Capacity 32 cars, 496 passengers

ROAD LOG FROM SALE, ORE. TO OYSTERVILLE, WASH.

BY ALBERT BYERS
The tourist to the Oregon or Washington beaches will find the Salem-Astoria route a most delightful drive. From Salem to Astoria the road is paved the entire distance.
Astoria is 157 miles from Salem.

To reach the Washington beaches proceed to the foot of Fourteenth street where is located the dock of the Astoria-North Beach Auto Ferry which operates between Astoria and Point Ellis, Wash. At the present time ferry leaves at 8 a. m., 1 p. m., 3 p. m., and 5:30 p. m. for Point Ellis—distance 5 1/2 miles and requiring 30 minutes for passage. After June 25 ferry will operate on an hourly schedule with capacity for 32 cars and 496 passengers.
From Point Ellis, Wash. dock to McGowan Postoffice is a distance of 1.5 miles, the road for this distance having been rocked just recently, but from here on to the end of one trail this road is excellent gravel surface.
0.8 miles from McGowan is Fort Columbia a Government Military reservation, and 1.9 miles further on is Chinook.

The mouth of the Chinook river is crossed just 163.5 miles distant from our starting point, the road from Point Ellis to the Chinook river paralleling the Columbia.
Immediately upon crossing the Walcutt river, 166.7 miles from Salem a road sign indicates a westward turn to Ilwaco 1.6 miles distant. From Ilwaco side trips can be made to Fort Canby, another Government Military reservation, 3 miles distant over a planked but passable road, and to North Head Lighthouse, also 3 miles distant from Ilwaco over a similar type of road.
THE GILSON HOTEL
Official A.A.A. Branch, Hot and Cold Water, Reasonable Rates.
ILWACO, WASH.

The road from Ilwaco north is paved half width for a distance of about one mile, at this point turning westward for 1/4 mile to Holman. Another quarter mile and north of Holman we reach the road from Point Ellis to the Seaview 169.5 miles from Salem.

MRS. E. A. GENSMAN, Hostess
Seaview, Washington

The autoist has the choice of two roads from Seaview to the Beaches to the north, one directly north over a fairly good road and about 1.5 miles shorter than by the main highway which is gained by returning over the same route we arrived by and then travelling north over good gravelled surface to a road sign 171.2 miles from Salem directing the traveller to turn west 1 mile for Long Beach (the World's Auto speedway.) When the tide is low the beach offers the autoist the finest stretch of driving surface for a distance of upwards of 25 miles, many visitors preferring this driveway in travelling from one beach city to another.
Returning the 1 mile to the main highway and turning north a road sign 181.6 miles from Salem indicates a turn west for Ocean Park 0.7 miles distant. Nearby is located a United States Coast Guards station.

Retracing the 0.7 miles back to the highway proceed north to Narcotta 132.1 miles from Salem. Here you will find Postoffice free auto camp, and ferry landing for Nemah on the Washington mainland.

4.1 miles north of Narcotta and 1 mile from the beach is Oysterville the northernmost community on the peninsula and the end of our trail.

Improved Conditions Keep Germans From Emigrating

BERLIN.—Pressure on American consulates in Germany for visas to the United States has lessened in the same degree that financial conditions in the republic have become better since the Dawes plan was put into effect, and German currency placed on a sound basis.
Thousands of Germans who wanted to emigrate to America a year ago have apparently changed their minds since conditions have become better in the homeland. The American consulate general in Berlin recently sent notice to 30 German applicants for visas to appear on a certain day, as their turn had been reached in the long waiting list, and not one of them showed up.
This was an exceptional list, and doubtless was not typical, but every day the consulates in all the leading German cities are advised that persons who put in their applications for permission to go to the United States a year ago have changed their minds and will remain in Germany.

Stars Less Scarce Than Competent Film Extras

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., June 3.—Fifty thousand applicants for positions in motion pictures present to studios a great problem in the selection of competent, experienced extras, B. P. Fineman, studio manager, declared here. Many unused to work before the camera often spoil expensive scenes which have to be discarded.
A plan has been evolved, Fineman said, whereby the extra problem will be allowed at least for his studio. He has arranged to guarantee groups of 50 experienced extras at least 12 days' work a month.
Few extras average more than six or seven days' work a month, Fineman asserted.
