COMMENCEMENT WEEK on the Willamette University campus is replete with outstanding events for college and townspeople alike. Waller Hall on the campus was the scene on Sunday afternoon of a reunion and impressive farewell services, with smaller gatherings at the sorority and fraternity houses following. Yesterday morning was the occasion of the senior breakfast at Spang's Landing while tonight at the First Methodist church the annual banquet will take place.

What was doubtless the leading event of all took place last night at Lausanne Hall when President Carl Gregg Doney was host for the annual, formal event of Commencement week—the President's reception.

During calling hours, from 8 to 10 o'clock, a host of students, faculty, and friends of the University paid greetings to the graduating class of June, 1925.

Welcoming the guests at the door were: Mrs. Charles L. Sherman, Miss Lois Latimer, Mrs. E. H. Hobson, and Mrs. G. L. Rathbun. Mrs. A. N. Moores introduced to the receiving line in which were Dr. Carl Gregg Doney, Miss Frances M. Richards, Dean and Mrs. George H. Alden, and Dr. and Mrs. B. L. Steeves. Mrs. Florian Von Eschen further assisted in the drawing room.

The decorative scheme, with pink and blue as dominant tones, was particularly lovely. A silver candelabra with pink candles and baskets of bachelor buttons and pink sweet peas were attractive in the dining room where Mrs. E. C. Richards, and Mrs. W. E. Kirk were hostesses.

Presiding at the reception table the first hour were Mrs. W. C. Hawley and Mrs. E. T. Brown. At the second hour their places were taken by Mrs. C. P. Bishop and Mrs. R. J. Hendricks. The junior girls assisted in the serving of the cakes, coffee, and ices.

Favors consisting of tiny bouquets of pink and blue flowers were given to the guests as they left, by Mrs. Horace Williston, Jr., Mrs. Roy C. Harding, Miss Winnifred McGill, and Mrs. Selva Bright Laughlin.

The Illihee Country club will be the mecca all day tomorrow of Salem's lady golf enthusiasts who will gather for the beginning of a Ladies' Day, to be observed throughout the summer on each Wednesday. The day will be of paramount interest to all amateurs in the sport as well as to those who are more professional. An informal tournament, with matches that will be of interest, is planned. Those who do not play will doubtless make the Country club the scene of a few tables of Mah Jongg or bridge during the afternoon. Many will make a picnic of the event, bringing their lunches, individually or in parties. Mrs. H. H. Ollinger is captain of the Ladies' golf team of the Illihee club.

Mrs. Charles H. Robertson, Mrs. Homer Goulet, and Miss Margaret Griffith motored to McMinnville on Saturday for the tea honoring Miss Mildred Apperson at which Mrs. William Dell Snyder was hostess.

Mrs. J. W. Sadler and Mrs. Charles Becke of Aurora were Salem visitors late last week.

A beautiful Aeolian pipe organ was installed late last week in the T. A. Livesley home on Fairmount Hill. The instrument, made in New Jersey and installed by a competent representative from Los Angeles, is built with two manuals and is playable not only by hand but by mechanical rolls. The handsome instrument occupies a fitting place in the drawing room.

Mrs. Robert R. Boardman is planning an interesting trip for the summer that will take her into both Iowa and Ohio. In Ohio she will be the guest of Mr. Boardman's mother, Mrs. Emma Boardman, and in Ohio she will visit her parents, Reverend and Mrs. T. S. Bovell. Mrs. Boardman will leave the latter part of the month planning a stop at Chicago en route. Upon her return in the fall, Mrs. Boardman will be accompanied by her sister, Miss Mabel Bovell, who, coming west via the Canadian Pacific, will sail for China from Vancouver, B. C. A number of Salem people had the pleasure of meeting Miss Bovell last summer during the period she was a houseguest at the Boardman home.

The announcement of the engagement of Miss Helen Bartholomew '26 to Ray Miller of Portland came as a delightful surprise to the members of the Delta Phi sorority, Saturday evening. The announcement was made at the home of Dr. and Mrs. M. C. Findley where the sorority sisters had gathered to enjoy an evening of reunion before vacation. Fay Spaulding, accompanied by Louise Findley, sang "Oh Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly" while refreshments were being served. Mrs. Findley was assisted in serving by Edith and Pauline Findley, and Zola and Mildred Bartholomew. Additional musical numbers were given during the evening by Trista Wenger, Lucia Card and Marguerite Bridgeman. Miss Bartholomew is a popular student on the Willamette university campus.

