

The Oregon Statesman

Issued Daily Except Monday by
THE STATESMAN PUBLISHING COMPANY
 215 South Commercial St., Salem, Oregon

Manager: W. F. Henderson
Circulation Manager: Fred J. Touse
Advertising Manager: C. K. Logan
City Editor: Frank Jankowiak
Manager Job Dept.: Leslie Smith
Telegraph Editor: E. A. Rhoten
Livestock Editor: Audred Bunch
Society Editor: W. C. O'Conner
Poultry Editor:

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

BUSINESS OFFICE:
 Thomas F. Clark Co., New York, 121-125 West 96th St., Chicago, Marquette Building, W. S. Grothwald, Mgr.
 Portland Office, 236 Worcester Bldg., Phone 6337 Broadway, Albert Byers, Mgr.

TELEPHONES
 Business Office 58 or 583
 Circulation Office 583
 News Department 25-106
 Society Editor 106
 Job Department 583

Entered at the Postoffice in Salem, Oregon, as second-class matter

June 14, 1925
 TRUST AND WAVER NOT:—Trust in the Lord with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding. Proverbs 3: 5.

OUR FLAG

Margaret Sangster

Flag of the fearless-hearted,
 Flag of the broken chain,
 Flag in a day-dawn started,
 Never to pale or wane.
 Dearly we prize its colors,
 With the heaven light breaking through,
 The clustered stars and the steadfast bars,
 The red, the white, and the blue.

Flag of the sturdy fathers,
 Flag of the royal sons,
 Beneath its folds it gathers
 Earth's best and noblest ones.
 Boldly we wave its colors,
 Our veins are thrilled anew
 By the steadfast bars, the clustered stars,
 The red, the white, and the blue.

"FOR YOU A ROSE"

The Rose Festival opens tomorrow in Portland. This event began as an annual rose show twenty-six years ago and was organized under its present name in 1907.

The effect of this unique annual festival event lasting an entire week with the opening of the roses in June, has been of great civic and esthetic value. It has stimulated the planting of a profusion of roses in and about Portland and has fostered a deep interest in floriculture in general.

As an advertisement of Oregon climate, soil and civic, domestic taste it has few if any parallels. "For you a rose in Portland grows" means more than a welcome to the metropolis. It signifies painstaking care; homes imbued with the love of the beautiful, and civic progress on the part of the general citizenship and particularly of those who give of their time and energy in encouraging the care and growth of roses and other flowers.

And to those who give of their effort in the planning and to those who bear the toil and responsibility in the conduct of the Festival highest commendation is due. It will be of value to all Oregon for the metropolis to continue thus the exercise of the spirit of altruism in making her own and thousands of other people happy and appreciative of the floral beauty of the whole Northwest.

SCRATCH-FOOD FOR JAIL BIRDS

"Kelly Butte" operated under direction of the Multnomah county sheriff's office yields a substantial profit to the county.

For a six month period in 1923 there were broken by the prisoners 14,865 yards of rock which was sold for $21,824.25. The fixed price was $1.50 a yard. The net profit was approximately $9000. The product was sold to the county road department and to private interests at a price which did not interfere with free labor.

In the operation of this plant by prisoners of the county is an example of what may be done and should be done in all strictly penal institutions. Prisoners who are able bodied and serving time should be required to earn their own living and should receive a compensation for their work for the support of their families or other dependents. The amount received should not be large and in the case of single men might be placed to their account after costs to the county have been deducted. It is ridiculous to force law-abiding citizen taxpayers to pay for the prisoner's food and clothing while he lies in jail.

And, too, there is no more effective deterrent to petty crimes than the assurance that conviction means work—for the majority of those who defy the law hate work. Many of them get into wrong-doing as a result of trying to get a living without work. And, further, hard work is a kind of physical culture which promotes both health and morals.

Marion county, Salem and other counties and cities should cooperate in the matter of requiring their "jail birds" to "scratch" for their living in the construction of roads or in some other effective, fruitful way.

A WINNING DECISION

President Coolidge was impromptu to take part in a movie production by appearing and handing a fake diploma to an aspiring screen star. It would have been a great advertisement—for the said aspirant for honors and advertising. The President refused pointedly to allow his high office or himself to be thus degraded by being used as a "cheap John" means of advertising for the said aspiring twinkler.

We have no evidence that the said individual ever won anything which would entitle him to a fake diploma from the navy. The President raised himself immeasurably in the estimation of the people by his refusal.

There seems to be an armistice pending between the higher educational forces of the state. The public awaits patiently the report of the reparations committee.

Salem will be appropriately represented and Portland will be pleased during the rose show with her Salem guests—The Cherrians.

