BASEMENT NEARLY DONE

WORK ON NEW YMCA IS SUB-JECT TO MUCH DELAY

The basement of the new buildng of the Salem YMCA will be finished this week, after many delays, seemingly attributed to poor weather conditions, lack of materials and other factors. It will be finished, however, and Jim Kappahan will have the honor of digging the basement for the new YMCA. Because of the delay in he basement work, immediate construction on the building has been halted.

Despite this fact, contractors are ready to go ahead with the work and unless other delays crop up, the YMCA building will be completed within the January of the coming year.
