TOUR FROM SALEM IS DECLARED BEAUTIFUL

TOUR FROM SALEM IS DECLARED MOST BEAUTIFUL.

Distance From This City to Cascade Range Is Placed at 155 Miles

By Ralph H. Kietzing
A trip up the McKeenzie river through the resort country which is the hunters' and fisherman's mecca of Oregon is one that will be greatly enjoyed and long remembered.
From Salem to the snow line five miles from the summit of the Cascade range is a distance of 155 miles. This distance is measured by the way of Albany, Corvallis, Eugene and Springfield. The road is paved as far as Springfield, 82 miles from Salem. From Springfield the road is good macadam to Nimrod Inn, a distance of 36 miles. From here a distance of about five miles road construction work is under way and the road is rough in places but passable to Sparks ranch. From Sparks ranch passing through Blue river, Cascade, McKeenzie Bridge up to within three miles of the snow line the road is in excellent condition and offers a most enjoyable drive. The grade is steady and continual and the scenery is wonderful. From the end of the graded road the road is graded to the snowline three miles further on. The road from here for a distance has not been broken through but it is expected that it soon will be open for travel clear through to Bend.

The first place of interest to the average person and perhaps the one which has more visitors is

Spend Your Vacation

At the McKenzie River Resorts

Here is a road log giving the distances from place to place up the McKenzie. You will find this a helpful guide if you are planning a trip to any of the resorts.
From Salem via Rickreall and Corvallis or by Albany-Corvallis the distance to Eugene is 78 miles. All paved.

Continuing east passing through Walthersville, Leaburg, you arrive at the McKenzie Hatchery. Macadam road—107 miles from Salem.

The next place up the river is Nimrod Inn which is 118 miles from Salem.
From Nimrod Inn for about five miles the road is under construction but passable. Sparks Ranch is 124 miles from Salem.
