SAYS LIFE OF YOUTH

I must take this beautiful thing and break it;
It is time I began;
I shall make a better thing of it,
But nothing so beautiful!

Nothing so beautiful as Youth
Starting at the sting of a lash,
Cheeks bright, chin high, back taut, eyes a-blaze,
Outraged, betrayed, incredulous of pain,
Of whips, of thorn-roses, in a world of gold,
Reaching superbly for the whip to break it!

I must take this beautiful thing and break it,
It is time I began;
I shall make a better thing of it,
But nothing so beautiful.

Nothing so beautiful, alas,
As Youth tasting the whip;
Nothing so beautiful, alas, alas,
As Youth first bitten by the thorn!

—Abbie Huston Evans

ONE OF THE LOVELIEST of all the June social events took place yesterday afternoon from three to six o'clock when Mrs. Frederick Hill Thompson, Mrs. Phil Newmyer, and Mrs. Fred Powell entertained with a garden party at the Thompson home on North Summer street. Banks of vivid flowers, fragrant roses, and redolent hedges made an incomparably picturesque background for the arrangement of swinging hammocks, reed furniture, and the tea tables, each carrying out its color scheme of pink and blue. In the trees were many little winged songsters brought to inhabit the garden during the afternoon and flute and twitter informal melody. The punch bowl was arranged in a basket of wild roses and love-in-the-mist.

A musical program added further to the delight of the afternoon. Mrs. Arthur J. Rahn, Mrs. E. H. Hobson, Miss Gladys McIntyre, Miss Jean Hobson, Miss Louise Findley, and Miss Claudine Gerth, Ruth Emery Riddle, and Faye Sparks all giving numbers.

Tea-table hostesses during the afternoon were: Mrs. C. J. Bowles of Portland, Mrs. Lair Thompson of Portland, Mrs. John Rand, Mrs. John McNary, Mrs. Charles Breck and Mrs. William McGilchrist, Jr.

Assisting in the serving and about the gardens were Mrs. G. C. Bellinger, Mrs. Walter Spaulding, Mrs. Frank Myers, Mrs. E. H. Hobson, Mrs. Max Page, Mrs. Carl Bowersox, Mrs. T. E. Gallo-way, Mrs. Carl Webb, Mrs. Walter Kirk, Mrs. Wren Powers, Miss Marie Churchill, Mrs. C. E. Bates, Mrs. Robert C. Sarrell, Mrs. H. H. Terrill, Mrs. Lester Barr, Mrs. Harry Twitchell and Mrs. E. E. Bragg.

More than two hundred cards were issued for the affair. A number of prominent out-of-town guests were present for the occasion including: Mrs. Paul Cooper, Mrs. Lair Thompson, Mrs. C. D. Bowles, Mrs. Frank Mitchell, and Mrs. Miller McGilchrist, all of Portland.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the First Methodist church met at the home of Mrs. M. C. Findley on Friday afternoon.

Mrs. F. L. Utter was leader of devotion, while Mrs. U. G. Boyer and Mrs. Harry Swatford presented the lesson, which was on South America.

Musical numbers were given by Miss Louise and Miss Edith Findley on the piano and marimba.

Miss Alta Jones entertained in a charming manner during the week for the pleasure of a group of Portland matrons who motored down for 1 o'clock luncheon and a bridge tea at the Jones' home. The drawing room and luncheon table were transformed into a veritable summer garden with seasonal flowers in the pastel shades. The high bridge honors of the afternoon went to Mrs. C. A. Millman of Portland and to Mrs. H. H. Olinger; Mrs. H. J. Faust won the consolation award.

Covers were placed at the pleasantly appointed table for: Mrs. H. J. Faust, Mrs. C. A. Millman, Mrs. L. R. Mills, Mrs. L. Rollison and Mrs. E. N. Bingham, all of Portland, and Mrs. E. H. Hobson, Mrs. H. H. Olinger, Mrs. Edwin L. Baker, Mrs. Sam Adolph, Mrs. William Bell, Mrs. Victor McKenzie and the hostess Miss Jones.

