IDEAL IS THE ONE WORD that perfectly describes this 7-room 2-story home. Not new but everything else. Cleaner, more perfect from basement to garret simply cannot be found. Lot 60x160, fine corner on paved street with east front and open view; fine big double garage; for order, neatness and general appearance from end to end, it is simply the last word. Basement as clean and orderly as a dining room with profusion of closets and storage nooks; construction the best; conditions A-1. At the price, $4500, it is very seldom equalled. The kind that a salesman is proud to show and that buyers wait months to find. Will consider a smaller house in exchange.

GEM 10 ACRES 4 1-2 miles north of Salem; best macadam road to pavement; very best soil; nearly all cultivated and set to good assortment of fruit, mostly berries; comfortable 4-room house in good condition; good barn and chicken house. Near Claxtar station on the Oregon Electric. Splendid value at $3300. Want $1200 cash or in Salem property. Balance 4 years at 6 per cent.

HERE IS YOUR TRADE—4 room house on Locust street; good gravel one block to pavement; lot 40x120; cherry, apple, walnut trees; city water; electricity; $1300. Take good lot or other property for $480; time on balance.

Personally inspected and approved values. No disappointments.

MY HUSBAND'S LOVE

ma'am? It's strong an' will'n' I be."

"Not a thing," Mrs. Durkee returned, laughing at her.

"Oh, don't be tellin' me that now, an' you just in from the city with all your pretty clothes on. Isn't the dinner to get? It's a fine touch I have on peeling potatoes, ma'am, and as for setting a table—"

She blew an airy kiss to the ceiling, then turned briskly toward the kitchen.

"Just go upstairs both of you and take your time. I can get a lot done before that 5:45 train back home."

There was but one response for Mrs. Durkee to make to this brazen bid, and she promptly made it:

"Never mind the 5:45. Why can't you stay to dinner?"

Bess Dean made a deprecatory gesture.

"No reason except that I don't want to become a permanent free boarder. I've been here so many times."

"And you're always welcome," Mrs. Durkee returned with every appearance of heartiness. "Besides, I wouldn't exactly call your entertainment free. You work for it harder than I like to. Mind that you pare the potatoes thin now."

"I'll scrape 'em," Bess promised, laughing, and disappeared into the passageway leading to the kitchen.

But I did not need Mrs. Durkee's gesture of caution to refrain from any comment concerning her until we were safely out of hearing.

Mrs. Durkee Has a "Hunch."

"Where shall I put these suitcases?" I asked. "I only need this bag upstairs, and there's no need of draging them down again in the morning."

"Put them back in that closet." She indicated one of the built-in recesses which abound in the old-fashioned house. "Alf or Leila will never look in there."

I disposed of the suitcases, and bag in hand, followed her up the staircase to her room, and was amused to see her close and bolt her door.

"Sit down a minute," she said. "You'll have plenty of time. You can put your things in the room opposite mine after a while. But I'm all in after listening to that imp of Satan down there. Did you ever see such gall in your life?"

"But you told her she was welcome." I couldn't keep back the retort.

Her Fluffiness bridled angrily. "And I told the truth," she said. "I didn't say I welcomed her. But Alfred certainly does. And let me tell you something else, Madge Graham, Dicky's in this thing somewhere. I don't know where. But, believe me, there's some secret between Alfred and Dicky and her that the boys are afraid will get out."

Siberia No Place Today For Seekers of Gold

SEATTLE, June 11.—The present policy of the Russian government has ended foreign gold exploration work and prospecting in Kamchatka, and in the district of the Amur river of Siberia, Carl A. Anderson, old Alaska gold hunter, said on returning to Seattle after a five-year stay in that region.

"I do not believe there are more than six foreign prospectors in the entire Kamchatka and Amur regions," Mr. Anderson declared. "It is a good place for foreign gold hunters to keep away from."

The Statesman cover county news more thoroughly than any other paper in Marion county. Our special correspondents do it.

Favors Canadian Minister to U. S.

Sir Robert Falconer, president of Toronto University, is leading agitation for the appointment of a Canadian minister to Washington. He wants Canada recognized as a power in its own right, and avers that she should be consulted in the arbitration of the troubles of small nations in the western hemisphere, a matter the U. S has always reserved for itself.
