A delightful hostess of the week was Mrs. Almira Hale, who entertained with an afternoon at her home for the pleasure of Mrs. B. L. Steeves, Mrs. W. C. Young, Mrs. E. C. Hickman, Mrs. C. F. Wilson and Mrs. C. J. Lisle. The decorations throughout the rooms were particularly lovely. In the first room baskets of ocean spray with pink roses were used, while in the second room crimson rambling roses were used with ocean spray. The guest room was equally attractive with ocean spray and Canterbury bells.

At the tea hour the hostess served refreshments, a crystal bowl of pink rosebuds, ocean spray and love-in-the-mist centered the table with blue candles in crystal holders repeating the motif. A particularly pleasant feature of the day was the receiving during the afternoon of a letter from Mrs. John L. Brady of Pocatello, Idaho, by the hostess. The letter was read to the group, all of which are close friends of Mrs. Brady and on a number of occasions have been entertained at Mrs. Hale's home with her.

Two interesting recitals planned for next week will be those given by Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Churchill. On Tuesday evening Mrs. Churchill will present his advanced pupils in recital at the First Christian church, with Lola Schutz reader; Leonard Chadwick, violin, and the high school double quartet assisting.

On Wednesday evening at the First Christian church the intermediate pupils of both Mr. and Mrs. Churchill will be presented. The high school double quartet and Stanley King, reader, will please with assisting numbers.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Lampert are spending the Rose festival days in Portland.

The members of Chemeketa chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will assemble at 12:30 o'clock today for a no-hostess luncheon at the Gray Belle, following the state board meeting which will take place in the Salem Chamber of Commerce rooms this morning. Those who expect to attend the luncheon are asked to make reservations by calling Mrs. Elmo S. White at 395-J.

In the afternoon the Daughters will meet at the home of Mrs. Seymour Jones for the closing meeting of the season.

Dr. and Mrs. J. N. Smith have recently secured an attractive summer cottage at Nye beach.

Mrs. O. C. Locke was a charming hostess of the week when she entertained on Tuesday for members of her bridge club at which time the prize winners of the year were announced. To Mrs. George F. Rodgers went first honor, and to Mrs. William Walton the second.

Japanese iris in low bowls was attractive about the rooms and on the tea-table. Mrs. Louis Lachmund and Mrs. John J. Roberts were invited guests for the closing meeting of the year. The club members present were Mrs. T. C. Smith, Jr., Mrs. T. A. Livesley, Mrs. Dan Fry, Jr., Mrs. J. Shelley Saurman, Mrs. George Rodgers, Mrs. John McNary, Mrs. David Eyre, Mrs. Frederick Lampert, Mrs. Henry Meyers and the hostess, Mrs. O. C. Locke.

Guests at the C. P. Bishop home are Mrs. Bertha Fisher and son, Ralph, of Portland.

Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Byrd will motor to Portland this evening to meet Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Byrd and children, Martha and William Henry, who are returning from a two months' visit in Ohio.

Mrs. Rex Sanford entertained at a charmingly appointed eight-cover dinner on Thursday evening honoring Miss Gertrude Gray of Portland, who has been the house guest during the past two weeks of her aunt, Mrs. John McNary. A silver bowl of pink and lavender Canterbury bells gave a delightful color note on the table, with rose candles used in silver holders.

Mrs. Walter Denton will present pupils in two piano recitals at the Center Street Methodist church, corner of Center and Thirteenth. On Monday evening a group of the younger pupils, with Stanley King, the talented boy reader, assisting, will be presented, while the intermediate and advanced pupils will appear on Tuesday evening. At this recital Miss Carol Dibble, reader, will assist.