A gifted group of piano pupils of Dorothy Pearce and Byron D.

Arnold will be presented in recital at 8 o'clock Monday evening, June 15, in Waller hall. Lucella Bates, violinist, will be the assisting artist, with Stella Cairncross paying her accompaniments. Little Miss Bates is a 12-year old artist who possesses a remarkable talent. She is a pupil of Marguerite MacManus at the Oregon Agricultural college school of music. Miss Cairncross, one of Mr. Arnold's Corvallis pupils, will assist Miss Bates in two groups, the two girls playing together Weber's Sonata for violin and piano, in three movements.

A cordial invitation is extended the public to attend the recital in which the following young musicians will participate: Evelyn Craig, Caroline Waterman, Margaret Pierce, Wayne Fehler, Mildred Drager, Elizabeth Bonell, Esther Elliott, Winstanley Jenks, Marie Bones, Ann Reed Burns, Edith Wheeler, Homer Goulet, Jr., Reynolds Allen, Audrey Fehler, Rachel Bonell, Doris Barnett, Cora Mae Fehler, Margaret Heltzel, Grace Elizabeth Holman, Josephine Albert, Edith May Jenks and Pauline Johnson.

Two weddings of interest in Willamette university circles will take place during the week, that on Tuesday, June 16, of Miss Dorothy Palmer to Edwin Thomas, and on Friday, June 19, that of Miss Lorlei Blatchford to Clarence Gillette.

The first wedding will take place in Medford, while the wedding of Miss Blatchford and Mr. Gillette will be solemnized at the First Methodist church in Salem at 4 o'clock.

Salem friends of Prof. and Mrs. T. S. Roberts will be interested to know that by the first of the year they will have a pipe organ installed in their home. The order has already been placed with the Guenther Organ company.

Interesting among the recitals of the coming week will be that of Wednesday evening when Miss Margaret Fisher will present a group of twenty-four piano pupils of the junior and intermediate groups in an early summer musical at the First Presbyterian church. Miss Gladys McIntyre, soprano, will assist with pleasing vocal solos and Mrs. T. E. McCroskey, with a group of her imitable children's readings. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Those who will present a delightful program are: Betty Utter, Charles Roblin, Julia Johnson, Esther Miller, Letha Madison Kathleen Lindbeck, Robert Utter, Madeline McKillop, Lougene Bretteke, Madeline Moir, Marjorie Moir, Dorothy Moore, Doris Clark, Norman Wright, Ina Barbyte, Dorothy Gutekunst, Blair Foley, Karlene Rice, Josephine Evans, Beatrice Evans, Bertram Miller, Audrey Ashby, Mary Hickman, and Audrey Free.

Mrs. J. A. Propp and children Maybelle, John and Melvin will motor to Portland Sunday, accompanied by Miss Ann Paulsen and Gene Barber to be dinner guests of Mrs. Propp's daughter and son-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. H. Charlton.

In the afternoon John Propp will leave on the Great Northern for Minneapolis. He will visit with relatives and friends during the summer, and enter a preparatory school in the cities during the winter.

Mrs. Propp will remain in Portland for a few days, for a visit with her daughter, and attend the Rose Festival.

The spacious and lovely Roberts studio at 505 North Summer street was the scene of two particularly delightful musicales, one taking place in the afternoon, the second in the evening. Upstairs and downstairs the house was adorned with great baskets of summer flowers—plumey ocean spray, American beauty roses, sweet william and Canterbury bells. In the reception hall, just outside the entrance to the studio, those who called were delighted to see Mrs. Roberts' diploma displayed, this being the certificate marking her completion of the prescribed course of the Dunning system under Kate Dell Marden of Portland. Mrs. Roberts was recently a guest at a charming four-course luncheon at which Mrs. Marden was hostess for those who have completed the course.

