THE BRIDGE TEA YESTER- day afternoon at which Mrs. J. Shelley Saurman was hostess proved one of the most entirely attractive affairs in a full social season. The afternoon was planned for the particular pleasure of Mrs. A. C. Marsh of Portland, the house-guest of Mrs. Saurman.

In the early afternoon five tables of bridge were in play with a group of additional guests coming in for tea.

At the tea-table Mrs. Saurman was assisted by Mrs. T. C. Smith Jr. and Mrs. John McNary and in the rooms by Miss Dorothy Livesley, Miss Rovena Eyre and Miss Priscilla House of Portland.

A number of out of town guests were present, including: the honor guest, Mrs. Marsh and Mrs. William House, Miss Janet House and Miss Priscilla House of Portland; Mrs. C. M. Keene, Mrs. M. C. Woodard and Miss Catherine Woodard of Silverton; Mrs. L. B. Steeves of Dallas; Mrs. Earl Flegel of Honolulu, and Mrs. Guy Sargent of San Francisco.

Salem maids and matrons in the group were: Mrs. Henry W. Meyers, Mrs. T. C. Smith, Jr., Mrs. John L. McNary, Mrs. George Rodgers, Mrs. David W. Eyre, Mrs. T. A. Livesley, Mrs. O. C. Locke, Mrs. Frederick Lampert, Mrs. J. W. Harbison, Mrs. Edwin L. Baker, Mrs. Curtis B. Cross, Mrs. W. Conell Dyer, Mrs. Fritz Slade, Mrs. John J. Roberts, Mrs. Edgar Hartley, Mrs. H. H. Ollinger, Mrs. Ada Strong, Miss Margaret Rodgers, Mrs. F. D. Thielsen, Mrs. Harry Hawkins, Mrs. T. A. Roberts and Mrs. B. O. Shuckling.

Dr. and Mrs. Mark S. Skiff, Sr. returned home Tuesday evening from Portland after attending the commencement exercises of the North Pacific Dental College from which their son, Mark Shepard Skiff, Jr., graduated with honors, receiving the distinction of election to Omicron Kappa Epsilon, honorary dental fraternity, Salem friends of the family will be pleased to hear of this success.

Mrs. J. H. Lauterman and Mrs. R. J. Hendricks entertained at one of the most attractive formal teas of the season yesterday afternoon from 2:30 to 4:30 o'clock at the Lauterman home. Two hundred cards were issued for the event.

The many friends of Miss Charlotte Zeiber are welcoming her home from Northampton, Massachusetts where she has been in school for the past year.

Dr. and Mrs. B. L. Steeves and Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Leggs arrived home by motor on Tuesday evening from Seaside where Mrs. Steeves has been domiciled for the past several weeks. Dr. and Mrs. Steeves entertained Mr. and Mrs. Leggs as house-guests at their beach home over the past week-end.

The assembly of the Salem high school was entertained yesterday morning by the students of the music department in a half hour's program. The beginners' chorus sang "The Mound Builders," an Indian cantata by Paul Bliss in a three-part arrangement for soprano, alto and baritone. This cantata is one of the unusual attractiveness, with the melody carried chiefly by the baritone and lends itself easily to presentation by high school choruses. Numbers particularly well received were "Eagle Song," "Night Song," and "Serenade." The cantata was enthusiastically applauded. The accompaniments were played by Mary Cupper.

A skit from "The Mikado" followed the cantata and left the entire assembly applauding vigorously and calling loudly for more. The opera to be given Friday night promises to surpass any musical undertaking ever attempted by the high school musicians and a large attendance is being anticipated.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Walsh, who have charge of the music at Franklin high school will be special guests of the Salem high school musicians at the performance Friday evening. The Walshes will be accompanied by a dozen singers from the Portland school.

SOCIAL CALENDAR

TODAY

Woman's Missionary society. First Christian church, 2:30 o'clock.

Woman's Alliance. Emerson room of the Unitarian church, 2:30 o'clock.

The party from the metropolis will number fifteen.

The wedding of Miss Dorothy Lewella Palmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Palmer of Medford, Oregon and Mr. Edwin Thomas will take place on Tuesday morning, June 16, at 11 o'clock at the Hughes Memorial church in Medford, according to invitations received by Salem friends.

