HEENAN'S HOMER CLINCHES GAME

Newberg High Defeated By Salem at Oxford Park By Score of 6 to 3

A well played and interesting baseball game on the Oxford Park diamond Tuesday left the Newberg high school the small end of 6 to 3 score with the Salem high school. In the second inning Newberg put a ru across the plate and had the lead up to the sixth inning. The Red and Black team made a score and in the seventh inning the game stood even.

A licky turn, however, in the eighth, with two hits, and a walk by Fabrey, Heenan knocked the pill across the back fence and brought in four runs, making the sensation of the game.

Ellis and Kelley acted as battery for the Salem team, while Richardson and Switzer wored for the Newberg team.

Few errors and many hits were made in the game.

Friday the Salem players will travel to Silverton to play and on Saturday they will meet the Corvallis team here.

RELEGATION OF ARMS DISCUSSED

the announcement that the United States was willing to join in a convention which would compel all producing states to publish statistics regarding armaments. At first the full significance of the announcement did not reach the members of the tonference but when they appreciated its importance they broke out in spontaneous applause. Many delegates tonight characterized the American offer as a great moral impetus to world disarmament. Some interpreted it as a move towards the goal of control of the private manufacture of arms which many countries and especially France want to see established as an accompaniment of control of the traffic in arms.

M. Matsuda, Japan, told the conference that he agreed with M. Boncour, France, that supervision of private manufacture should really come before control of traffic, because that was the real way of hitting at the armament evil. French spokesmen lauded the American pronouncement and said they saw no reason why a resolution could not be attached to convention embodying the American proposal both as to prohibition of the exportation of poison gas and publicity as to the home manufacture of arms.

VETERAN NAVY OFFICER TO SAIL ALONE FROM VANCOUVER TO ENGLAND IN LITTLE TWENTY-FIVE-FOOTSLOOP

Commander Eustace B. Maude, retired British navy officer, is shown above with his 25-foot sloop-type craft Half Moon, in which he is to sail from Vancouver, British Columbia, to England via the Panama Canal. The only companion of this veteran, who is now 77 years old, will be a copy of Shakespeare's works. He expects to reach Panama in 60 days and England two months later. His vessel is provisioned for 100 days, with 50 gallons of fresh water and 50 gallons of gasoline. The Half Moon is equipped with a little 5 horse-power motor but Commander Maude will attempt to make the entire voyage under sail.

OVER A MILLION BEES, EGGS SENT

Large Shipment Goes to Dan Carew, Honey Dealer Near Mill City

H. M. Mead, the Polk county bee king, passed through Salem last night with two-thirds of a million bees and a like number of bee eggs, and 70 queens, on their way to Mill City.

There were 70 hives, contained in two automobiles, and in each hive were 10,000 bees and 10,000 bee eggs, and in each of the hives a queen.

They go by night when they can be taken with safety.

These are part of an order of 100 hives, going to Dan Carew of Mill City. There will be 30 more hives, to be delivered later.

Mr. Carew had already 50 hives of bees, and he expects to have 20 tons of surplus honey this year, which he has contracted to Mr. Mead.

Mr. Mead is now booked to capacity for this season, for both bees and queens. He has filled or is to fill orders for 400 queens this year.

He has now 100 stands of bees in his home apiary. He will double the number for next year, and he will be in condition to supply four times the output of bees and queens of the present year.

This is an industry that will be worth a great deal to this section. It is one of the most interesting and fascinating of all industries.

MOVIE TRUST IS FLAYED AT MEET

National Exhibitors Convention Denounces Combine in Strong Terms

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 12.—First blood in the war on the so-called film trust was drawn at the opening session of the Motion Picture Theater Owners of America today when exhibitors from all parts of the country gave assurance that they would hold in abeyance the making of picture contracts for the ensuing season pending the proposed alignment with independent producers.

Exhorted to hold onto their play dates as the weapons with which to fight the "big three," the exhibitors answered in a chorus of ayes and prepared to take action on a definite plan of "offensive defense," to be submitted to them tomorrow afternoon.

The "film" trust was generally flayed by speakers and every attacking phase brought approving response from the audience.

Gathering somewhat later than the scheduled opening time, the delegates made up for tardiness with enthusiasm. The president's address given by M. J. O'Toole followed and brought out the following:

Opposition to motion picture censorship against which the speaker declared the press must join with "visual newspaper."

An attack on the free show plan being developed in the northwest.

Opposition to carnivals as not only detrimental to the motion picture business but as responsible for bringing into communities a "lot of undesirables."

A plea for revocation of Sunday blue laws and the reopening of Sunday shows in districts where they now are barred.

An attack on "the private monopoly which now seeks a stranglehold on us."

REYNOLDS RE-ELECTED

Lloyd T. Reynolds was re-elected president of the Produce Co-operative Canning & Packing company and Frank Gibson renamed as secretary-treasurer of the organization at a meeting this week. Five directors elected are: Loyd T. Reynolds, R. D. Gibson, F. L. Scott, A. R. Southwick and William Zosel. Southwick was re-elected vice president. A talk on cooperation was given by C. J. Hurd of OAC.