For the afternoon program the following juniors took part, appearing against the attractive background Mrs. Roberts had arranged for the event: Eleanor Luper, Phillip Brown, Frederick Blatchford, Vernon Bushnell, Jas. Luper, Helen Snyder, Evelyn Young, Helen Benner, Sam Ramp, Lawrence Engstrom, Kenneth Heardsley, Vael Rogers, LaVerne Homyer, Velma May, Alda Fleming, Blanche Reece and Hattie Ramp. Assisting at the junior recital were Arbutus Rudy and Stanley King, the first number being a song, "The Lavender Seller," and the second, a reading, "Ma and the Auto." Both were done in a manner to delight the audience.

At 8 o'clock last evening Professor Roberts presented the talented members of his advanced class with Lulu Rosamond Walton, reader; Miss Gladys McIntyre, soprano, and Miss Louise Findley piano accompanist, as assistants. An outstanding number on the program was the Mozart Concert in E flat for two pianos which Miss Maude Engstrom and Miss Grace Flynn played with unmistakable ability. Even more difficult than the concerto itself was the Merckle cadenza.

Following is the complete program, each number of which was done in a creditable manner:

- When the Lights Are Low..... Engelmann
- Marguerita Millard..... Spindler
- Charge of the Hussars..... Yvonne Aufranc
- In a Cozy Corner..... Bratton
- Ernest Thompson..... Ernest Thompson
- La Sylphs..... Bachman
- Claudine West..... Claudine West
- Duet—Waltz and Finale..... Bohm
- Ella Russell, Carl Lemke..... Ella Russell
- Reading—"A Call with Attaboy"..... Selected
- Miss Walton..... Paul Lee
- Il Trovatore..... Verdi
- Spring Song..... Hensell
- March de Nuit..... Gottschalk
- Hark, Hark, the Lark..... Schubert
- Grace Flynn..... Grace Flynn
- Romance..... LaForge
- Valse Chromatique..... Godard
- Vocal—I Childe The Not..... Schumann
- Miss McIntyre..... Miss McIntyre
- Allegro from Concerto in E flat for two pianos..... Mozart
- Maude Engstrom, Grace Flynn..... Maude Engstrom, Grace Flynn

Miss Joy Turner presented a large group of her advanced pupils in an interesting recital of last Thursday evening, June 11, at the First Christian Church. Donald and Glenn Woody were the assistants of the evening, winning large applause. The following is the program rendered:

- Piano—Concerto in D Minor, Mendelssohn, Allegro Appassionato, Adagio
- Piano I—Wilma Morrison, Piano II, Ferné Tweedle
- Piano—Grande Valse Caprice, Engelmann, Gertrude Winegar
- Violin—Coronation March from "The Prophet", Meyerbeer-Franklin, Donald Siegmund

One of the outstanding musical offerings of the week will doubtless be the invitational recital at which a large number of friends of Mary Talmadge-Headrick, violinist, and of Ruth Bedford, pianist, will be the guests at 8:30 o'clock Tuesday evening, June 16, at the First Presbyterian church. The two artists, both of whom hold distinct places in Salem's musical life, will be presented at this time by their teachers, Beatrice Shelton and William Wallace Graham.

Miss Headrick, an artist-pupil of Professor Graham is a violinist of ample technical attainments and of great natural gifts. Her playing is energetic, full of artistic temperament, and fine feeling and reveals great warmth of tone and purity of pitch. Mrs. Headrick will play the tremendously difficult Saint Saens Concerto in B Minor, never before played to a Salem audience. Assisted at the piano by Miss Bedford, she will also play the first two movements of the Johannes Brahms D Minor Sonata, which is also a very difficult work and its rendition on Tuesday night will also be a premiere in Salem.

Miss Bedford, the quality of whose splendid musicianship has long been known, will play what will amount to a double program, as aside from her solo work she will accompany Mrs. Headrick through her brilliantly chosen selections. But Miss Bedford is an artist always equal to the demands made upon her and has proved her mastery of the accompanist's art as well as the soloist's art. Her entire musical training has been with Beatrice Shelton.