The Willamette University class of '22 will hold its first reunion—falling at the end of three years—tomorrow noon at the Marion Hotel.

Mrs. George Crater is in Portland attending the gathering of the Daughters of the Nile.

Children's Day was beautifully observed on Sunday evening at the First Congregational church by the primary, the junior and the intermediate departments of the Sunday school with a pageant which depicted the work of the church both at home and in fields abroad.

Miss Cora Talkington's class opened the program for the evening. One candle was lighted for the group, and the occasion marked the receiving of six new members from the cradle roll into the primary department; Nancy Jean Stricklin, Raymond Lee Farmer, Doris Hansen, Robert Clark, Daphne Potter and William H. Thompson, Jr. The junior department, in vivid costumes, followed with a splendid picturization of the church's foreign missionary work. Doris McCallister, representing China wore an authentic Chinese garb of the Mandarin in coat, slippers, and fan, which Mrs. C. A. Downs brought from the Orient. Helen Hill, representing Japan, wore a lavishly beautiful kimono and butterfly bow which were generously loaned for the occasion by Mr. and Mrs. Co-caba. Beryl Newton, depicting India, was fortunate in securing a most interesting costume from Mrs. Albert Laughridge, a missionary from that country. This costume consists of a tiny jacket and ten yards of cloth—a fine white fabric resembling linen. Annabelle Hitchcock, as Africa, was gay in the regalia of the Dark Continent. In the pageant of the evening Miss Lena Morris took the part of Religion, fittingly costumed in white and carrying a scroll.

The intermediate department carried out the representation of the Home Missionary work attained in their going-away togs and carrying luggage. Those taking part were Marjorie Drorbaugh, Leon Davidson, Doris Clark and Katherine Craglow.

Probably the most beautiful number of the evening was the closing pantomime by a group of seven members of "The Friendly Girls," the class of which Mrs. Mark McCallister is the teacher. Mrs. John J. Roberts, in a most pleasing manner, sang "Oh, Zion Haste," while Mrs. Frank Zinn presided at the organ, and the girls in the colored lights, pantomimed the words. Those taking part were: Edna Horehardt, Berline Humphreys, Doris Clark, Wilma Coursey, Katherine Craglow, Lettie Brown and Margaret Grover.

A further feature of an outstanding evening was the presentation by the pastor, Reverend Charles E. Ward, of Bibles to each member of the Sunday school who has joined the church since Children's Day in 1924. In this group were: Evelyn Ross, Helen Putnam, Doris McCallister, Richard Upjohn, and Beryl Newton.

Mrs. Gayette Barnett entertained Saturday afternoon in honor of her friend, Miss Hazel Bear, who will be a June bride. About forty friends accepted invitations to a miscellaneous shower. Pink was the color scheme. The secret was out when a wee white kitten, with pink bows and an announcement card, popped out of a big bag. Miss Eleanor Moore sang two appropriate solos, after which a large basket of presents were inspected, followed by a guessing game in which all took part. Miss Lucille Riches and Miss Murial Salisbury won prizes for correct answers.

Pink ice cream, pink and dark cake were served. All wished Miss Bear much happiness for the future, and voted Mrs. Barnett a royal hostess.

Miss Bernice Fellers spent Monday in Portland.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Kells was the scene on Saturday night of a gathering that was pleasurable to all present, when a group of Willamette University students and friends were entertained. The affair was planned particularly to honor Cedric Y. Chang, Antonio Rowan, and Ponciano Tuanilo. The Kells home was like a summer garden with its jewels of Mrs. Edward Harriet, Juliet, and Golden Ophelia roses, with delphinium.

Delightful musical numbers were given during the evening by Robert Dann, a new singer in Salem with an exceptionally pleasing voice; Cedric Chang, and the hostess, Mrs. Kells. The second number was a duet by Mrs. Kells and Mr. Dann with the accompaniment of Mr. Chang, after singing a song in Chinese, sang "The Blind Ploughman," an interesting contribution to the program of the evening was the telling, by each of the foreign students, of what they have received from this country.

At the refreshment hour Mrs. Robert Dann cut the ices while Mrs. S. B. Laughlin poured. Mrs. Kells was assisted in the serving by Miss Lillian Applegate and her little daughters, Margaret Ann and Mary Elizabeth. Invited for a congenial evening were: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dann, Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Lisle, Miss Lillian Applegate, Professor and Mrs. S. B. Laughlin, Dr. and Mrs. M. C. Findley, Jacob Krockan, Leonard Chapin, Stanley Emmel, Dwight Findley, Hugh Bell, Clarence Oliver, Sofio Zarsadiaz, Cedric Y. Chang, Antonio Rowan, and Ponciano Tuanilo.

