

EXCELLENT FIGHT PROGRAM ARRANGED FOR BOUTS AT ARMORY ON MAY 8

SPOKANE LAD MEETS LEWIS

Spec Woods, Northwest Welterweight, and Indian Are Head-Liners

Of more than usual interest to the old-time fight fans is the program arranged for May 8, by Matchmaker Harry Plant, who has lined up Spec Woods, Spokane northwest welterweight who has been fighting up and down the coast for the last 10 years, and Frankie Lewis, of Salem, in the main 10-round event. In the semi-finals Slow York, Eugene, will meet Harold Reese, Portland in a fast 6-round event. Both fight at 140 pounds. There will be two snappy preliminaries.

Woods has met a whole flock of nifty mitt wielders during his ring history. These include Gene Cline, Chick Roach, Hank Roberts, Harry Simone, George Eagles and many others. After fighting in the northwest for a number of years, Woods went to California, from which state he recently returned.

According to fight fans, Woods is the kind of a fighter that likes to stand toe-to-toe with his opponent and exchange blows at short range. Dancing around the ring is not in his line and when he enters the roped-off arena he gets right down to business. He is also able to withstand a severe mauling and anyone who has seen the Indian lad in the ring knows that he deals out no love taps but some good stiff jolts.

"The air yesterday was good, and last night was particularly smooth, making it very easy to fly at an even rate. Today, however, there was a wind and the air was rough and bumpy. This is the third flight the PN-9 has made in endurance tests. GOLF COURSE NOW IN FINE CONDITION

Many New Faces Seen at Club House; Sharkey Gives Cigars to Friends

With the grass greener and the rougher the Ilthee Country club golf course looks finer than it has in the past few years. During the past few weeks the club has had the privilege of watching a number of new golfers start their instruction, namely Judge Brazier Small, District Attorney John Carson, Vic MacKenzie, Mrs. Small, Mrs. Garjohst, and Mr. and Mrs. Scoshberg.

It is regrettable that the Albany team was not allowed to come this week-end for the course and the opposing local team will never be any better, according to G. P. Sharkey, professional. The course is in fine shape and is not like a home-made haircut, as referred to last week by a local golfer.
