A STRENGTH AND REFUGE:—O Lord, Thou art my God; I will exult Thee, I will praise Thy name; for Thou hast done wonderful things. . . Thou hast been a strength to the poor, a strength to the needy in his distress, a refuge from the storm, a shadow from the heat. Isaiah 25:1, 4.

SALEM A WHOLESALE AND JOBBING CENTER

As a wholesaling and jobbing center, Salem continues to make growth—
 Adding new lines—
 Enjoying an increase of volume of business—
 Extended her patronizing territory constantly.

It is becoming more and more evident that large wholesaling and jobbing houses are needed here—that they perform a real community service—

That they increase all other lines of business here; that they link up a widening territory to this city; establish Salem as the trading center and the general banking and business center of a larger and ever larger number of people, living in an ever widening territory.

Good roads are helping in this process. The enterprise of a lot of men with vision is helping more. These men, while they engage in business primarily to make profits for themselves, have the satisfaction of giving employment to worthy home people; of helping to make Salem a larger and solidier city; of aiding the men on the land to find markets at better prices for what they produce and may produce. There is satisfaction in such service, aside from the mere dollars that may be made.

There is a splendid spirit of cooperation growing up here, between our wholesalers and jobbers and manufacturers, and our men on the land. It is a spirit that builds cities worthy of the name, and that fills the tributary territory with prosperous and industrious and satisfied and progressive people.

FARMERS STUDY ELECTRICITY

Farm surveys to determine the practicability and costs of installing and using electricity are being made in several states. In Idaho, a statewide committee has recently been appointed for this purpose. Fifteen other states including Oregon and Washington have committees for similar work.

The Oregon state grange at its last annual meeting in May this year, passed resolutions providing for a committee to study the problem of hydro-electric development and to initiate a measure providing for state owned and developed light and power plants. This measure if initiated will be voted on at the next regular election in November next year. That a tremendous political battle will revolve about this subject in this state is expected.

The surveys now under way will try to determine how rural communities may obtain power and light at the least cost for transmission lines, equipment and power consumed. Light is no doubt the first desire with power for running machinery in the house and on the premises outside, the second.

With these surveys as basis for procedure the more general use of electricity is assumed and the desirability of rural life increased.

WHICH SHALL IT BE?

The MacMillan Arctic expedition is threatened with recall as a result of the commander's obstinate refusal to use radio prescribed by the United States navy department.

MacMillan bases his refusal on the fact that the high wave length radio equipment is seriously affected by the "static" near the poles. As a result of this condition during his last trip to the polar region when he was using navy radio equipment he was out of communication with the outside world for days at a time.

The radio equipment which MacMillan desires to use was made especially for him for planes and ships and is of low wave length type.

Secretary of the Navy Wilbur declares the radio outfit now in place for the expedition lacks security for both ships and planes and orders the use of the regular navy equipment of the return of the expedition to Washington.

And here is a tempest in the navy department which threatens to destroy the most important and most promising expedition ever planned for the Arctic regions. That the question of authority and of equipment has to be determined at this period of the expedition's development is lamentable.

And the guilty usually make the most noise when caught. The innocent though accused know that right will win.

Society

also giving a short address to an appreciative crowd.

Many of the early pioneers of Central Idaho were present at this meeting, the parents of some having lived in Oregon in the early 40's and 50's.

One notable character present was John F. McLean, Sr., a former Oregon resident having visited the Oregon state fair in 1867. J. A. Wilkinson of North Bend, Ore., and Chas. A. Parsons of Long View, Wash., were present and gave interesting reminiscences.

After reading of minutes John F. McLean, Jr., of Portland, was elected president, Mrs. Carey F. Martin, of Salem, vice president, and George G. Algie, of Portland, secretary-treasurer.

Salem was selected as the meeting for next year's picnic.

The Woman's society of the First Baptist church will hold its June business meeting and garden party at the home of Mrs. H. S. Gille at her home in Salem Heights on Friday at 2:30 o'clock. Guests are asked to take the South Commercial street car to the end of the line where automobiles will meet the early car. Mrs. Gille's residence is a five minutes' walk from the end of the carline. All those having cars are asked to assist in the transportation of guests to the party. All women of the church and congregation are invited.

The program will consist of a devotional period led by Mrs. F. R. Vail, followed by the quarterly business session. Miss Bina Shanks will give a reading; Mrs. J. M. Ringo, Miss Ruth Ross, and Miss Ruth Bitney will each contribute a solo for the entertainment of the guests. Refreshments will be served in the garden.

Mrs. Gille will be assisted by Mrs. J. B. Wilt, Mrs. T. W. Davies, Mrs. E. H. Shanks, and Miss Mina Gile.

The Ladies of Hal Hibbard auxiliary will meet this afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. H. Millard, 2911 D street, for a social afternoon, the men of Hal Hibbard camp joining the group for the evening.

Mrs. Walton Appelman and baby boy, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. E. G. Barzee, went to Salem today and will locate in the capital city. Mr. Appelman, who has been employed with the Southern Pacific at Crockett, Cal., has been transferred to Salem and is expected to reach that city today to join his family and assist in the plans for locating there. Mrs. Barzee is to reside in Salem.—Corvallis Gazette-Times.

Mrs. Horace Crawford of 1937 State street, had as her guests earlier in the week, Mrs. Robert Van Tuij and two sons of Long Beach who are on their way to Yakima, Washington, their future home.

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Barnes, Mrs. Frank Power and Mr. and Mrs.
