A well attended social meeting yesterday afternoon at the club house closed the season for the Salem Woman's club. Following the singing of the club song, Leon Jennison sang "The End of the Trail," a musical composition of Miss Bruce Putnam's, the words of which were written by Julia Knight.

A representative of the Salvation Army was given a short part in the afternoon's program, after which Dr. Walter H. Brown, the speaker of the day, was given the floor.

Dr. Brown told both of what he had already done in the interest of the child health demonstration and of what he expects to do with the bearing it will have upon the community.

Miss Frances Virginia Melton gave several delightful piano numbers, after which the outgoing president of the club, Mrs. C. K. Spaulding, called upon the new president, Mrs. W. F. Fargo, to approach the chair. Receiving the gavel at Mrs. Spaulding's hand, Mrs. Fargo made a brief speech in token of her acceptance.

A delightfully planned tea hour followed with Mrs. F. A. Elliott and Mrs. William McGilchrist, Jr., presiding at the urns. A flat basket of azure blue lupin centered the tea table with pale pink candles used in crystal holders. The committee included Mrs. Harry Hawkins, Mrs. Curtis Cross, Mrs. H. A. Cornoyer, Mrs. Karl Becke, Mrs. F. G. Brock, Mrs. D. C. Roberts, Mrs. Frank Spears, Mrs. T. A.

Mr. and Mrs. John G. Buchanan of Corvallis were guests at breakfast this morning at Mr. and Mrs. Mark McCallister. Mrs. Buchanan will be the house-guest of her sister, Mrs. McCallister, for a few days.

was a bevy of charming girls—college friends of Miss Apperson. These included Mrs. Breyman Boise, Mrs. Earl C. Flegel, Mrs. Lewis D. Griffith, Miss Margaret Griffith, Miss Mary Jane Albert, Miss Gretchen Brown, Miss Maxine Buren, Miss Catherine Slade, and Miss Dorothy Patterson.

Throughout the tea hour Byron D. Arnold entertained the guests with a pleasing group of piano solos, playing the "Hungarian Rhapsody" of Liszt, "Beethoven's 'Turkish March'"; the "Blossoms Waltz" of Poldowski; "Mazurka," Chopin, and other request numbers.

Miss Apperson, the honor guest of the afternoon, has been the inspiration for countless showers, luncheons and teas in Salem, McMinnville, and in Portland. A particularly lovely shower was that given in her honor in Portland on Friday evening by Mrs. Don Byrd and Mrs. Frank Holmes at the Byrd home. Earlier Mrs. Jesse Harrington entertained with a luncheon. Miss Apperson has chosen June 16 as the date for her wedding.

Mrs. Mary Cauthorn is a guest over the week-end of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Cauthorn of McMinnville.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Fahlgren of Westport, Oregon, and Mrs. H. S. Logan of Tualatin will be dinner guests at 2 o'clock this afternoon of Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Logan. Mrs. Fahlgren, a sister of Mrs. Logan, will be a house-guest at the Logan home for a few days. This is her first trip to Salem.

The members of the congregation of the Central Congregational church as well as the members of the Salem Ministerial association have been invited to be guests at the reception on Wednesday evening honoring Reverend and Mrs. Charles E. Ward. Rev. J. J. Evans, president of the association, will introduce the new minister.

Mr. and Mrs. John G. Buchanan of Corvallis were guests at breakfast this morning at Mr. and Mrs. Mark McCallister. Mrs. Buchanan will be the house-guest of her sister, Mrs. McCallister, for a few days.

SALEM BOYS' CHORUS

Dr. H. C. Epley is director of the above chorus which will appear in concert at 8:15 o'clock Tuesday evening at the First Christian Church.

Noted Models Depict the Fashions of the Day at Feature Movie Today at the Oregon

As a Compliment of Mme. Buffe of The French Shop the Ladies of Salem May See Ideal of Local Fashion Salon

By Mme. Buffe-Morrison

A fashion show in the movies was featured both yesterday afternoon and evening at the Oregon theater for the pleasure of the ladies of Salem as a direct compliment of the French Shop. The models representing the latest fashions of the day are endorsed, one by one, by Madame Buffe's discriminating fashion salon, all being typical of the up-to-the-minute stock she carries.

The same style show, featuring Dorothy Dwan, Marilyn Warner, and Gwendolyn Cornish, the English actress, as models, which so delighted theater patrons yesterday, will be repeated again today, both afternoon and evening.

Madame Buffe is interested in giving this pleasure to the women of Salem each month. Already two of these inimitable offerings have won appreciative audiences among the women. And this week-end's feature promises to be no exception.

