divine ritual. Fern and blue delphinium in the ceremonial candlelight made a fitting background for a June-time wedding. The members of the bridal party took their places to the strains of the bridal chorus from "Lohengrin." The "Ave Maria" was sung by Miss Adele Barnickel of Portland.

The bride wore a beautiful gown of white crepe back satin adorned with a flowing, full-length veil held in place with a coronet of orange blossoms. The bride carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses, sweet peas and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor for the ceremony was Miss Claudia Gratton, a twin sister of the groom, who wore honeydew chiffon over white satin. Her arm bouquet was of sweet peas and snapdragons. The groom was attended by Edward Nadeau, a cousin of the bride, as best man. Chas. Fox and Paul Green acted as ushers. The bride's brother, Joseph R. DeJardin, gave her away.

A beautifully appointed wedding breakfast followed at the Healy home where a host of lovely gifts were on display in cut glass, silver and linen.

The ceremony, originally planned for June 24, took place at an earlier date on account of orders received by the groom, an officer in the merchant marine, for immediate sailing. The bride's going-away costume was an ensemble in lavender green with a leg-horn hat to harmonize.

The following out of town guests were present from Portland, Seattle, Forest Grove and St. Paul. The Portland guests were Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Gratton, Mrs. B. J. Nadeau, Miss Josephine Nadeau, Mrs. Carrie Donnan, Mrs. Edward Barnickel, Mrs. Charles Fox, Robert Fox, Mrs. S. J. Boyle, Mr. and Mrs. James Miner, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Jennings, Miss Madeline Jennings, M. J. Rensgleth, Mr. and Mrs. T. Christenson and E. E. Eberhart. Other guests were Don Davis of Seattle, Mrs. Claude Smith of Forest Grove, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Pollard of St. Paul, and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Jones of St. Paul.

Mrs. Rhea Luper was one of the week's delightful hostesses when she entertained on Tuesday with bridge and tea at her home. Seven tables of the diversion were in play with Mrs. Earl Fisher and Mrs. C. B. McCullough winning the prizes of the day.

The Kensington club will meet this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Paul H. Hauser.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy S. Sargent were honor guests at the dinner Wednesday evening at which Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Meyers were the hosts. Covers were placed for Mr. and Mrs. Guy S. Sargent of San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Livesley, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Smith, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. John J. Roberts, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Meyers.

Mrs. Leland Mulkey and Mrs. Ernest Palmer were joint hostesses at the Palmer home at Silverton Sunday evening honoring Howard Woolen of The Dalles. The guests enjoyed a memorable evening of music from Mr. Woolen's violin, with Mrs. Cameron at the piano. Mrs. Gill Benson and Martin Doerfler pleased with vocal selections. Mr. Woolen is the possessor of an Antanas Stradivarius violin, made in Cremona in 1711. The violin was brought over from Italy 130 years ago to Illinois, and eight years ago Mr. Woolen became its owner. Its commercial value is $20,000. Mr. Woolen has another violin, an older one, made at Cremona in 1690 by Hieronimus Amati, a member of the same family of which Nicolo Amati, the tutor of Stradivarius was a member. This is one of the oldest violins in the northwest and its commercial value is $5,000.

Baskets of wild roses were artistically arranged about the double living room. A dainty luncheon of sandwiches, coffee and strawberry shortcake was served at a late hour.

Those invited for the evening were Mrs. Cameron, Mr. and Mrs. Gill Benson, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fox, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McCall, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Riches, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moores and daughter, Ella, Mr. and Mrs. Grant, Mr. and Mrs. Mac Mulkey, Mrs. Sarah Adamson, Miss Emma Adamson, Mr. Woolen, Mr. T. D. Allen, Martin Doerfler, Floyd Eldon and Jack Fox, Mr. Stadt, Miss Hartley, Miss Huntington, Miss Ballew, Miss Pellatz, and the hostesses and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Palmer, children Clare, Ernest and Jean, and Mr. and Mrs. Leland Mulkey.

Miss Sadie Elizabeth Pratt became the bride of Mr. Sheldon F. Sackett on Tuesday evening, June 3, in Portland. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock before an altar of roses, at the Vernon Presbyterian church, Reverend C. L. Dark, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church of McMinnville, assisted by Reverend H. E. Edgar, officiating. Baskets and lattices of pink roses and azure delphinium, transformed the church into a bride's garden, with tall white tapers burning at the altar.

Immediately preceding the ceremony, Mrs. David Lawson (Marguerite Cook) sang "Because." Mrs. Stuart Pratt of Seattle presided at the organ for the accompaniments and the wedding march, the bridal party taking their places to the strains of the impressive Mendelssohn processional.

The bride was charming in white satin, ornamented with Spanish lace. Her filmy veil, worn in empresse fashion and caught with sprays of orange blossom, fell along a full court train.

Mrs. Willard Lawson (Helen McInturff), as matron-of-honor, wore orchid flat crepe with rows of narrow lace, while Miss Loriel Blatchford, as maid-of-honor, wore a lovely gown of pale pink georgette with ostrich. Miss Norah Pratt, a sister of the bride, Miss Lois Lapham, Miss Estella Martin, and Miss Carolyn Bushnell were bridesmaids. Miss Pratt and Miss Lapham wore lovely modes of pouf blue georgette while Miss Martin and Miss Bushnell completed the procession of pastel colors in their frocks of honey-dew crepe de chine. The bridesmaids carried arm bouquets of snapdragons and sweet peas, while the bride's bouquet was a shower of Ophelia roses and lilies of the valley.

Mr. Vernon Sackett, brother of the groom, was best man with Mr. Clarence Gilette as groomsmen. Ushers were Mr. Bruce E. White, Mr. David Lawson and Mr. John Lucker.

Little Betty Sackett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Sackett, was a dainty flower girl, with a tiny arm basket of Cecil Brunner roses.

The bride, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George B. Pratt, was given in marriage by her father. Immediately preceding the benediction Miss Kathleen La Raut sang "At

Mr. Cromemiller sketched the historical development of the timber industry of the United States, and showed the three great immigrations that have been made, first to the lake states, to the south and last to the west, where the last stand of timber is to be found.

In an attempt to stimulate the attendance of the members of the Realtors' association, Karl Becke and J. A. Mills are to offer an attendance prize, which will not be disclosed until the next meeting.