Little June Lochridge, daughter of Mrs. Albert C. Gragg, was presented in piano recital Saturday evening by Mrs. Stuart Parke. Assisting were Mrs. J. M. England, vocal solo and Mabelle Gregg on the violin.

June celebrated her eighth birthday recently.

Dr. and Mrs. J. D. McCormick entertained on Friday evening with a delightful dinner party, placing covers for tea. A color scheme of pink and white—pink rose buds and white carnations—made the table festive. An enjoyable evening of music followed. In the group were Judge and Mrs. P. J. Kuntz, Dr. and Mrs. Benjamin Blatchford, Miss Delferna Keiso, Kenneth McCormick, and the hosts, Dr. and Mrs. J. D. McCormick.

Chapter G of the FEO Sisterhood will entertain at 6:30 o'clock Tuesday evening at Chemawa for Chapter AB. The families of members of both chapters will also be guests at the picnic.

The ladies social circle of the Central Congregational church was entertained Thursday afternoon in the church parlors by Mrs. Ross, Mrs. McCune, Mrs. Ashby and Mrs. Anderson.

The church parlors were decorated for the occasion and a social afternoon pleasantly spent, after which a delicious luncheon was served. Mrs. Harvey Zelsdorf sang two solos which was greatly appreciated, and two piano solos by Miss Lucile Anderson was enjoyed by all.

Barbara Fritchie Sewing club will meet Tuesday, June 16, at the home of Mrs. C. M. Lockwood in Morningside. A pot-luck dinner will be served at noon.

Mrs. Charles Gray, housemother at the Kappa Alpha Theta house the last year, left today for independence to spend some time with her mother and other relatives in that vicinity. Mrs. Gray will not return to Corvallis next year, and her plans are still indefinite as to the future.—Corvallis Gazette-Times.

Mr. and Mrs. William M. Hamilton left on Friday for a two weeks trip to San Francisco.

The WCTU will hold their annual Flower Mission day program at 2:30 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon. A good program relating to the occasion has been planned. During the afternoon an offering, not only in money but in suitable articles of any sort, will be taken for the Children's Farm Home at Corvallis.

Members of the Central Idaho society of Oregon will hold their third annual picnic at the fairgrounds on Sunday, June 21.

Basket dinner will be served at noon and an extensive program has been prepared for the occasion. Mrs. Carey Martin being chairman off the general committee on arrangements. Pommer residents of Central Idaho, originally Idaho and Nez Perce counties, now comprising Idaho, Nez Perce, Latah, Lewis and Clearwater counties, are members of the society, and are well represented in Oregon, many being active in early Idaho history.

J. J. Overman of Portland is president; Elias Kilen of Salem, vice president, and Allen McLean of Portland, secretary treasurer. Several hundred were present last year, and a larger attendance is expected this year.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Giese, 2440 Fairgrounds road, was the scene of an attractive home wedding when their niece, Miss Theresa Smith became the bride of Paul J. O'Neil of Marshfield, Robert McElvanna, brother-in-law of the bride, officiated. Mrs. Giese played the wedding

An engagement of wide interest in Salem was that made last Sunday at the Marion Hotel when Miss Audrey V. Pomeroy announced her engagement to Mr. Charles A. Goodwin at a delightful golf breakfast. After a morning on the Illihee links the group adjourned to the Marion Hotel, unaware of the happy secret that was to reveal itself there, while the guests were seated around the table with its exquisite centerpiece of sweet peas in pastel shades. Silver candelabra with pink candles further adorned the room.

The date of the wedding has not yet been announced. Guests of Miss Pomeroy for her engagement breakfast were: Miss Molly Schwabauer, Miss Luella Paton, Miss Valeria Briggs, Miss Ruth Edwards, Miss Melba Davenport, Miss Macyle, Miss Marjorie Betts, Miss Olga Gray and Miss Marie Briggs.

Miss Ann Paulsen of Hubbard will be a guest of Miss Maybelle Propp over the week-end.

