AN OUTSTANDING meeting of the Salem Woman's club will be held at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the club house when not only reports of present officers and committees will be given but also officers elected and installed for the new year. An especially large attendance is expected for the closing meeting of the season.

The First Congregational church Missionary society will meet this afternoon at the home of Mrs. F. D. Kibbe, 695 South Commercial street. Entertaining with Mrs. Kibbe will be Mrs. H. G. Clark, Mrs. Edwin M. Hoffnell, Mrs. W. H. East, Mrs. Kenneth Bayne and Miss Leora Morris.

Mrs. T. S. MacKenzie will have charge of the afternoon devotional while special musical numbers will be given by Mrs. Charles Maxwell, who will also tell of the social service work her daughter is carrying out in Cincinnati. Miss Edith Hazard will read a paper on "The Negroes in the United States," while Mrs. W. D. Clarke, the program chairman, has arranged additional numbers by Mrs. G. L. Newton.

Members of the Three Link club will meet this afternoon in IOOF hall for an interesting meeting. The hostesses will be Mrs. Cora McNeil, Mrs. Edith McElroy, Mrs. Grace Madison, Mrs. Louisa Loveland and Mrs. Camilla Lott.

An interesting benefit entertainment will be held this evening in St. Paul's parish house when the young people will present two plays, "Is Your Name Smith?" and "Ain't Women Wonderful?" Those participating will be Miss Mildred Goin, Miss Helen Kafoury, Miss Gladys Steele, Miss Alleen Beatty, Miss Queenie Dollis, Miss Queenie Winlock, Miss Sarah Beach, Miss Milo Chambers, Edward Stewart, Edward Neimeyer, Leon Nelson and Winston Williams.

Mrs. Earl Flegel of Honolulu and little son, Earl Junior, Mrs. H. H. Ollinger, Mrs. George G. Brown, Mrs. R. E. Lee Steiner, Mrs. Milton Meyers and little Marylee Fry made up a party motoring to Harrisburg Wednesday, where they were guests of Mrs. Lloyd Schisler.

The Book and Thimble club met at the home of Mrs. C. R. Schwartz on April 30. The following members were present: Mrs. C. I. Adams, Mrs. F. H. Bentley, Mrs. E. Pattison, Mrs. L. F. Brown, Mrs. George Trott, Mrs. Mary Beaver, Mrs. E. A. Manning and the hostess. Special guests were Mrs. James Best, Mrs. L. L. Cannoy, Mrs. Robert Adams and little children. The rooms were bright with California poppies.

During the study hour Mrs. Pattison read an article from The Literary Digest on "Americanizing the Japanese Cherry." Mrs. Trott gave the article, "What Life Has Taught Me," by E. W. Howe. Mrs. Manning assisted the hostess in serving a delicious luncheon.

The next meeting of the club will be held May 14 at Mrs. C. I. Adams.

Mrs. George A. White will be a guest over the weekend of her daughter, Miss Henrietta White, for Mother's day week-end at the Oregon Agricultural college.

The pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Welch was the scene on Wednesday, May 6, of a very delightful meeting of the Four M club of Macleay.

Mrs. Welch and Mrs. Frank Bath were joint hostesses. The home was beautifully decorated with tulips, forget-me-nots and great sheafs of beautiful golden French bloom.

A bountiful dinner was served at noon, of which about 45 friends and club members partook. The table was centered with large crystal bowls filled with forget-me-nots.

The meeting was then called to order by the president, Mrs. Harry Martin. A very interesting program was then rendered in which each member responded. Those who enjoyed the day as guests were Mr. William Farr, Mr. T. S. Mackenzie, Mr. J. Teckenburg, Mr. E. L. Welch, Mrs. Reid, Mrs. Patterson, Mr. J. U. Plank, Mr. Park, Mrs. Rickl and Misses Elsie, Anona and Elizabeth Welch.

Plans for the Willamette university May day dances are unusually interesting for this afternoon. The May pole dance this year will be unusual in that boys as well as girls will take part. The boys chosen all have dark hair and will wear attractive pantelettes and large sashes or ties. The girls have all been chosen with light hair so that a very attractive combination will be secured. An old minuet step will be used. In the other dances the four seasons will be interpreted—Spring, Autumn, Summer and Winter.