Both Miss Palmer and Mr. Thomas are former Willamette University students. For the past year and a half Mr. Thomas has been connected with the advertising department of The Oregon Statesman.

After July 1, the young couple will be at home at 1825 Fir street, Salem.

Mrs. E. T. Barnes is entertaining as her house-guest, Mrs. Luella D. Kimball of Pasadena, California. Mrs. Kimball, the founder of Kimball School of Theology herself, a life member of the board of trustees. This is her first visit to Salem in ten years and many who knew her before are happy for an opportunity to greet her.

Miss Mabel Rentro daughter of Professor and Mrs. Joseph Rentro will receive her Masters degree from Radcliffe college on June 12, after which she will come west for a visit with her parents in Rosalia, Washington.

Salem friends of Miss Rentro will be particularly interested to know that she will be on the faculty of the University of Idaho the coming year, teaching fifteen hours a week and giving a two hour lecture course.

Miss Amelia Babcock was a guest in Corvallis over Memorial Day week-end attending both the Alpha chi formal and the Phi Delta Theta country dance.

The Salem Business and Professional Women's club met last evening in the Chamber of Commerce rooms for a six-thirty o'clock dinner, with a short business meeting following.

Professor and Mrs. Horace Williston entertained as their house-guest earlier in the week, Professor Williston's brother, George Williston, of Columbia, Missouri.

Dr. and Mrs. Harold M. Brown were guests over the week-end at Newport.

The Kensington club, instead of meeting on Thursday of this week, will meet on Friday. Mrs. Paul Hauser will be the hostess.

The attractive home of Mr. and Mrs. John Cornforth on the Jefferson Road was the scene yesterday of a social gathering of the Four-M club of Macleay that was unusually pleasant when Mrs. Cornforth and Mrs. John J. Prinz entertained jointly at an all day affair with a many-course banquet served at the noon hour. The bounteous and delicious dinner was served on the long side porch which was banked with lattices of fir boughs and made festive, with flowers and flags.

Pink hydrangeas and pink roses adorned the table where covers were laid for a large number of guests. Mrs. Harry Martin is the president of this congenial social club which meets the first Wednesday in every month for an all-day meeting, the husbands of the members being honorary guests at every dinner.

Yesterday Mrs. Frank Bath led the devotional and conducted the opening exercises. The members responded to roll call with the narration of an interesting current event, this with special musical numbers and readings, making up a pleasing program.

Thirty-five women are included in membership in this club.

The Parrish Junior High School will hold "Open House" this afternoon and evening with a cordial invitation to attend issued to all interested.

Miss Ruth Stover has recovered from a severe illness of influenza and tonsillitis.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Thielsen entertained on Tuesday evening at a delightful meeting of the Merry-Go-Round club.

The Woman's Home Missionary society of the First Methodist church met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. T. Barnes for the regular June Tea meeting.

Miss Frances Welch is among those from Salem who plan on attending the Oregon Agricultural college summer school in Corvallis with the session that opens on June 22.

The Missionary meeting of the First Congregational church which was scheduled to take place this coming Friday has been postponed until Friday of next week at which time the same program will be given.

Miss Allene Robertson, of Turner, has been a Salem visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Crawford during this week.

The writers' section of the Salem Arts league met for their regular session last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Lisle, 1041 South Thirteenth street. The week of commencement at Willamette university caused many of the members to be absent. Nevertheless an enthusiastic greeting was given the program provided by Robert Paulus, Perry Reigelman, Cedric Chang, Mrs. Charles H. Jones, Dr. F. G. Franklin, Chas. J. Lisle and Mrs. F. G. Franklin. Miss Edna Garfield read a letter she had received from Mrs. Calvin Coolidge.

The prayer meeting of the Women's Evangelical society will be held at 9 o'clock this morning at the home of Mrs. C. A. Clark, 630 North Church street, Mrs. W. H. Gilbert as leader.

