THE ANNOUNCEMENT of the engagement of Miss Mildred Apperson of McMinnville, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Apperson, to Mr. Charles G. Robertson, the only son of Dr. and Mrs. Charles H. Robertson of this city, is of wide interest to a host of Salem friends. Both Miss Apperson and Mr. Robertson are members of leading families in the valley.

The date of the wedding, which will be an event of Tuesday evening, June 16, at the Apperson home in McMinnville, was formally made known at the 1 o'clock luncheon on Saturday at which Mrs. E. C. Apperson was the hostess for her daughter. Covers at the table, lovely in all its appointments were placed for twenty, including a number of out of town guests. Mrs. C. H. Robertson and Mrs. Homer Gouley of Salem motored over for the event. Among those attending from Portland were: Mrs. Hugh Williamson, Mrs. Tom Anders, and Mrs. J. E. Herrington. The entire room was a Maytime bower of flowers with blossoms in the pink tones predominating. Both Miss Apperson and Mr. Robertson are graduates of the University of Oregon where they were prominent in campus affairs.

Miss Apperson will be the inspiration for a number of delightful pre-nuptial events in the weeks preceding her marriage. On May 9, Mrs. J. E. Herrington will entertain in Portland at a formal luncheon, while Mrs. Homer Gouley's tea on Saturday, May 23, promises to be one of the outstanding social events of the season. Other hostesses are planning afternoons for the pleasure of Miss Apperson.

Dr. and Mrs. Grover C. Bellinger and son, Grover Lee, and daughter, Laneta, and Professor and Mrs. Morton E. Peck motored to Corvallis to spend Sunday.

Miss Parker of New York, who is chairman of the Inter-denominational Federation of Women for Home Missions in North America, will be one of Salem's most interesting visitors of the season when she comes to this city on Thursday in the interest of the migrant movement in the Willamette valley. Miss Parker will speak to all interested women of the local churches at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the First Methodist church.

The interested public is invited to attend a delightful violin musicale announced for tomorrow evening when Mary Talmadge Hedrick will present a group of her pupils in recital in the Derby studio.

Those who will participate are: Lena Medler, Paul Brown, Nina Logan, Lois Hockett, James Darby, Gladys Medler, Dorothy Bjork, and Frances Shrode.

Mrs. Louis Lachmund has issued cards for one of the largest formal teas of the season when she will entertain tomorrow from 3 to 5 o'clock at the Lachmund home, 925 Court street, for Mrs. George E. Dorcas who has recently come to Salem from Sacramento to make her home.

Chapter G of the PEO sisterhood will meet on Thursday at the home of Mrs. A. T. Woodport, 1197 S. High street.

Brigadier General and Mrs. George A. White entertained as their house guest on Saturday, Colonel Edgar A. Sirmeyer of San Francisco.

On Sunday house guests at the White home were Mrs. B. M. Fletcher and Mr. O. E. Fletcher of Portland, Mrs. White's mother and brother.

The War Mothers will meet this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

One of the largest affairs of last week was the reception held at the First Christian church to all the missionary societies of the city. About three hundred women attended. Mrs. J. C. Perry, Mrs. D. B. Simpson and Mrs. John Humphreys acted in Chinese costume received the guests at the door. Mrs. F. A. Elliot presided at the meeting and Mrs. Wilson gave the devotional. Mrs. Harry Styles sang "The Publican" in a most beautiful manner, with Mrs. Frank Zinn at the organ. Dean Ava Milam of OAC lectured on China. Miss Milam helped to establish the School of Home Economics at Shanghai. Miss Milam's talk along an entirely different line from most of the missionaries. She spoke of the betterment of the Chinese home life and the educational work that must be done to accomplish this.

The auditorium of the First Christian church was beautifully decorated in pink peonies and Chinese curios. In the tea room elaborate bouquets of iris, purple lilacs and aprons supplemented with gay Chinese pennants and lanterns gave the room a very oriental appearance. Tea and imported rice wafers were served by the women of the First Christian church. Mrs. Taylor S. Jones and Mrs. Josephine Muzzy poured and they were assisted in the serving by Mrs. E. C. Case, Mrs. Grant Metz, Mrs. Harley White and Mrs. R. L. Hart.

At a lovely May Day wedding, taking place on Friday evening at 7 o'clock, Miss Gladys Stevenson, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stevenson of 1620 South High street, became the bride of Mr. Glenn Gregg, son of C. R. Gregg, Reverend E. H. Shanks, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiated, using the impressive ring service. An improvised floral altar of pink and white flowers and greenery transformed the entire end of the room into a May Day bower. Immediately preceding the ceremony Miss Grace Pawk sang "Because." Miss Ruth Bedford played Mendelssohn's "Wedding March," as the bride proceeded to the altar on the arm of her father who gave her in marriage. The bride, who was attended by her sister, Miss Evelyn Stevenson of Sacramento, Cal., was lively in an exquisitely fashioned wedding gown of imported lace over silver cloth, worn with full length veil of flowing tulle and a wreath of orange blossoms. Her shower bouquet was of bride's roses and pink sweet peas with streamers of satin ribbon. Miss Evelyn Stevenson, as maid of honor, wore a frock of Nile green georgette and silver lace. Her bouquet was of Cecil Brunner roses and sweet peas.

