He will leave Salem soon after the close of school in order to be in Houston by June 16. His headquarters will be at Houston but approximately half of his time will be used in traveling in western Texas and New Mexico where the bulk of the machines are in use. Mr. Dieffenbach is a member of Sigma Tau, national engineering honorary, and Sigma Phi Epsilon, social fraternity at OAC.

Dance—With McElroy's full Seaside Orchestra. Crystal Gardens. Wednesday, June 10. 19

Governor Has Hobby—The study of Egyptian documents is the hobby of Governor Pierce, according to his statement before the Sunday school class of the First Presbyterian church on Sunday. He brought out the fact that late discoveries in the Nile valley have completely exploded the theory of Robert Ingersoll, a brilliant critic of the Bible, who maintained the stories of the Bible were unreliable, because they were written 300 years after they had happened. The discoveries in the Nile show that the stories have been written at the time they

YMCA Preparing Schedule

Activities at the Salem YMCA are in a stage of transition, in which a schedule is being fitted to care for the kids that are out of school. The old regime was fitted for students who came down after school. The new program at present is concerned with the organization of the summer camp at Neskowin, where a party of Salem and Marion county boys will congregate for two weeks under the direction of able YMCA executives. When camp is over the boys here will be kept busy on a program of baseball and sports.

If WISHES Were GLASSES

If wishes were glasses, nearly everyone would wear them. People wish that their eyes wouldn't smart and burn; they wish to be free from headaches; they wish to be able to concentrate on work or reading without tiring their eyes. But too often they just wish. There's no substitute for proper lenses, nor is there any substitute for a careful, painstaking and accurate examination before the lenses are prescribed. Consult a competent optometrist today.