It requires more than farms which rent for only enough money to pay the taxes to make the farmer optimistic.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

By Mrs. Norton

MENU HINT
 Breakfast
 Sliced Bananas in Orange Juice
 Waffles with Maple Syrup
 Buttered Toast Coffee and Milk
 Luncheon
 Salmon Souffle Creamed Potatoes
 Head Lettuce with Salad Dressing
 Bread and Butter
 Home Made Strawberry Jam
 Iced Tea or Cocoa
 Dinner
 Jellied Tomato Soup
 Croutons Coddled Steak
 Mashed Potatoes with Brown Gravy
 Creamed Peas
 Baking Powder Biscuits

TODAY'S RECIPES
Waffles—Beat yolks of two eggs; add four tablespoons of cream, one cup of milk, two teaspoons baking powder, flour to make thin batter and lastly beaten whites of two eggs. Bake in very hot waffle iron over steady fire. Serve with butter and maple syrup.

Coddled Steak—Take about two pounds of round steak an inch thick, salt, pepper and flour well. Have ready one small onion, chopped fine and two tablespoons very hot. Put in the meat to brown evenly on both sides, then put in enough hot water to make a quart of gravy. Add salt, pepper and Worcestershire sauce to taste. Cover tightly and simmer steadily, until the steak is tender. The meat must be basted and turned frequently. Serve on a hot platter with a small quantity of gravy and parsley or water cress. The rest of the gravy serve in boat.

Salmon Souffle—One can of salmon, two eggs, one cup of cream or rich milk. Remove skin and bone from salmon. Pick fish fine, drop in the yolks of eggs and mix well. Add the cream or milk and the egg whites beaten to a stiff froth. Mix lightly and put in buttered pan. Bake twenty minutes in a quick oven.

Jellied Tomato Bouillon—Three cups tomato, three bouillon cubes, one onion, one bay leaf and one-half teaspoons minced parsley, celery leaves or celery salt, three teaspoons gelatine, a few peppercorns, few sprigs of thyme. Simmer the tomatoes, onion, bay leaf, and celery with seasonings until quite soft and strain. There should be three cups of the juice. Add the minced parsley and bouillon cubes. Soften the gelatine in three tablespoons cold water and dissolve in the hot juice. Season to taste with paprika and salt.

Rhubarb Pie—Prepare rhubarb enough to fill a pie plate full. Then plunge it into the boiling water for ten minutes and drain. Line the greased pie plate with a good short crust, put in the rhubarb, sprinkle with two cups of sugar in which a dessert spoon of cornstarch is mixed. Put on the crust and bake in a medium oven about forty minutes.

Insomnia Conquered, Says Young Cheshire Inventor
 LONDON—Only the old-fashioned folks will go on counting phantom sheep as an inducement to sleep if half of the claims are realized of the inventor of a new machine designed to relieve insomnia victims of all their bothers.

Rural Simplicity Marked Duke of Rutland's Funeral
 BELVOIR, Eng.—A farm dray drawn by four gray horses served as a hearse and gave an air of real rural impressiveness to the funeral recently of the Duke of Rutland at Belvoir Castle. The casket was covered with the duke's own flag as lord lieutenant of the county together with his cocked hat and sword. Country workers from his estates walked in a procession to the chapel and to the mausoleum where the body was placed.

DINNER STORIES

Two young lawyers, both trying to make reputations as orators, happened to be pitted against each other in argument. Both spoke at great length, and in closing the second speaker remarked that he was sorry to find his colleague on the wrong side for there was every reason why they should agree. "We were brought up together, studied together, and we were born on the same day."

"Did I understand you to say that you were born on the same day?" asked the judge.
 "Yes," came the prompt reply.
 "On the very same day?"
 "Yes, sir."
 "Then it must have been a very windy day."

There was no doubt he was an expert at "telling the tale." And moreover, in this case, it succeeded very well.
 "It is a sad story, my man," said the lady in furs as she handed over a florin, "and I feel very sorry for you. Are you married, by the way?"
 As he pocketed the money he replied: "Married, lady? Married? Do ver fink for one moment I'd be depending on outside support if I was married? Not likely."

A man received the following note from his actor son, who had joined a touring company:
 "I have made a great success. Will you send me $5 to pay land-lady?—Your devoted son, Algy."
 "P. S.—Since writing this letter I am ashamed to ask you, so I ran after the postman and tried to get it back. I pray it does not reach you."
 The son was surprised when he received this reply: "Dear Algy,

Did You Ever Stop to Think?

