NEW ENTERPRISES FOR SALEM FILLS A NEED

AN AUCTION MARKET ESTABLISHED BY F. N. WOODRY

A Spacious Place Where Buyer and Seller May Meet for Mutual Benefit

F. N. Woodry has opened up at the corner of North Summer and Norway streets in Salem an auction market that will be a credit to this city; that would be a credit to any city.

The market is on the west side of North Summer street, opposite the home of Mr. Woodry. It occupies a full quarter block, 110 by 125 feet. Mr. Woodry has just finished on this property an attractive building 123 feet long by 24 feet wide. In the front is an open shed 44 by 30 feet, under which the auctions will be held. The building is modern, is provided with rest rooms for ladies and gentlemen, and the grounds will be adorned with lawn and shrubbery, in order to make them highly attractive.

Regular Auction Sales
A year ago last fall, Mr. and Mrs. Woodry took a trip through California, observing the public market arrangements in the different cities along the coast. They found none without such markets as Mr. Woodry is now establishing here; that is none of any size. This auction market will fill a real need in Salem. It will be a place where buyer and seller may come together for mutual benefit.

The plan is to have an auction sale every week, on a day fixed for the purpose. At that auction will be sold the accumulations for the week—household goods and furniture, and farm machinery and implements, horses, cattle, hogs, poultry and other live stock. There will be special auctions on other days, at the market, too, and Mr. Woodry will continue his business as a general auctioneer, wherever he may be called, in this vicinity.

At Long Time
Mr. Woodry has been in the auction business for a long time. He has been ten years in the business in Salem. He has built his business from the ground up, on principles of service to the public and honest dealings with his customers.

The new auction house will be open at all times, for the reception of goods, and for getting ready for the next auction. Mr. Woodry will buy used goods for cash.

He has been Salem's leading man in his line for a long time, and the new market will put him far in the lead in ability to serve; to give Salem a real need that has been long felt.

Will Have Opening
Mr. Woodry will give an opening of his new auction house, on Thursday next, June 25, beginning at 10 in the forenoon. He has already four households of high grade furniture, all of which will be offered at auction that day—along with whatever stock and machinery may come in before that date.

There will be a free lunch and coffee at noon, and a free dance with five piece Orleone orchestra at night. Mr. Woodry gives the opening for the purpose of getting location of the new auction house and the scope of the work to be done there, and from there. It will be a real, live, active center of things—getting the buyer and seller together on terms of mutual benefit.

It goes without saying that Mr. Woodry will have a crowd on his opening day, and that he will have no trouble getting special offers. With nearly 4300 feet of attention from the public whenever there is anything extraordinary to concrete floor space, capable of being all thrown together on auction or other days, this market will accommodate a lot of goods and a big crowd of people.

SIXTEEN NEW DWELLINGS BUILDING PERMITS FOR MONTH TOTAL $249,300

Sixteen building permits for new dwellings were issued from the office of the city recorder during the week ending Saturday noon. These have an aggregate value of $37,600, or an average of a little more than $2,000 per dwelling. Two of the permits were for $500 or under, cutting down the average. The remainder ranged from $1,500 to $4,000. Every indication is that June will be a banner building month of the city. Permits issued to date are $249,300.

FARM PROPERTY WAKENS MANY INQUIRIES ARE BEING RECEIVED IN SALEM

Based upon the number of inquiries regarding acreage, Eugene Grabenhorst, of the W. H. Grabenhorst and company, believes that the next few months will see a real "back to the land movement" under way in the Willamette Valley.

City property has been moving, but from present indications the tide is beginning to turn and a number of good sales in farm properties is expected in the near future.

Brick Building Plans Are Completed in Week

Plans have been completed for a one story brick building to be constructed by the Valley Motor company directly south of their show room on North High. The building will be divided into three store rooms to be rented by the motor company. The contract will be let immediately.

GROCER'S ART WORK RECOGNIZED

LONDON—R. Rollett, Grimby, grocer who paints as a hobby, has been notified that his picture, "After a Rainy Day," has been accepted for exhibition in this year's Royal academy. His work also was exhibited this year at the Paris salon, the Royal Scottish academy and the Royal Cambrian academy.

