, in that the last stand of big timber is contained within the Pacific northwest. These forests are of great value as economic factors in the life of the west. They influence the water flow, the payrolls and the taxes of the community. In fact they are an economic factor that must be preserved," continued the speaker.

"In reforestation two things must be considered—taxation and fire protection.

"Grover Cleveland and Theodore Roosevelt were right when they started the idea of forest preservation and the conservation of our resources," concluded the speaker.

T. H. Kay, retiring president of the Rotary club, presided at this meeting, the last one of his regime.

COLLEGE EXPERTS ON PRUNE DAMAGE

Cut Out Devitalized Wood, Thin Trees, Drain Soils, and Fertilize Land

"Prune orchards in the vicinity of Salem show considerable damage to buds and branches, due to the combination of the dry summer of 1924 and the cold winter," according to W. S. Brown, professor of horticulture, and W. L. Powers, professor of soils, at Oregon Agricultural college, who have made an investigation. The top branches are injured and the set of fruit is very poor in many orchards. Soil borings were made and the trees were examined on several farms.

"In some cases the additional trouble of impervious subsoil makes their drainage poor and causes a high water table in winter. This causes some of the roots to decay and others to function near the surface of the soil, hence they dry out during the summer and do not send up the required amount of moisture to the top of the tree. The result is poor fruiting and wood growth.

"Under these conditions Professor Brown advises the grower to cut back all devitalized wood, thin out trees which are very dense and bushy, and drain soils that are too wet during the winter or have a high water table.

"It is also advisable to strengthen the growth of the tree by the application of fertilizer early in the spring, such as a trace of soda, and to keep under cover crops grown during the fall and winter."

College Book of Songs Available By May Day

The Willamette university official song book is due to make its appearance some time next week according to Lloyd Thompson editor and manager. This year's book will include the four freshmen knee songs of this year and the official song of the university, "I Love Willamette U."

The Willamette Song book was first published by the senior class of '14 with Herman Clark, now instructor of chemistry, at Willamette, as editor and manager. The oldest songs in the book were written by the class of '09 and the entire book, including the yearly supplements, contains a collection of about 75 songs. Practically all of the freshmen knee songs since 1914 have been preserved in this manner and the Willamette song book probably includes the largest collection of original college songs in the west.

Alumni Publication For Willamette Nearly Ready

The Willamette university alumni magazine will be published this week according to Miss Juanita Henry, editor. The copy and cuts are now complete and the proof sheets have been returned to the printing company.

Over 8000 copies will be distributed by the May Day publicity committee to the Willamette alumni and to the high school seniors of the state. The magazine has been appropriately named "On Willamette" and will contain information that is of interest regarding the work of the university.

Publication of the magazine will fill a long felt demand on the part of the alumni for a magazine that will be of general interest to them and contain information regarding the progress made by the university.

CANNERIES WILL RUN BEFORE LONG

The Salem institutions getting ready for the activities of 1925 season

The Salem canneries are getting ready for the 1925 season's run. They will all be going the last days of May or the first days of June, either on gooseberries or strawberries, or both.

None of the cannery managers here will say much about gooseberries. Some of them have contracts out for gooseberries, and will of course take them, and can them. But gooseberries of the 1924 pack have not sold as well as they might. There is a hangover, a surplus yet to be disposed of.

It is to be hoped that a way will be found to take all the gooseberries offered. The Oregon pack of gooseberries last year was 60,565 cases, the best part of all the goose berries packed in the United States; the whole number being 116,938. Michigan packed 39,440 cases, Washington 15,704 and the rest of the country 9,274.

Oregon also canned last year 407,151 cases of loganberries, Washington 208,127, California 25,918, and all other states 37 cases.

And in strawberries Oregon led all states, with 86,807 cases. Oregon was second in blackberries and third in both red and black raspberries.

In all of the above the Salem canneries did a very large part in making up the totals. The Oregon Packing company is installing the salting tanks for its pickle salting factory. This factory is to be in the building east of the Southern Pacific passenger depot that was formerly the biggest hop warehouse in this country. There is to be both a salting station and a pickle factory there, and some of the canning operations will also be in that building, for vegetables requiring special machinery.

ONE OF THE SCENES WITH THE BARNES CIRCUS

ORIENTAL SCENES FEATURE CIRCUS

Al G. Barnes Show Is Dated to Play in Salem on Thursday, May 7

"There's a Burma girl a-waiting, an 'I know she thinks of me,' one is likely to quote from Rudyard Kipling, when the Burmese 'rapid transit rolling stock' with the Al G. Barnes big four ring circus comes to Salem Thursday, May 7.

This unit of the Al G. Barnes great wild animal circus represents a part of the 2000 educated wild animals and 1080 performers and actors, including three tribes of Indians—Washoes, Escondidoes and Spenches, who will play an important part in the sensational circus feature, "Ponahontas at the court of Queen Anne," the colossal fantastic extravaganza that opens the big program.

More than 500 pretty girls from sun-kissed California, many of whom have appeared in some of the latest motion-picture productions of this year, will also be included in the cast of chorus and ballet girls.

Weinstein Will Open New Army Goods Store Friday

"Salem's Leading Army Store" has been established here by James Weinstein at 273 North Commercial with a full line of furnishings for the camper, farmer and worker. Mr. Weinstein, who has been seeking an opening in this city for some time, expresses much confidence in the development of the city. "I have always wanted to come here and when this opportunity was presented, I accepted it," he declared.

Weinstein, formerly manager and buyer of the Chain army stores, has retained his connection with his former firm in buying goods. This advantage he plans to give to the customer in extraordinary buys of merchandise. A formal opening of the Blue Fronted store is scheduled for Friday morning and will be announced by a large advertisement in The Statesman.

Monmouth Bakery Bought By Two Salem Residents

The Monmouth bakery of Monmouth, Or., has been taken over by two local men, Willis Phelps and Joseph Haussler, who will take charge Monday morning. The bakery is equipped with modern machinery and was closed by order of the sheriff.

Phelps and Haussler are experienced bakers and pastry workers, having had considerable experience in the northwest. Before entering business for themselves they were with the Dixie Bakery here.

The Monmouth bakery will be re-named and a new business policy outlined. Specialty baking will be featured.

Read the classified ads in The Statesman. Something of everything is either wanted or is for sale.
