VICK BROS.

Interest is understood to be largely in financing state settlers on irrigation projects.

Pass Scout Tests—Thomas Childs became a life scout last night, while Vicar Wagers was awarded the star scout degree at the court of honor held at the supreme court building. Vicar Wagers secured merit badges for tests passed in an examination for first aid to animals, music and carpentry. Childs also secured merit badges for lifesaving, personal health and first aid. Frank Groves secured a merit badge in chemistry, Robert Wagers one for first aid, chemistry and personal health. Henry Clement also passed tests in automobilism, and life saving, while Milton Taylor secured a merit badge for carpentry.

Decorates Auto—Stanford Jerome, the self-styled farm hand with the Caruso voice, has decorated his auto profusely with chalk marks telling of his freak voice. The machine is completely equipped for camping and Jerome is able to travel from city to city without much trouble.

Plan to Visit Eugene—Mr. and Mrs. Earl Fennel, who are associated with a local studio, are planning a visit to Eugene during the coming week-end.

Any Bundles Left?—If there are any extra bundles left at any of the Near East relief stations, at the churches and schools, these will be called for if 747W is notified.

Allment Is Fatal—Alfred Bates, graduate of Kimball School of Theology in 1922, and well known in Salem, died at Sellwood hospital, Portland, after suffering several years with a baffling blood disease. Some 20 blood transfusions seemed to give him relief and good health for some time, but his health failed. He was born in England, came to the United States where he was a local minister for some time and later regularly ordained. He married Minnie Sellwood of Willamette university, at whose home he died.

School Closes—Hazel Green school closed for the season yesterday by celebrating with a picnic and exercises, according to Mrs. Fulkerson, county school superintendent.

Meeting Called—The resignation of Ward Willis Long, pastor of the First Presbyterian church was accepted by the congregation last night. He recently accepted a call from the First Presbyterian church at Stockton, Calif.

Newspaperman Visits—Ted James, former University of Oregon student and newspaperman, stopped in Salem last night on his way to Eugene from Olympia, Wash., to attend the junior week-end celebration. He is a member of Theta Chi fraternity.

CHURCH GROUP ELECTS

EWING NAMED PRESIDENT TO SUCCEED REV. LONG

That business and professional men have time for church work was indicated by the large gathering at the men's club of the First Presbyterian church Wednesday night. At the business session the following officers were elected: Archie Ewing, president; H. C. Davis, vice president; Joseph Albert, treasurer and E. T. Prescott, secretary.

Rev. Ward Willis Long, retiring president, gave an interesting review of the history of the club. Rev. Charles E. Ward, pastor of the Congregational church, was the speaker of the evening. He was introduced by Judge John H. Scott. Rev. Ward spoke on "Is Prohibition a Failure." Ladies of the church served dinner prior to the meeting.