The Willamette University class of 1924 met for their first reunion at a 7 o'clock breakfast Wednesday at the Salem Restaurant.

Miss Susie Sparrow of Portland is a house-guest for the week end of Miss Eleanor Hucklestein. For Miss Sparrow's pleasure a group of friends gathered for a delightful party last night at the Hucklestein home where the Japanese motif was effectively used in the decorations. In the dining room a color scheme of yellow was carried out. The guests included former friends of the honor guest during the years she spent in Salem.

The friends of Robbin Fisher, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Fisher of 760 North Church street, will be happy over the news that he has been elected to the honorary scholarship medical fraternity, Alpha Omega Alpha, upon the completion of his work at the University of Oregon Medical school. Mr. Fisher was one of three in the entire class to receive this honor. Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Fisher, Mrs. E. J. Herman and son, Billie, of Los Angeles, and Miss Margaret Fisher will motor to Eugene tomorrow to be guests at the formal graduation exercises. During the coming year Mr. Fisher will do his interne work at the Multnomah County Hospital.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles L. Sherman left following Willamette University commencement for an extended motor trip into the middle west.

The Salem club, Daughters of the Nile, will hold the last meeting of the season on Wednesday, June 17, in the Masonic Temple. The members will assemble for an all-day meeting with Mrs. O. A. Olsen as the hostess. In the future the club will hold all meetings in the Masonic rooms. The ladies devote their entire time to charitable sewing.

Mrs. C. J. Faircourt is attending the state convention of the Business and Professional Women as an official delegate from Portland. She is the house-guest of her sister, Mrs. Troy D. Wood.

Judge and Mrs. O. P. Coshov have been guests during the past week in Portland.

The marriage of Miss Lela Reel to Mr. William Newmyer on Thursday evening in Portland was one of the prominent nuptials of the month. The service was read at the parsonage of the Atkinson Memorial Congregational with Rev. and Mrs. Herbert Crocker officiating. For the past two years the bride has been on the faculty of the McKinley Junior high school. She is the daughter of Mrs. Ella Reed. The groom, deputy state fire marshal, is of Chemawa, and at Corvallis was a member of the Psi Chi fraternity. After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Newmyer will make their home in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan J. Fry, Jr., Miss Priscilla Fry, and Mrs. Kitty Graver, are leaving today for a four weeks' trip to Alaska.

Alene Ritchie, Joe Nee, and Vern Tyler. Mr. and Mrs. Bonney will reside at the residence of Dean and Mrs. George H. Alden during the Alden's trip in the east.

The beautiful country-home of Mr. and Mrs. Glen L. Adams was the scene on last Monday evening of a most delightful affair when the members of the Men's Bible class of the First Presbyterian church gathered with their families for a twilight picnic on the spacious lawn about the home. Near eighty persons were present and after partaking of a bounteous feast spread on picnic tables, some of the more rugged ones engaged in indoor baseball pitching horseshoes, and other games, others sought fellowship and a good time around the fireplace inside. It was not long until the darkness and cool of the evening sent all indoors where a short program was rendered to the delight of all present. Rev. and Mrs. W. W. Long were honor guests for the evening. At the close of the program Dr. L. G. Altman, secretary of the class, read resolutions of appreciation from the class to Rev. and Mrs.

Long; and Mr. J. P. Bates, president of the class, presented to the Longs in the name of the class a pair of silver candlesticks in token of their appreciation of the services of the pastor and his wife. Dr. S. A. Bowman is teacher of this Bible class.

Timid Animals Succumb In Clamor of Modern Zoo SEATTLE.—Artificiality of surroundings, noise and gasoline fumes from motor traffic are described as the reasons for animals in the Woodland Park zoo here killing themselves and dying from disease. Last season, frightened at a steady stream of automobiles, four deer charged into the corral fence and broke their necks. "Taken from the quiet surroundings of their native haunts into the noise and gas laden air of the park," said Dr. Gus Knudson, director of the zoo, "the animals lose interest in life and die, if they are not frightened to death."
