EAGLE TEAM WINS FROM PEP COMPANY SLUGGERS

BRILLIANT GAME IS TAKEN BY SCORE OF 9 TO 6

Excellent Fielding Is Responsible for Victory; Teams Tied Twice in Game

In one of the fastest and best played games yet seen in the Sun-down league, the Eagles defeated the Portland Electric Power company nine last night by a score of 9 to 6. Good fielding won the game for the victors.

Twice during the game, in the third and fourth innings, the score was tied. In the fourth, after Regele, pitching for the Eagles, had been relieved by Chapman, the PEP team started a rally, bringing in four runs and tying the score. The spurt was short-lived, however, and Chapman set two scores for the rest of the game. Missler caught for the Eagles.

Merriott, hurling for the PEP nine, received good support from the field, and was assisted in several tight places by the good work of Stow behind the plate. Although excellent work was done in base running and fielding, the losing team fell down in the batting line.

One of the features of the game was the base stealing of Turner for the power company team. On two occasions he displayed great ability on the paths, and brought in two runs in tight squeezes.

Tonight the Valley Motor organization will meet the Legion team in the Twilight league. The schedule is now only half completed.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

BY NORMAN E. BROWN

A few weeks ago, a sturdy, dark-skinned youth named Pete Sarmiento climbed into the ring with one Carl Tremaine, one of the perennial and still leading aspirants for the world's bantamweight title.

Sarmiento was fresh from the Philippine Islands. Fans, with the long list of "foreign" busts in their minds, decided that this must be another much touted and overrated visitor to the states.

"But he has picked the wrong guy in Tremaine," they said. Tremaine will murder him—send him back to the islands." Several thousand of these fans paid two or three bucks apiece that night primarily with the expectation of seeing the murder committed. The first time Tremaine hit him a telling blow they started to cry for Pete's blood. Those who like gore did.

But at the end of the 12 rounds Sarmiento was still upright, full of pep, smiling and unmarred by all the legitimate and illegitimate blows Tremaine had struck him in an effort to annihilate him.

Now the open air season in that same city, Cleveland, is to be opened with a show featuring two bantams. Charley Phil Rosenberg, bantamweight champion of the aforementioned world, was named as one of the principals.

And the other was not Tremaine but Pete Sarmiento!

And Matt Hinkel, the man who refereed the Sarmiento-Tremaine affair and who is promoting the Rosenberg-Sarmiento fight, says those same fans who bought tickets to see Pete the Smiler massacred last time bought tickets to see him meet Rosenberg the champ.

THRILLING RESCUE AT SEA IS MADE BY EXPEDITION

Trip to Lower California and Mexican Coasts Result in Rare Discoveries

SAN DIEGO, Cal., June 9.—Bringing reports of the discovery of new fruit and new fish and a thrilling rescue story, the mine sweeper Ortolan, bearing a party of American and Mexican scientists, arrived here today from islands and waters of the lower California and west Mexican coasts. The party is headed by Dr. G. Dallas Hanna, curator of invertebrate paleontology of the California Academy of Sciences. The rescue saved the life of Lieutenant Neil B. Musser of the United States navy, who accompanied the scientists in a spirit of adventure.

Lieutenant Musser left the main camp of the party one morning on Magdalene island, to take a hike through the hills. He carried water and food for one day. The island is only 12 miles long, but it is covered with a dense tropical growth and he lost his way. When he failed to return the next day a searching party, with five guides, supplied by the commandant of a Mexican penal colony started out. This party was out three days without finding the navy officer. On the morning of the fourth day Dr. Hanna, with two other members of the expedition, set out in a motor launch to survey the shore line of the island. At 9 a. m. they saw a thin wisp of smoke curling up from some trees. A heavy sea was running, but Dr. Hanna volunteered to swim ashore and investigate. Landing safely after battling the seas for half an hour, he found Lieutenant Musser.

"I thought he was dead," said

Babe Ruth, back with the Yankees after being ill since the training season, is picking out a favorite stick for batting practice. Umpire Billy Evans is in the foreground.

Dr. Hanna today, "and he would have died in a short time if we hadn't come across him. The fierce tropical sun had burned his face and hands almost to a crisp. We saw we had no time to spare if we were to save him, so we got a cod line ashore from the launch and pulled the unconscious man on the surf to the boat. He suffered great hardships, but we expect him to recover completely."

The party found in abundance on one of the islands of the Tres Marias group a fruit the size and color of the California olive, but much more delicious, according to the scientists. They were unable to identify the fruit. They also found in the waters of the Revillagigedo islands fish of exquisite shades, said by the party to surpass those found in Hawaiian waters.

The Ortolan had to creep back to San Diego because of the Cape San Lucas mine sweeper's propeller ripped into the carcass of a dead whale, shearing off one blade and injuring another.

INDIAN HEIRESS MISSING

SEARCH MADE FOR GIRL WHO HAS RIGHT TO FORTUNE

OMAHA, Neb., June 9.—(By Associated Press.)—An extensive search by federal, state and civil authorities today failed to disclose any definite trace of Maude Lee Mudd, 16-year-old Indian heiress of Miami, Okla., who was married yesterday at Council Bluffs, Iowa, to Earl E. Gordon, white, also of Miami.

The girl, with a legal right to more than $1,000,000, disappeared from her home May 21, last, after a large amount of litigation involving her fortune, which resulted in the selection of William Simms of Vineta, Okla., as the girl's guardian until she is 21. According to witnesses at the marriage ceremony, the girl was accompanied by her mother who gave her consent. Mr. Simms is quoted in dispatches as declaring the marriage valid if her mother consented and this is one reason why civil authorities desire to know the truth of the case. State and federal authorities are checking her disappearance.