Seasonable Employment For State Is Reported

Following is a report according to districts or localities of seasonal employment condition in Oregon:

Portland:—Calls for berry pickers and for help at berry packing plants, both here and nearby districts. No further curtailment in logging camps has been reported and labor turnover in this industry has been small. Sawmill operation remains unchanged. Buildings activity continues unabated with sufficient help to fill all demands.

Eugene:—The demand for labor still continues good. Building construction continues unabated in the city as likewise does street paving. Considerable calls from the mills and camps for both skilled and unskilled men. There has been a strong demand for men on the Natron Cut-off.

Grant Pass:—Slight surplus of workers. Haying is in progress also fruit thinning and strawberry picking. No shortage of help anticipated at least until fruit picking starts.

Gresham:—Supply and demand well-balanced. Strawberry harvest at peak. Red raspberries will be on in about two weeks, as well as loganberries. When berry picking reaches its peak say about July 1st, there will be need for additional help in this section.

La Grande:—Surplus in all lines. There is no harvest in progress at the present time.

Marshfield:—Logging operations remain the same, less working force being employed in the mills. Labor is finding work on new construction such as highways and streets; there is very little unemployment.

Medford:—At the present time there is a surplus of workers in this community. About August 1st the harvesting or picking of pears will commence. No harvest in progress at this time. We believe, due to the many tourists who come into this community at the picking and packing season, that we will have enough labor to take care of our crop, however, we cannot give this as definite. There is usually a shortage during this period.

Pendleton:—At present there is a sufficiency of labor to fill all needs. Haying is under way; cherry picking and apple thinning is giving employment to a large number of people. Indications are that harvest will begin about the 10th of July. A considerable number of outside men will be necessary to handle the crop.

Roseburg:—There is a surplus of laborers and office workers. Pear crop of Bartlett's will start soon, but there will be no need for outside help. No need of harvest help until prune harvest in fall, which is a small crop this year.

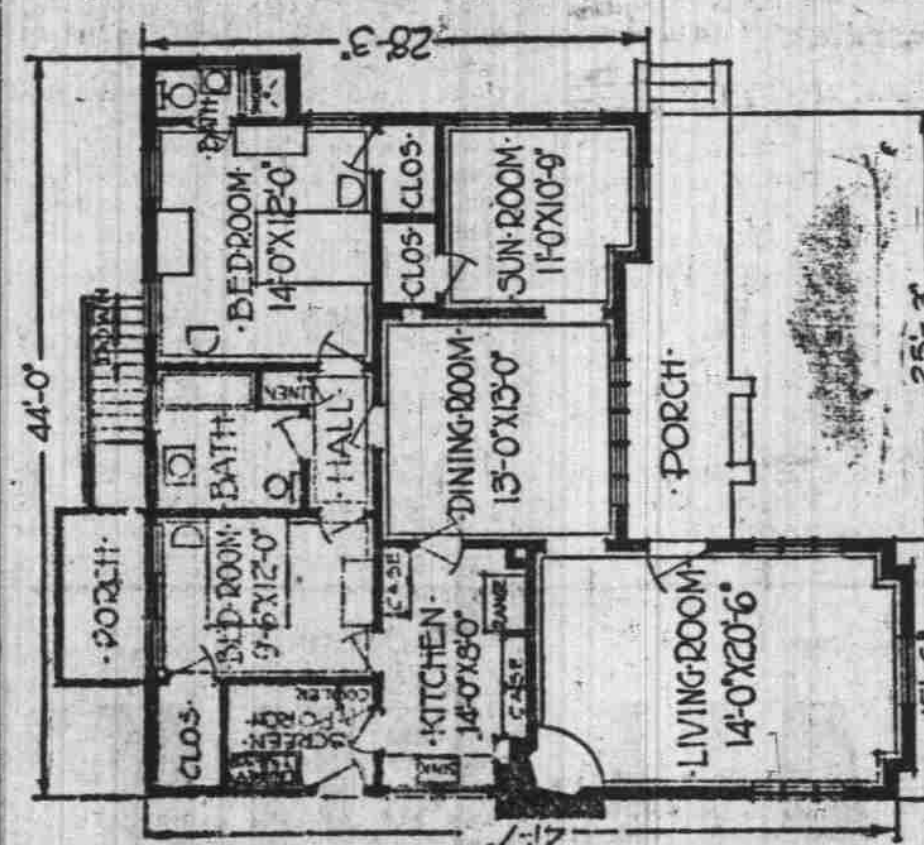

Salem:—Employment situation well-balanced with exception of a slight scarcity of men for general farm work. Some calls for pulpwood cutters and increased de-

Postal Authorities War Against Obscene Matter

WASHINGTON.—Recent increase in the flood of questionable matter offered for transmission through the mails, has led to further tightening of the routine safeguards employed in the postal service for keeping it out and for prosecution of those violating the federal statutes in that regard.