By E. B. White, Secretary Shawnee, Okla., Board of Commerce

THAT it is strange that a publisher should be compelled to solicit advertising.
 THAT it is stranger still that he should have to offer any reasons why a business should be advertised.
 THAT is especially so in the case of a business man who imagines he is a business man.
 THAT the business man who thinks advertising does not pay, needs the services of a brain specialist.
 THAT advertising through the printed page renders valuable service.
 THAT if a business is to be a successful business, it must be an advertised business.
 THAT in order to grow and prosper, business men must grasp every opportunity to do so.
 THAT a whole lot of business men do not realize an opportunity when they see it.
 THAT a business man has a very comfortable feeling when through truthful advertising he has won the confidence of the buying public.
 THAT confidence of the public means satisfied customers.
 THAT satisfied customers mean more sales.
 THAT more sales mean more prestige for the merchant.
 PRESTIGE MEANS A STEADY GROWING BUSINESS. KEEP YOUR BUSINESS GROWING.

your prayer was answered. The letter did not reach me."

An American prelate, discussing the strata into which the church of today seems to be divided, told this story:
 "There's a certain extremely rich church of New York which is accounted the most exclusive in the United States. One day a Negro called on the rector and announced that he would like to become a member. The rector, nonplussed, played for time, touched lightly on certain difficulties, and, after intimating that Sam might not feel quite at home, suggested that the latter ask guidance from above as to the wisdom of the idea.

In a week Sam came back, rather gloomy.
 "Well," said the rector, "how do you feel about it now?"
 "Well, sah, ah done ask de Lawd about it; and he Lawd he said dat he'd been a tryin' to get into yo' church so long hisself dat he don't see how I have any show at all."

The prisoner was being cross-examined by counsel for the prosecution when the judge interrupted.
 "You say you dined at the Hotel Metro. What did you partake of?"
 The prisoner turned to reply: "Beefsteak, your honor," he said. The judge looked stern. "On your oath?" he said.
 "No, your honor," he replied, "on a plate."

Robinson was well known in the club as a vegetarian. The members were hardly surprised, therefore, when his friend Jones burst into the billiard room one evening and announced:
 "Robinson has been true to his vegetarian principles."
 "What's he done now?" they asked.
 "Haven't you heard? He's run away with a grass widow."

Life Lines

BY FRED TAYLOR
 Happiness—"Happy are ye if you do them." The human race hungers for happiness. By all forms of service and sacrifice, man has sought for this "fountain of youth," this "elixir of life" and when thought attained has cried "eureka." But happiness comes not from without but from within.

in. Instead of being at the foot of the rainbow it is in the human heart. As the spring is so shall the stream be. A pure heart; a contented spirit; an approving conscience brings this blessing. Not what one possesses but how it is possessed makes for happiness. The rich man robed in purple may not be as happy as the poor man clad in rags. Happiness is found in liberty and not in license. Wild oats sown in prodigal youth never yields a harvest of happiness in old age. Happiness is the wages of piety; peace; purity; power; and perfection. The "blesseds" of the Master may be the "happies" of the man who follows in His steps. The Bible teaches that happiness comes from faith in God's providence; discovery of wisdom's way; obedience of Christ's commands; charity to earth's poor; submission to heaven's discipline; endurance of unjust persecution; faithfulness to revealed duty; and anticipation of eternal reward. Let all hearts seek and find this priceless pearl of happiness.

The Oregon Statesman—first with international, national, state and city news. Subscribe to it, then renew your subscription.

Every Qualified Voter IN School District No. 24 Should register his or her choice for School Director at the election to be held tomorrow MONDAY, JUNE 15th from 2:00 to 8:00 o'clock p. m. Polling place 226-28 South Commercial St. Office of Associated Oil Co. Let that choice be J. C. TIBBITS "The Square Deal Candidate"

CHICHESTER'S PILLS
 THE DIAMOND BRAND
 THE ONLY PILL THAT CURES
 Constipation, Biliousness, Headache, Indigestion, Stomach Trouble, Nervousness, Irritability, and all the ailments of the bowels.
 Sold by Druggists Everywhere

The Town Is Not Going to the Dogs
 The Undertakers Are Advertising

In 1909 and 1910 at my advent into Salem, I was a liberal advertiser in both local papers.
 Pressure was brought to bear from an association of which I was a member, claiming that advertising was unethical and that I must discontinue it if I wished to keep my membership.