The autumn leaves personified by a number of young women, will come upon the lawn. Some asters will follow the leaves. Then the North wind, in the person of Mildred Herwig, will come in and blow the leaves among the asters. "Winter" will appear next and will cover the leaves and asters with snow flakes.

Spring, in the person of Lois Moorhead, will burst upon the scene and will be followed by a number of attractive spring beauties. Summer will follow Spring with Poppies, Forget-me-nots and Roses.

The selection of the dancers and dances have been made by the May queen, Lucia Card, and her two maids of honor.

"The Green-Eyed Monster's Touch," given by St. Joseph's Dramatic club in the auditorium last week was so well received that it will be repeated next Wednesday evening at the same place at 8:30 o'clock. The staging and lighting effects were excellent, the cast perfect, and the lines given in a spirited and natural way. The play abounds in comical situations and the dialogue is comical and full of wit. A large audience was present, and it is expected a still larger one will greet it on Wednesday evening.

Nine members of the Silver Bell circle, Neighbors of Woodcraft, were guests on Wednesday evening of the Maple circle in Amity. The following were in the group: Stella Blackerby, Mrs. C. E. Shaw, Mrs. Frank Turner, Mrs. O. L. Scott, Mrs. S. C. Kightlinger, Mrs. T. W. Davies, Mrs. L. S. Springer, Mrs. Otto Zwicker, and Mrs. A. L. Dake.

The people of Salem are cordially invited to attend the presentation of Hiawatha's Feast with the music by Coleridge Taylor, on Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock in Waller Hall on the Willamette University campus. A chorus of 100 voices will appear at this time, directed by Professor E. W. Hobson, director of the school of music.

The beautiful solo, "On Away, Awake Beloved," will be sung by Mr. A. A. Schramm of Corvallis, who is well-known to all Salem music lovers. Mr. Schramm has an enviable tenor voice.

The accompaniment will be played by Miss Louise Findley, a student of the Willamette school of music.

Mr. Miller Chapman will also appear playing a violin solo "Romance San Paroles" by Wincesky.

Mr. Chapman is a very talented violinist of marked ability and will add much to the success of the evening and of the May Day Festivities of Willamette University and Music Week. Miss Jean Hobson is accompanist for Mr. Chapman.

The Salem Floral society will hold an interesting meeting this evening in the Chamber of Commerce rooms. Miss Edith Hazard will speak in an informal manner on flowering shrubs. Miss Hazard will illustrate her talk with more than fifty specimens from the garden. Special musical features will be given by Miss Gladys Raffety. There are business matters to come up at this time of especial importance.

"Women, the Creator" is to be the theme of Mothers' week-end on the campus of Oregon Agricultural College May 9. Approximately one thousand college young women will entertain their mothers Saturday at a luncheon and banquet in the college tea room, when the creative sphere of woman's life will be stressed.

The "artists" will be represented by Mrs. H. C. Wortman of Portland. Mrs. Florence Holmes Gerke, landscape gardener of Portland, will discuss art in daily life. Anne Shannon Monroe, Grace E. Hall and Mabel Arundel Harris, noted Oregon writers and poets, will represent those two spheres of woman's life. Mrs. Lillian Jeffreys Petri, head of the department of piano and theory at the college, is to represent the musician, and Mrs. W. S. Kinney, regent, the statesman. Mrs. E. B. Lemon will talk on "The Mothers."

The musical program is to be particularly pleasing and delightful. Mrs. Jeannette Boyer Kanten

Millerettes

In looking over the stocks of merchandise at Miller's I was impressed with the thoroughness in which they were arranged. Dominant features of each department were the "Nationals" or merchandise with national or world wide reputation for quality, etc. Most people prefer to buy such qualities, for who would think of buying a car, a phonograph, a washing machine of a nameless variety? It is their assurance of guaranteed service, and that such merchandise carries a known quality that cannot be substandardized or reduced for "price argument."

I over heard a customer say that 98c as a selling price did not mean anything to her so long as the article in question was of unknown origin. What food for thought! Of course she was right. How can one determine quality of the nameless variety unless they are skilled in that particular field? —The "Store of Good Store Keepers" will, in the future, as in the past, feature "Nationals" and from time to time I'll show you the labels to prove my point.