BETTER HOMES

We'd better home at home this week,
And make our BETTER HOMES WEEK speak;
We'd better all spruce up a bit—
'Twill make a BETTER HOMES WEEK hit;
Our heart-and-hearth lights, let them shine
For BETTER HOMES—your home and mine;
(For homes, though human, are divine.)

By "drive for BETTER HOMES" is meant
A lure to normalcy—content—
More of rest and less upheaval;
Better morals; less of evil;
More of fresh air, sunshine, health—
Man's greatest asset, joy, wealth.

So while this is but feeble start
Upon the subject next our heart,
Of BETTER HOMES WEEK set apart,
There surely can be no delusion
About the comfort in conclusion
Of this, my "BETTER HOMES" effusion:—

So let this motto be our goal,
(And each one start the ball a-roll)
HAVE BETTER HOMES, from Pole to Pole;
They're altar for the whole world's soul!

—EDNA GARFIELD.

DIRECTORS OPEN BIDS FOR YMCA

Wechter & Hughes, Salem, Are Lowest of 19 With Bid of $89,320

The board of directors considered the contractors' bids for construction of the new Salem YMCA building yesterday, but did not select the successful bidder. Action was deferred until a later date.

Wechter & Hughes of Salem made a bid of $89,320, the lowest of 19 bidders for the general construction, exclusive of plumbing, heating and wiring.

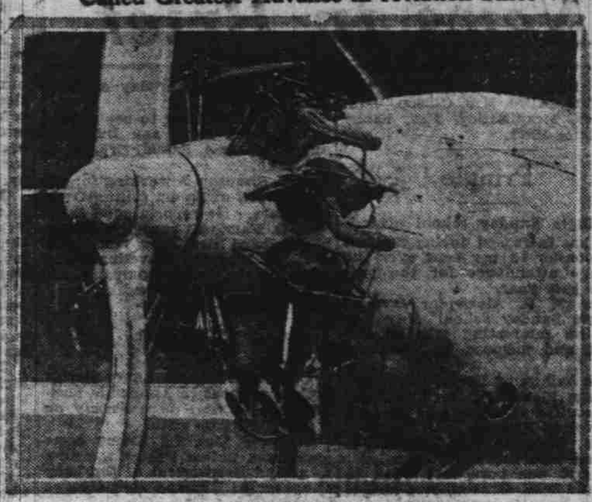
Sturgis & Sturgis of Portland entered the lowest bid for heating, their bid being $16,625. T. M. Barr, local plumber, entered a bid of $18,309. Sturgis & Sturgis also entered the lowest bid for plumbing, quoting a price of $5,330, which was lower than the bid sumbitted by Joe Bernardi, local plumber.

The Morrison Electric company of Portland gave a bid of $2595 for the wiring, while the Salem Electric company bid $2697.90.

Actual construction will start on the building after the letting of the contracts.

Boost for the linen mill. It will bring prosperity to Salem and to the entire Willamette valley.

New Air-Cooled Motor Developed for U. S. Navy Called Greatest Advance in Aviation Since We



The Cyclone or P-1 type of motor, developed exclusively for the Bureau of Aeronautics of the Navy Department, was photographed at the Naval Air Station at Anacostia, D. C., where it was to be tried out officially. It is a radial motor of nine cylinders developing 450 horse-power and resembles the rotary motors usdd in pursuit planes during the war. The cylinders differ from those of the rotary motors in not revolving with the propeller, have a 6-inch bore and a 6½ inch stroke. It is expected that this motor will play an important part in the commercialization of aviation for both passenger and freight transportation.

PIONEER CALLED

Mrs. Caroline Dunlap Laid to Rest in Portland Tuesday

Funeral services were held in Portland Tuesday for Mrs. Caroline Dunlap, 85, an old time resident of Salem. She crossed the plains with her parents, Colonel and Mrs. William Cook, in 1853, from New Lisbon, Ohio, where she was born in 1840. Upon leaving Salem the family located in Tacoma.

Mrs. Dunlap established the first kindergarten in Portland in 1882 upon returning from a visit in California. While in Portland she was actively connected with the womens' club and at one time held an important office in the organization.

May Discontinue Pack—

The pack of black cherries will be discontinued except in the case of necessity, because of exclusive wasteage, according to Bert Fanning, manager of the Oregon Fruit Selling company in a report to the Producers Packing & Canning company at the stockholder's meeting. Last year's pack was a total loss from pinholing and leakage and the handling of the pack was unsatisfactory. Fanning stated that the trade in gooseberries would come back, but whether large enough to care for the increased tonnage, it is not known. Fanning also reported on strawberries, loganberries, black raspberries, pears, and the prunes.

IN Yolanda

More than 5,000 actors, including 65 principals, appear in "Yolanda."

The picture was 10 months in the making at a cost of more than $2,000,000. This represents an expenditure of approximately $8,300 a day or $1,000 an hour for an eight-hour day. But even such an expenditure was merely incidental to the fact that master minds and a wealth of dramatic talent made "Yolanda," "The Picture of the Country."