Thousands of complaints have come to the office of the postmaster general from parents and associations asking that the department augment its efforts to protect children from obscene literature and pictures.

The close surveillance exercised over the character of matter passing through the mails, officials believe, has affected a material decrease in the number of dealers in pornographic matter. Federal courts have discouraged the efforts of such dealers by upholding the post office department in each instance where rulings excluding obscene matter from the mails has been challenged.

Foreign dealers, especially since the war and the return of American soldiers from Europe, have been active in endeavoring to dispose of their products in this country. In many instances foreign consignments are intercepted at custom houses. The trade of these offenders has been crippled by the postal authorities returning to senders letters addressed to all known dealers in obscene matter, by confiscating great quantities of unmarketable advertising circulars and the materials as well, and by acquainting those attempting to import such matter with their responsibility and liability to prosecution under the penal provisions of the laws.

The numerous small magazines, depending for their popularity on the pornographic material in them are the source of continual complaint and the exclusion of many of them from the mails curtails to a considerable extent their widespread circulation. These publications have been responsible for increasing the work of the post office department's legal forces. The magazine, when excluded from the mails find their way to newstands through other channels.

Explorer Finds Books Of Unknown Language

HARBIN.—The site of the ancient city of Harahoto, once capital of the kingdom of Tangut, is reported to have been discovered by P. K. Kosloff, a Russian explorer. He recently has returned from a two years' stay in the heart of Mongolia, bringing with him, it is said, quantities of treasures of interest to scientists.

A library of 2,500 volumes in seven languages and some 350 pictures are said to have been recovered from the ruins of the long lost city, covered for centuries by the sands of the Gobi desert.

Some of the books reported to have been found are in a language hitherto unknown to philologists, but the explorer had the good fortune to find a dictionary of the language which should greatly facilitate translation of the books.

In addition many objects of art in gold and bronze and some artistic tapestries were said to have been found. The collection has been sent to the Leningrad Academy of Fine Arts.

BUILD WITH BRICK

The beauty attained in building homes of solid brick is illustrated in the partial sketch of the Weyerhaeuser mansion at Tacoma, shown above.

More than beauty is attained. When you build wall of brick, you shut out the cold and damp of winter and the heat of summer; you create a building which will stand and be a habitable home for centuries; which will cost very little for repairs and maintenance.

When you build of brick, you have a substantial, enduring, comfortable home which saves you much money in heating, insurance, and repairs.

And it costs you little, if any, more to build than a home of less enduring material. Ask your architect, or masonry builder.

DEAR BUILDER:

Glad to learn that you've decided to build this year. That's sensible; do it now, and enjoy it while you live.

We'd like to tell you a little about lumber.

We have just about the finest big, old timber in Oregon; soft clean seasoned wood that'll last; it does not shrink, swell, warp, split like young stuff—it stays put.

We have a lot of it. Our big Valsetz mill cut 300,000 feet a day, with the most modern equipment for cutting it accurately and without waste. Ever stop to figure how much carpenter time it saves to have your lumber cut accurately? We have 600 skilled men, in camp, mill and planer, ready to serve you.

We have 15,000,000 feet in stock; more than 1,000,000 feet in our Salem yard. About 12,000 feet would build a fine cottage; we have enough on hand to build 1,000 houses.

But what we don't have in the yard, we can cut inside of a few minutes. How big? Up to 36x36 inches, 90 feet long; and anything down to a shingle or a lath. We'll cut EXACTLY what you want, as you want it.

No job is too big, or too small, for us. We're able to give the best material, the best service and the best prices, because we're always at work and so can keep skilled, interested men.

The whole Valsetz mill equipment, and our own Valley & Siletz railroad, and our miles of splendid timber; and our 600 skilled men, are back of any order you place with us.

Write, phone or call. We'll quit business when we can't serve you joyously.