At one of the loveliest of the June weddings, Miss Zoia Birdwell became the bride on Sunday, June 7, of Mr. Clyde E. Hutchens of Eugene. The ceremony was performed at 10 o'clock in the morning at the home of the bride's parents on the corner of Hoyt and South Commercial streets. Reverend J. J. Evans, pastor of the First Christian church, conducted the impressive service.

Miss Eiva Amaler, organist of Ye Liberty theater, played the beautiful strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, and the accompaniment for "At Dawning," sung by Miss Irene Gene Pierce. The bride, charming in her gown of poudre blue flat crepe adorned with cream lace, carried bride's roses with sweet peas and maidenhair fern. Mrs. S. R. Seime (Thelma Birdwell) attended her sister as matron of honor, while Abe Hutchens, a brother of the groom, acted as best man. Mrs. Seime wore an attractive mode in poudre blue georgette. Early summer flowers in shades of pink and white decked the rooms and centered the table where the wedding breakfast was served.

Where President Will Sleep at Swampscott

Artisans are busy giving the finishing touches to the renovation of the "Summer White House" the Coolidges will occupy at Swampscott, Mass. In this new photo of the residence the arrow indicates the sleeping apartments of the president and his wife.

The missionary society of the First Congregational church will hold the meeting which was postponed from last week, on Friday at the home of Mrs. T. A. Livesley. Miss Hannah Kim, a Korean girl who returned to the states with Dean Ava B. Milam, and who is a student in domestic science at Oregon Agricultural college, will be the speaker of the afternoon. After completing her work at the college Miss Kim plans to return to her own country to engage in missionary work.

A special musical feature will be a pipe organ number on the Livesley's new Aeolian residence organ, by Mrs. Frank Zinn.

The Delta Alpha class of the First Methodist church will meet this evening at the H. W. Savage home on the Garden Road as the guests of Mabel and Nancy Savage.

The Y.M.P. class of the First Baptist church will have a pot-luck supper on Wednesday at 6 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Peterson in Morningside. Cars will be at the church for those who have no conveyance. After dark a weller roast will be held.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark McCallister and children motored to Corvallis to attend the special commencement chapel of Oregon Agricultural college which was presided over by older faculty members and conducted according to the program of 1900. While in Corvallis for the week-end Mr. and Mrs. McCallister were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Buchanan.

Miss Mary Wilson, who is to be married in the near future, was the inspiration for a very pleasant social evening last Friday at the home of Mrs. A. C. F. Perry in South Salem. The evening was spent in sewing and games appropriate to the occasion, and later Miss Wilson was presented with a beautiful linen table cloth at the Oregon school for the blind.

Those making up the party were Mrs. J. F. Howard, Mrs. Martin, Mrs. Marie Davenport, Miss Grace Pease, Miss Jennie Williams, Miss Grace Allen, Miss Eva Marshall, Miss Lita Marshall, Mrs. Ermine Fawk, Miss Frances Byram, Miss Mary Wilson and the hostess, Mrs. Perry.

Miss Jane Campbell has returned to Eugene for the summer after studying at Wellesley college the past winter. She was accompanied by Miss Charlotte Zieher, who attended a preparatory school in the east, and who will spend a short time visiting here at the home of President and Mrs. P. L. Campbell.—Eugene Guard.

Mrs. Charles R. Kiger, mother of Marie D'Arc Kiger, who will appear at the Armory tomorrow evening, will arrive in Salem this morning.

Tall Men Band Together For Mutual Protection

MARSHFIELD, Ore.—Banding together in an organization to alleviate the woes of tall men, which they hope may become national and international in scope, 28 men of Marshfield who are six-footers or more have formed the Long Fellow club No. 1.

"To make life more comfortable and longer for tall men," is one of the purposes of the club. Others are: "To promote close relationship and friendship among members; to furnish each member all possible information bearing on improvements made in living conditions for tall men."

Among the things which these "higher-ups" hope to accomplish is to start a movement for longer beds in hotels; longer berths in Pullman cars and staterooms; longer bathtubs; for awnings on streets which will not cause the downtrodden of this group to dodge continually while strolling down the street, and for more comfortable car and theater seats.