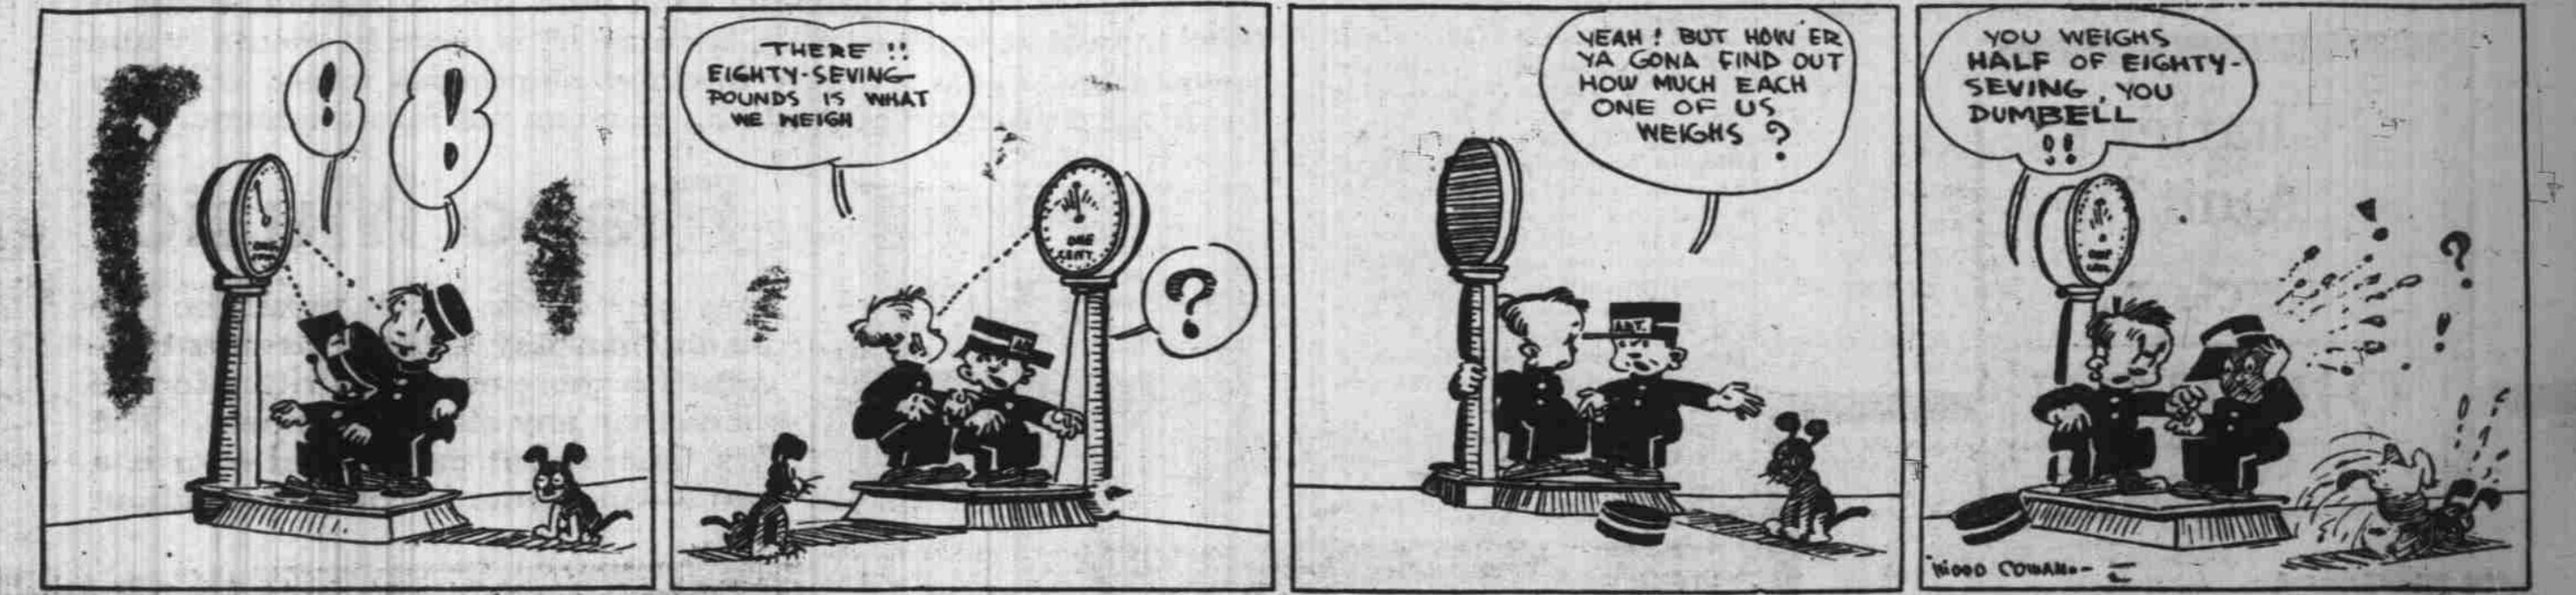

How Times Do Change

For Perfect Funeral Service Call

Terwilliger Funeral Home
 770 Chemeketa Street Telephone 724
 (Watch for my advertisement in next Sunday's Statesman.)

It's Your Duty to Vote for School Director
 MONDAY, JUNE 15th
 Vote For FRANK E. NEER
 A man fully qualified to render public service and not handicapped by selfish interests nor seeking personal profits.
 Paid Adv.

IN OUR OFFICE

DOROTHY DARNIT

By Charles McManus