PHOTOGRAPHIC ART SETS NEW IDEALS
Portrait Photography At its Highest in Movies, Used in Kennell-Ellis Studios

The "Thief of Bagdad," recently shown in Salem, demonstrated the wonderful and almost magical development of the art of photography. The moving picture business has revolutionized and elevated photography to a position scarcely within the dreams of the old time photographers.

Mr. Kennell, of the Kennell-Ellis studio, 429, Oregon building, has had years of training in the new features of portrait photography, and samples of his work demonstrate to the most casual observer the new and valuable features put into the work of this studio.

Coming to Salem less than a year ago, this firm has built a business on its short record of which not only its owners but the entire city may well be proud, for every successful business in a city is a real asset to every other business. It develops the spirit of success in the public mind until even the laggards and misanthropes cease their grieving over community delinquencies and either keep still, or boost for the successful enterprise such as the Kennell-Ellis studio.

BRING YOUR MOTOR TROUBLES TO TODD
Franklin's Kite String Leads to Todds Electric Motor Shop in Masonic Bldg.

The lightning which struck Franklin's kite opened the door to a wider field of human activity than any other ever discharged from the sky. True it required many years for it to arouse the scientific world to a point of contact with the mechanical and industrial world as we know it today in our enormous hydro-electric plants and the many other forms of electrical energy which we harness to the car of progress. Motors, generators and all other forms of electrical harness are multiplying daily and their care, repair and installation demand the highest type of skill.

Todds Electric Motor Shop, Geo. H. Todd proprietor located in the basement of the Masonic building, supplies that skill to Salem and vicinity. Mr. Todd received his training in the Armour Institute, Chicago. Bring your sick motors and electrical machinery to him and you will not be disappointed in results, and will be delighted at the money saved. He is agent for U. S. Wagner and Century motors and specializes in installing motors for industrial plants.

May Store Helium Gas In Foreign Countries

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The bureau of mines, under an act passed late in the last congress, will take over from the navy about July 1 the production of helium, the gas used in inflating the giant dirigibles Los Angeles and Shenandoah. This transfer is not expected by Dr. S. C. Lind, chief chemist of the bureau, to involve any marked change of policy. No appreciable quantity of helium is being exported now, and the new law provides that export applications must be made to the secretary of the interior and permission obtained from the president, on the joint recommendation of the secretaries of war, navy and interior. This provision was put into law to permit future

American trans-oceanic air lines to have a supply of helium on hand at their foreign terminals. Officials of the bureau are careful to point out that the new bar against helium exportation will not militate against foreign scientists who desire a small quantity of the gas for their laboratories.