Mr. Lloyd Gregg, a brother of the groom, acted as best man. Immediately following the congratulations the Schubert Octette sang "Thank God for a Garden." And later, preceding the informal reception, Mr. Claude Stevenson, a brother of the bride, sang "Oh, Promise Me." Miss Ruth Bedford played appropriate bridal music as the ceremony was performed, and during the reception.

A profusion of spring flowers in pastel shades were used in baskets on the beautifully appointed reception table where Mrs. William Hamilton cut the ices and Miss Hilda Amsler poured. Those assisting in the rooms, wearing evening gowns of blending pastel shades, were: Miss Helen Gregg, Miss Ruth Reed, Miss Bertha Vick, Miss Eva Roberts, Miss Salome Socolofsky, Miss Annie Stevenson, and Miss Myra Gleason. A group of 50 relatives and close friends were invited to witness the ceremony. Many lovely gifts, received by the young couple were on display during the evening. Numerous attractive social affairs were given during the weeks preceding the wedding in Miss Stevenson's honor.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Gregg are well-known in Salem where they are esteemed by many friends. Miss Stevenson, prominent in musical groups, is a member of the Schubert Octette. Mr. Gregg, who is associated in the Miltland Bakery with his brother, Earl Gregg, is a member of the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity at the Oregon Agricultural college.

Following a two weeks' motor trip to British Columbia, Mr. and Mrs. Gregg will make their home at 931 Mill street.

Chadwick chapter of the Eastern Star will hold an unusually interesting meeting this evening when the matrons of 1924 of Portland will motor down to put on an exhibition of chapter work according to the manner in which the initiation ceremonies were carried out fifty years ago. The twenty-six members of the team will wear costumes appropriate to the period they are representing.

At 6 o'clock the Portland guests will be honored with a dinner party at the Spa at which the hosts will be: Mrs. W. P. Babcock, Miss Lella Johnson, and Mr. Ralph Thompson.

CONFERENCE IS HELD THIS WEEK
Congregationalists of State Hold 77th Annual Meeting at Oregon City

Congregationalists of the state will hold a three-day conference at Oregon City beginning today. This will be the 77th annual meeting. Hundreds of delegates are expected while prominent church men from all of the Pacific coast states will attend. Dr. Leyton Richards of Birmingham, England, leading English pacifist who spoke in Salem Saturday night, will be the principal speaker. Dr. Frank E. Brown, moderator for the conference, will respond to the address of welcome by Ralph Shepherd, president of the Oregon City Chamber of Commerce. The conference sermon will be given by Rev. Clement G. Clark of Portland, with Dr. C. E. Burton of New York speaking Wednesday night.

Proposed changes in the missionary organization of the church will be taken up while Wednesday morning's program will be devoted to religious education, church schools and missionary education. Subjects of Christian essentials, significance of the ministry and woman's boards, will be discussed Thursday. A fellowship banquet will close the session.

New Trial for Hijacker Is not to be Demanded

SEATTLE, May 4.—Oscar L. Redden, former Seattle policeman who was convicted with three others of murdering Louis Raul in a highjacking on Barel's ranch near Coalfield, June 2, will serve his life sentence at the state prison at Walla Walla without seeking a new trial, his attorney, R. A. Horr, announced today. "Under the circumstances and evidence Redden told me he is 'tickled to death' to let things stand as they are," Horr said. "He wouldn't take a new trial if they gave it to him."

A motion for a new trial is to be filed for the three other convicted defendants, Joseph H. Burt, Harry Landaker and Chester R. Rothermel.

TWO YOUTHS FACE CHARGE IN COURT
Independence Pair Arrested for Being Drunk After Auto Is Wrecked

Charles Stalnaker and H. L. Dickenson, Independence youths were arrested for drunkenness after an automobile accident on the Wallace road. Stalnaker was arrested in a local rooming house, where he had been taken following the accident. He was badly bruised. Dickenson was arrested on North Commercial street, when attention had been called to him by his torn clothing. He was on his way to secure a taxicab to take him to Independence.

Stalnaker put up $20 as bail and was released from the city jail. His companion is being held for the Polk county officials. The accident is said to have occurred when Glenn C. Nash, 290 South Fourteenth, Salem, was driving his car up a steep hill on the Wallace road, and met the drunken pair driving on the wrong side of the road. He endeavored to avoid hitting them, but was unable to do so. Both cars were considerably damaged.

Prune Crop in Lane County Said to be Extremely Short

EUGENE, Or., May 4.—Lane county's prune crop will be but 10 per cent of normal this year because of the exceptionally cold weather last winter, according to M. H. Harlow, president of the Eugene Fruit Growers' association, one of the largest cooperative canning and evaporating establishments in the northwest. He also looks for a very light cherry crop, with most of the fruit on the upper branches. Lower limbs were almost shorn off by the cold spell he declares.
