A BEAUTIFULLY conducted June wedding took place at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the First Methodist church in Woodburn when Miss Florence Klamp became the bride of Herbert Welch, Reverend Mr. Everett of the First Presbyterian church in Corvallis officiating. The impressive double ring service was used.

The members of the bridal party assembled at the flower-decked altar to the strains of the Mendelssohn Wedding March. Virgil Starr, presiding at the pipe organ. Immediately preceding the ceremony, Miss Willetta Welch sang "At Dawning." The bride, attractive in white georgette over baronnet satin, adorned with silver lace, was given in marriage by her father. She wore a full length veil of tulle with a head-dress caught with orange blossoms, and silver slippers. Her shower bouquet combined white bride's roses and pink sweet peas.

Miss Myrtle Klamp, in apricot voile, attended her sister as maid-of-honor, while Miss Naomi Fullerton and Miss Frances Welch were bridesmaids. Miss Fullerton wearing rose and Miss Welch of child, voile. The attendants carried sweet peas in pastel shades. The groom was attended by Arthur Buell as best man, Ferris White and Fred Burrier were the ushers.

The church with mock orange, blue lupin, and pink roses was a bower of early summer blossoms. A reception took place at the bride's home immediately following the ceremony.

The bride, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Klamp of Woodburn, graduated with the class of 1925 from the Oregon Agricultural College. The groom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Welch, also of the Oregon Agricultural College, will take his bride to Corvallis after a honeymoon trip to the beaches, where the young couple will make their home.

Mrs. Welch's going away costume was an ensemble of blonde satin with jade green, worn with a hat to harmonize.

Mrs. Max O. Buren will entertain the members of the West-North Division of the Ladies Aid society of the First Presbyterian church at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at her home, 745 Court street.

A musicale that will interest a large number of friends throughout the city is scheduled for 8:30 o'clock this evening at the First Presbyterian church when Mary Talmadge Hedrick, violinist, and Ruth Bedford, pianist, will be presented by their respective teachers, Professor William Wallace Graham and Beatrice Shelton. The two artists will doubtless reveal some of the most marked talent available in Salem.

The following program speaks for itself:
Third Sonata, D minor, Op. 108, Brahms; first and second movement, allegro, adagio. Violin and piano.
Etude en Forme de Valse Op. 52, Saint-Saens; piano.
Third Concerto, B minor, Op. 61, Saint-Saens; allegro non troppo, andantino quasi allegretto, molto moderato e maestoso; violin.

Ballade No. 1, D flat, Liszt; II. Gnomonreigen, Liszt; piano.
Serenade Melancolique, Op. 26, Tchaikowsky; violin.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Bishop and Charles Kay Bishop will be visitors in Portland this week for the Rose Show.

Last Thursday evening the Christian Endeavor society of the Castle Chapel of the United Brethren church motored to the ranch of Edward A. Dunigan, Sr., on Howell Prairie, for a very pleasant evening. About twenty young people were present, with Mrs. Hill and Mrs. Pointer as chaperons. An evening of games was enjoyed with refreshments of ice cream and cake following:

A delightful pre-nuptial shower of the season was that of Saturday afternoon when Miss Florence Young entertained with a kitchen shower for which Miss Phyllis Palmer, whose marriage to Fred Palmer will take place during the early summer, was the inspiration. The rooms were love-

To Keep Your Form Roll and Wear Corsets Says Venus of The Air

FLOOR rolling and a corset will do it. What? What every woman wants to do—either keep from losing or restore the grace of her figure!

Now comes another authority in the train of those experts who prescribe ways and means to allay the pervasive feminine fear of the graceless figure.

Marie Meeker, known all over America as "The Venus of the Air," speaks with the force of practical experience successfully applied.

Dainty Marie, generally acknowledged to possess the most shapely figure vauvauville ever knew, believes in the use of the sensible corset.

"Women," said Miss Marie, "make a mistake when they go uncorseted. As an athlete I know the value of a brace for the vital organs and, while I do not wear a corset while exercising on my aerial apparatus, I put it on immediately after I finish.

"I have developed, through experimenting, a method for reducing women who are too fat. My system has been endorsed by physicians. It involves the floor-rolling method with a distinctly different movement for each fatty part. If the fat is in the abdominal region, a corset, after rolling, retains the advantage one gains through my method. I think, in addition, a corset adds much to neatness in dress, a condition all women are desirous of obtaining.

"A year ago, through an accident, I had to leave off my exercises for a while. Immediately I began to accumulate fat. Soon I weighed 160 pounds. Upon recovering from my injuries, I reduced myself to 128 pounds through my rolling method. That is my weight now."

ly with baskets of pink roses, ocean spray and azure delphinium. A mock wedding was a pleasing entertainment feature of the afternoon.

Those meeting to honor Miss Palmer were Mrs. John Palmer, Miss Pauline Rickell, Miss Lola Nye, Miss Lola Millard, Miss Frances Hodge, Miss Hollis Vick, Miss Myrtle Jensen, Miss Mildred Tomlinson, Miss Olive Tomlinson, Miss Mary Jane Albert, Miss Margaret Legge, Miss Jennelle Vandewort, Miss Margaret Bo Dine, Miss Kathleen La Raut, Miss Faye Sparks, Miss Helen Gatke, Miss Dorothy Ostrander, Miss Marjorie Christensen, Miss Paloma Prouty, Miss Eva Roberts, Miss Ruth Ross, Miss Eva Tacheron, and the hostess, Miss Young.

One of the attractively planned recitals of the month took place at 8 o'clock last evening in Waller Hall when a group of the piano pupils of Miss Dorothy Pearce and of Byron D. Arnold were presented by Mr. Arnold. Adding to the interest of a program, each number of which was played from memory, was the piano and violin numbers by the two young guest artists of the evening—Stella Carlson and Lucelia Bates of Corvallis. Little Miss Bates is a talented pupil of Marguerite MacManus at the Oregon Agricultural College school of music.

A unique decorative effect was secured for the evening by the use of Paisley shawls and brass candelabras on the stage. Pale yellow candles burned in the decorative holders.

Friends of the young musicians enjoyed the following program last night:
Hunting Scene, Spindler—Wayne Fehler.
Happy Days, Conte—Mildred Drager.
Curious Story, Heller—Elizabeth Bonell.
Elfin Dance, Grieg—Esther Elliott.
Tarantella, Bechter—Winstanley Jenks.
