LARGE INTEREST is attending the Apollo club concert this evening at the Armory under the direction of Dr. John R. Sites. This being the second concert of the evening, an interesting period of preparation has taken place with the result that the club is one of Salem's favorite singing groups.

The club will be splendidly assisted by Genevieve Howard, dramatic soprano. Additional feature numbers will be those by the Apollo Four, and by the club accompanist, Bryon D. Arnold.

The program of the evening is announced as follows:

(a) The Pilot. Protheroe; (b) My Love is as Fair as the Blossom, Osgood. (Welsh folk song; Apollo club.

Aria, One Fine Day, from "Madam Butterfly," Puccini; Genevieve Howard.

On the Road to Mandalay. Speaks: Albert Gille and Apollo club.

(a) Sweet and Low. Johnson; (b) The Elf Man. Gibson; the Apollo Four.

(a) Where the Wild Thyme Blows, Barrett; (b) Russian Boat Song, Krehbell; Apollo club.

Hungarian Rhapsody, No. 11. Liszt; Byron Arnold.

(a) Tea, Yeats, Massenet; (b) Through Azure Blue, Logan; (c) The Winds in the South, Scott; Genevieve Howard.

(a) The Skylark, Waltz Song, Harker; (b) Assortments, Jenks; Apollo club.

(a) My Home in Oregon, Hansen, poem and music by member of Apollo Four; (b) Close Harmony, O'Hara; the Apollo Four.

(a) Bendemeer's Stream (Old Irish Melody) Lewis; (b) Waitin' for the Moon to Shine, Hastings; Lyman McDonald and Apollo club.

America, audience and Apollo club.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Hodge left yesterday morning by motor for Eatonville, Washington, where they will be guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Todd.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brassfield and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Brassfield of Berkeley, California, are visiting at the home of Mrs. E. C. Small. They arrived last night by motor and will stay a week in the city. They are former Salem residents, and their many friends will welcome their visit with pleasure.

The Salem club of the Daughters of the Nile will meet today at the home of Mrs. Walter F. Buckner, 1310 Court street.

One of the week's most interesting dramatic events will be the K. O. club play, "Safety First," which will be presented at the Salem High school auditorium on Friday, May 22. The play, a three-act comedy farce, is being coached by Miss Lelia Johnson.

Vernon Perry as Montgomery will be leading man while Ezra Webb as Virginia Bridger will be "leading lady." Jack Minto and Clarence Hamilton will carry additional parts.

The Kensington club will meet on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. N. C. Kafoury, 750 N. Summer street.

Probably the greatest tribute ever paid to Gilbert and Sullivan by celebrities of the American stage took place last week at the 44th Street Theatre in conjunction with the Messrs. Shubert's revival of "The Mikado" when over 100 prominent players paid homage to the memory of the famous collaborators. The event marked the celebration of the eighty-third anniversary of Sir Arthur Sullivan's birth and the Golden Jubilee year of Gilbert and Sullivan.

On Friday, June 5, the advanced chorus of the Salem High school under the direction of Miss Lena Belle Tartar will present "The Mikado" in the high school auditorium.

Members of the Salem chapter of War Mothers have been invited to be guests on Thursday in Albany of the chapter there.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Elliott have gone to Klamath Falls. They plan to be absent for a week.

Mrs. Charles H. Carey of Portland was the guest Tuesday of Mrs. G. E. Terwilliger.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Keena assisted by their daughter, Miss LaVelle Keene, were dinner hosts at their home Sunday to the following guests: Mrs. Elizabeth Estes, Mrs. Minnie Cox, Mrs. Kathryn Mulchay, Miss Epale Cox, Misses Ruth and May Mulchay and James Mulchay all of Portland and Mrs. J. P. Munkers of Scio.

The honor guest, Mrs. Estes, is an aunt of Mrs. Keene and a pioneer of Oregon having crossed the plains in '46. In spite of her 80 years she still enjoys the ride from Portland and over Salem. Other guests calling to see

Genevieve Howard

SALEM'S APOLLO CLUB, now assisting talent. A great deal of experience and hard study since her former days in this city have served to add lustre, volume and expression to the voice of this singer. Charm and personality are added gifts with which she will please her audience.