Benjamin Ostling is president; Wilson Kaufman, vice-president; Earl W. Murphy, secretary, and James Montgomery, treasurer.

The plan is for each of the four northern countries to send over its fastest boat of the six meter class, and against this invading flotilla the Long Island club will send out its four best racers of the corresponding dimension. The Swedish boat will in all probability be one of the new class now under construction here in Gothenburg, but before receiving the honor of carrying the Swedish flag in American waters, it must prove its speed against all comers.

Scandinavian Sailors to Race on Long Island Sound

GOTHENBURG, Sweden.—Viking sailors from each of the four Scandinavian countries will match their seamanship against some of the best American yachtsmen off the coast of Long Island next September, according to an announcement made here by Director Ivar Lignell, president of the Scandinavian Sailing association. Its challenge for a test in American waters has been accepted by one of the oldest and most exclusive clubs in the United States, the Seawanhaka-Corinthian Yacht club of Oyster Bay.

Beauty Queens of Rio Strive for Odd Prizes

RIO DE JANEIRO.—The business men of this city apparently believe that pretty girls in Brazil are a bit different. One of the local newspapers is running a beauty contest, with some unusual prizes being offered by local commercial firms.

There are, of course, the usual premiums of talcum powder, toilet sets, and perfume, but some of the others are difficult to harmonize with the prevalent belief that the Brazilian girl does no work, and never goes out unless accompanied by a member of the family. Included in the list of prizes is a repeating rifle, a bicycle, a gas stove, an ice chest, a typewriter, 50 safety razor blades, a lottery ticket, and 25 collections of love stories.

The photographs already published have not included any contestants who seem to be in need of such a large supply of razor blades, and the motive behind the donation is unexplainable, except on the theory that the girls with bobbed hair are in the habit of shaving their neck.

Electric Wire Finds Ore Thirty Feet Underground

STOCKHOLM—By their unique electrical prospecting methods, Swedish mining engineers have located for the government valuable ore fields in the northern part of the country. The newly discovered deposits contain copper, arsenic, zinc and even gold in small quantities.

These successful methods of location are based on the greater conductivity of beds of ore than of the surrounding rock. At one point a deposit of copper pyrite was located 30 feet down under a sandy plain nearly two miles from the nearest ore-containing boulders. At another place a mother lode containing 7 per cent of copper was found under a frozen lake, below 30 feet of water and ten feet of mud. The Lundberg-Nathorst method utilizes electrically charged wires laid in shallow trenches. Through a telephone the prospectors literally "listen out" the presence of ore. The Sundberg system is independent of galvanic contacts with the earth, and depends entirely on electro-magnetic phenomena.

These two methods have now been combined and under the direction of Swedish mining engineers electrical prospecting is being carried out in different parts of the United States, Canada, South Africa, Spain, Finland, and Norway.

Byrd Elliot, Talented Young Violinist, Will Appear in Concert Here on June 10

Byrd Elliot, talented little 17-year-old violinist, will appear in concert at the Salem Armory, Wednesday night, June 10, at 8:15 o'clock. The following account of her Seattle appearance is taken from The Seattle Times.

In a program of modern music in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium last night, Byrd Elliot, young Seattle violinist, again proved herself an astonishingly gifted artist. It was the most successful recital in her career and the audience showed its appreciation by applause that amounted almost to an ovation.

Byrd Elliot is a girl about 17 years old whose amazingly facile technique has aroused the interest of Seattle musicians for several years. But now, she shows a maturer feeling for the beauty of what she plays that is rounding out her musicianship and preparing her for what most certainly will be fame in the future.

Such artistry and warmth of feeling as she put into her playing of a most difficult program of nearly all French music, prove her a delightful concert artist. Astonishment was felt by the discriminating musicians in her audience at her understanding of the thoughtful beauties of the Cesar Franck sonata revealed in her interpretation last night. To the Symphony Espagnol by Lalo, she gave the brilliance and rhythmic charm of one to whom difficulties have no meaning. An impeccable rendition of Paganini's "Moto Perpetuo," at a very rapid tempo, simply dazzled the audience and the "Havanaise," by Saint-Saens, and "Introduction and Tarentelle," by Sarasate, with their display of technique, were given brilliantly and with absolute accuracy.

Miss Elliot has a big and vibrant tone with a deep and thrilling quality. Her intonation is remarkable and her understanding of what she plays has grown immeasurably in the last year. For encores last night she played two Kreisler numbers of lighter nature.