IRRIGATION AND DRAINING LANDS

Tiling and Sub-irrigation Advocated by H. E. Brown, the Salem Realtor

Irrigation and drainage of the lands of the Willamette valley are pet projects of the firm of Brown and Johnson, realtors. In discussing with a representative of The Statesman the possibilities of putting water upon the ground of the valley, Mr. Brown outlined a system which has many merits. It consists of ascertaining the amount of tile needed to properly drain the water from the land in the winter, then so arranging that when the superfluous water has been drained from the land the tile may be plugged at the end and the water forced from the irrigating system into the tile, thus sub-irrigating the land.

Mr. Brown claims that the water used in this manner will force plant growth much faster than that applied to the surface, as it is warmed by the soil before it reaches the roots of the plants.

Another project which was advanced was the possibility of securing storage water which would be warmed by the sunlight before it was turned into the field. Mr. Brown cited as an instance of where this is practicable a place on the Little North Fork of the Santiam where it is possible, with a small dam, to store approximately forty acres of water; also it is claimed that this water is absolutely pure and close enough to Salem that it may be utilized as a source of water supply for the city without undue cost.

AIRPLANE MAIL HELPS

RAISERS GET QUEEN BEES FROM EAST QUICKLY

"The airplane mail service plays an important part in promoting the bee industry of the west," declared Harrison M. Mead, well known bee man of Polk county, yesterday.

"The ten queen bees purchased from J. Smith, Vincennes, Ind., will arrive in this city by airplane mail without a great loss of time and it is imperative that the queen be put in the brook as soon as possible.

"There is only 15 cents extra charge for each bee, but the saving in time is one of the greatest factors in bee culture here," declared Harrison M. Mead, in commenting upon the service offered by the United States government.

Isolated Islanders Ask for Mail Once a Year

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., June 3.—Natives of Tristan da Cunha in the South Atlantic, known as the loneliest island in the British Empire, petitioned the government recently to arrange an annual mail boat for them, declaring that if this were brought about they would be perfectly contented; otherwise they threatened to emigrate.

News of the settlement was brought here a few days ago by the Rev. H. M. Rogers, who for three years has been a missionary and schoolmaster to the islanders. Mr. Rogers made up his mind more than a year ago to return to England, but he was compelled to wait 12 months for a ship. He was accompanied by his wife and baby who was born on Tristan da Cunha two years ago. During the family's stay on the island there was but one mail ship.

There are 140 persons on the island, the sexes being about equally divided. The natives are half-caste, are law abiding and industrious, and live by barter among themselves. There is no crime whatever on Tristan da Cunha, according to Rev. Rogers, and no immorality. The inhabitants are Socialistic in their views, everybody being equal, and the island itself is owned among members of the various families.

Mrs. Rogers, who acted as physician and nurse to the natives, said there were no infectious sicknesses among the people, but that they suffered from stomach complaints brought about by the lack of suitable foods. There was not enough variety in the green-stuffs they ate, she said. The men fish for half the year and raise crops during the other seasons.

Nevada Ruins Shows High Culture of Aborigines

ST. THOMAS, Nev., May 30.—Dr. M. R. Harrington, archaeologist in charge of research work in "the buried city of Nevada," says the theory that the place was built by ancestors of Pueblo Indians in New Mexico and Arizona, is being substantiated increasingly as the work of excavation goes on.

The city, which has been named Pueblo Grande de Nevada, consists of a series of ruins of ancient habitations scattered over an area of five or six miles in length and a mile in width along the north bank of Muddy river, in the Moapa valley.

"The conviction grows," explained Dr. Harrington, "that Pueblo Grande is one of the places where Pueblo culture had its birth—the culture of the people who, at a later date, built hundreds of towns which we find in ruins in New Mexico and Arizona."

"It was probably in the Moapa valley that the ancestors of modern Pueblo tribes learned to build permanent dwellings, to weave fine cloth, make good pottery, practice agriculture—in brief, to develop the arts which later made them one of the highly civilized people north of Mexico."

"The inhabitants of Pueblo Grande de Nevada were rather shorter than modern Americans. The tallest skeleton thus far unearthed was of a person who could not have been more than five feet eight inches high. The average was between five feet and five feet six inches."

"The greatest age ascribed to the ruins is 2,000 years."