The Apollo Four, dispensers of such sweet harmony as only a good male quartet can produce, will be on the program for several favorite selections. There will be solo parts for members of the club and Byron Arnold, official accompanist and an accomplished pianist, will be heard in solo numbers.

Genevieve Howard, dramatic soprano, a former Salem girl, will be the feature attraction of the

At a beautifully appointed one o'clock luncheon Mrs. Emma Parks entertained yesterday for a group of members from Chapter N of the PEO sisterhood who motored down from Portland for the occasion. The luncheon was served in The Wigwam, the table carrying out in an attractive manner yellow and white, the PEO sisterhood. Yellow poppies and yellow candles in crystal holders were used, with covers laid on one long table.

After the luncheon the guests were given the opportunity of visiting interesting places on the campus, with the afternoon meeting following at the home of Mrs. Harwood Hall. The guests were particularly pleased with the many wild flowers abounding along every lane and in the meadows and woods nearby.

In the group, with additional covers placed at the luncheon for Mrs. Harwood Hall, Mrs. Louise F. Brickell, and the hostess, Mrs. Emma Parks, were Mrs. E. T. Allshaw, Mrs. T. T. Ashton, Mrs. C. L. CLOTHING IS WANTED TO AID NEAR-EAST RELIEF

BUNDLE DAY TO BE OBSERVED IN SALEM TODAY

Spare Clothing Greatly Appreciated, Workers in War Zone Declare

Don't forget that today is Bundle Day in Salem.

Spare clothing is wanted to help clothe the near-naked people of the Near East, according to Mrs. W. C. Kautner, chairman of the Bundle Day committee for Near East Relief. More than 40,000 war and famine orphans now housed and fed by reason of the contributions of the American people through the Near East Relief are dependent for their clothing upon the response on Bundle Day to the appeals for spare clothing. In addition to the orphans, thousands of refugees who have been made homeless and helpless by the vicissitudes of war are in need of warm clothing.

The spare clothing in attics and closets in America homes may be used to save lives in the mountainous regions of Armenia next winter.

"With the exception of food there is no need greater than that of clothing," states Mrs. Kautner. "Therefore I am asking that the people of this city respond to the appeal for warm clothing and blankets that come to us from the Bible lands."

The committee is spreading the appeal for clothing in schools, churches, clubs and lodges by means of illustrated circulars, tags and speakers, and is also presenting the need to clothing concerns whose shelves and storerooms may be cleared of shopworn garments that are too poor to sell and too good to throw away.

LIFE SCOUT RANK IS SOUGHT BY LOCAL BOY

APPLICATION IS RECEIVED FROM THOMAS CHILDS

Many Tests Successfully Passed and Badges Held: Court of Honor Is Soon

Thomas Childs is to make application at the next court of honor of Salem Boy Scouts to become a Life Scout, which is next in highest of rank in Scouting. He has made many merit badges, and has passed successfully all tests that are necessary to secure the rights to wear the Scout laurels.

Rank of Eagle Scout is the highest that a scout can go, it is declared. Very few Scouts in Salem have that rank, although several of the local organization are planning to get that rating soon.

Other Scouts of Salem are planning to secure merit badges at the same council. Those who have filed applications with the Scout master here are Robert and Vicar Wagers and Frank Grover. The court of honor is to be held at the supreme court building with Harold M. Ware, local scout executive, in charge.

Tell your eastern friends about the progressive spirit of the city of Salem. We want more people here, not only to share the city with us, but to help us build it.

JASON LEE NOT SATISFIED WITH CONDITIONS NOW

The Jason Lee Methodist church brotherhood met last night in monthly meeting. Among the various items of business one outstanding need was discussed and definite action taken, namely the improvement of the streets about the church.

Lloyd Waltz student in Willamette university, entertained with piano solos and humorous reading. Professor Roy C. Harding of the Willamette university, gave an address on the "Good Will Movement." The discussion took form in many questions to Dr. Harding which he very clearly and satisfactorily answered.

The open forum discussion were questions of "National Friendship," "Race Relationship," "Hindenburg Influence," "Disarmament."

Three new names were added to the membership list and more than $100 raised for charitable purposes.