It is with pleasure that Madame Buffe is able to announce this distinctive, though somewhat costly, feature which with authenticity so well conforms with her own idea.

The backgrounds are particularly designed to enhance the beauty of these exceptional poses.

One of the large affairs of the week will be the reception Wednesday evening, May 27, honoring Rev. and Mrs. Charles E. Ward, at 8 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Cooke Patton, 883 Court street.

Mrs. Curtis B. Cross was a guest in Portland Friday attending the annual competitive inspection and parade of the Hill Military academy where Frank Durbin Cross has the distinction of being an honor student. At the formal inspection, Master Cross was among those chosen for merit of performance.

Mrs. J. W. Spriggs and Frank Durbin, Jr., motored to Portland with Mrs. Cross.

The Joseph Albert summer home at Meham was the scene of one of the week's social events.

One of the delightful affairs of the week will be the tea on Tuesday afternoon at which Mrs. H. H. Vandevort will entertain for the pleasure of her daughter from 3 to 5 o'clock. Over one hundred cards have been issued for the occasion.

GLADYS McINTYRE

of the year's pleasant meetings of the Thursday Bridge club when Mrs. George F. Rodgers entertained for the group at the attractive mountain lodge with wild flowers decking the rooms and the 1 o'clock luncheon table. Bridge was enjoyed by those motoring out for the occasion throughout the afternoon.

Mrs. Guy Sargent of San Francisco, Mrs. John J. Roberts, Mrs. William Boot and Mrs. Fritz Slade were invited guests. Members of the club present were Mrs. Henry Meyers, Mrs. Frederick Lampert, Mrs. David Eyre, Mrs. John McNary, Mrs. J. Shelley Saurman, Mrs. Dan J. Fry, Jr., Mrs. T. A. Livesley, Mrs. T. C. Smith, and the hostess, Mrs. George F. Rodgers.

Mrs. Prince Byrd and little daughters, Janet and Betty, are domiciled at the Byrd cottage at Neskeown for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Legge entertained on Wednesday evening at one of the season's most delightful dinners. Blue delphinium and snap dragon in a silver bowl were unusually artistic as a centerpiece, with pink candles in silver holders enhancing the effect. The place cards carried out the same color note. Covers at the 6:30 o'clock dinner were placed for 16.

In the congenial group were Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Price, Rev. and Mrs. Fred C. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Millard, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Vandevort, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Abrams, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Legge.

Mrs. William Charles Kiltz of Vancouver, B. C., whose visits in Salem are always welcomed with pleasure, arrived here Thursday to be the house guest of her mother, Mrs. S. W. Thompson and her sister, Mrs. Louise Thompson, for a number of weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Livesley are guests today at Neskeown.

Miss Dorothy Brant is a week-end visitor in Portland. On Saturday, Miss Brant, who is a pupil of Miss Minetta Magers sang at a musical given at the Patton home.

Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Franklin

The Pacific Coast Nightingale

This little lady was born in Moberly, Missouri, January 6th, 1909. A few days later her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Kiger, moved to Des Moines, Iowa. When Marie-Louise was three years old, she made her first public appearance at the railroad men's convention in Des Moines, singing "We Are Going Out to Tea," to her dolly. Bringing the convention to its feet in cheers, not because she was a child, but because she was an artist. On encore she sang, "My Daddy's the Engineer," and railroad men that heard that sweet singing child say to this day: The rails are brighter, the sky bluer and their work easier, Marie-Louise D'Arc Kiger has a message for men and women that live useful, worth while lives.

In the spring of 1913, Marie-Louise arrived in Seattle, Wash., where she spent one year, before going to Tacoma, her present home. In 1920 she started singing for disabled veterans in hospitals and hall, giving gladly, freely of her talent, aiding the government in its work of rehabilitation. It was at the U. S. Veterans Hospital 59, Tacoma, Washington, she was christened "The Pacific Coast Nightingale." There she found her manager.

Marie-Louise will sing the world over for (a dollar and a dime), the wages of the men that served their country in the World War. She's the daughter of a soldier, a railroad engineer.

She will appear seven times on the Pacific coast this summer, Salem, Oregon, getting first place because it's the home of her manager; Portland, Oregon, second; Pendleton, third. A return engagement could not be booked in Oregon inside of five years at any price. I say, and mean at ANY PRICE. Her talent shall never be sold to the highest bidder, but must be spread like sunshine all over the earth.

Yours in absolute sincerity,
