

SALERATUS STUMBLING BLOCK FOR SPELLERS

BARNES AND LAW ARE LAST TO FALL IN CONTEST

Chamber of Commerce Ends
Lunches for Summer; Vote for Head-on Parking

An old fashion spelling bee was the feature of the last meeting of the Chamber of Commerce before the summer vacation. Saleratus proved to be the stumbling block for the hand full of men who went down before the words from the blue spelling book used by Prof. W. I. Staley, pronouncer.

T. M. Hicks, captain of one side was the first to be spelled down. Hicks fell for his first word, athlete. E. T. Barnes and L. L. Law on Hicks' team were the last to fall. The opposing team was led by George Griffith.

The local Chamber of Commerce will be guests of the Dallas Commercial club at the Gale hotel Thursday evening at 8:30. All members of the Salem club planning to attend should call the local office before Thursday noon.

The head-on parking system received a 32 to 19 vote over the present system, but according to discussion nothing can be done until the suggestion becomes an ordinance.

RADIO SET IS UNLOCKED

MYSTERY LOCK FALLS PREY TO KEY; SET NOT GIVEN

Complications have come up over the Mystery Key, which unlocks the padlock that guards the three tube radio set to be given away by the management of the Liberty theater.

Last night J. R. Cates, 320 Division, came to the theater with a collection of keys and opened the lock, gave the key to the girl at the door, and loaded the radio in his car.

Before he left the management demanded the Mystery Key, which he used to open the Yale lock with. Cates claimed he had given the key and lock to the usher and after a heated argument left. In a few minutes he returned. His party searched their pockets and finally found the key.

The key used by Cates, the management of the theater claims, is a Yale master and is not a duplicate of the one held by the theater. Cates returned the radio and left after insisting that the key used by him to open the lock was passed out at the ticket window.

Shortly after Cates admitted to an officer, who demanded to see the key, that he had filed the key making a regular burglar pick from a key passed out.

NEWS BRIEFS

Hero Is Drowned

While attempting to save the life of Jerrine Smith, 12, daughter of I. R. Smith, of Salem, who was swimming in the river at Portland Sunday, Leslie Morton, former OAC student, lost his life. The accident occurred during a picnic party at the river—from home of W. J. Patton. Morton is believed to have died from heart failure rather than drowning. His body was recovered half an hour

Child Is Injured

Clifton Stauff, small son of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Stauff, 1560 South High, was struck by a coupe driven by Winifred Beech yesterday afternoon as he dodged from behind a car parked near the home of his parents. The child was badly bruised about the head but was not seriously injured. Witnesses claim the driver was not at fault.

Miss Nellie Schwab of the Ladd & Bush bank, accompanied by her mother, left yesterday for Skagway. From Skagway they will make an interior trip to Atlin, B. C.

Two Men Released

Fred Veulger, arrested Sunday night for driving while intoxicated obtained his release from the city jail last night by depositing $100 bail. Paul Lewis of Knoxville, Tenn., arrested Sunday night upon complaint of the proprietor of the Little Lady's store, Center and Twelfth, under the suspicion that he was a prowler, was also released.

Speeder Is Fined

Rollan Layton of Dallas was fined $10 by Judge M. Poulsen for speeding. Layton was traveling 42 miles an hour when arrested.

Drunk Woman Fined

Marie Smith of Portland contributed $10 to the city coffers for being drunk. The fine was paid by Miss Smith's traveling companion.

BLAZE DESTROYS CAMP
FOREST FIRE SWEEPS TIMBER
HOLDINGS AT HOQUIAM

HOQUIAM, Wash., June 29.—Fanned by an increasing wind this afternoon, fire in the Aloha Timber company's holdings north of here which on Saturday destroyed one entire logging camp of the company, again got out of control today and was sweeping on a two mile front southward toward the town of Aloha. No apprehension is felt for that city as yet, however. Several small fires are burning along the harbor line west of Hoquiam and a spark from one of them is believed likely to have been the cause of a fire which Sunday night destroyed a small hemlock sawmill owned by Peter Henley, with a loss of about $15,000.

OLYMPIA, June 29.—(By The Associated Press).—In response to a call received late this afternoon, emergency of the forest fire fighting equipment was rushed to the logging operations of the Lindstrom - Handforth Lumber company at Ratniet, it was reported by T. S. Goodyear, assistant supervisor of forestry.

A slashing fire had got beyond control and was spreading rapidly, the company reported, although no damage had been done at the time aid was asked.

later and no trace of water was found in his lungs. He sank in four feet of water, but no one noticed him as he handed the little girl to those on shore. Jerrine is a proficient swimmer, but for some reason called for help. The drowned man served in France during the World war.

Contracts Are Received by Coach

Salem, Oregon, is receiving lots of publicity in Salem, Mass., relative to the debate between representatives of the two high schools in May next year.

A copy of the Boston American, for June 10, has been received by Orlando Horning, debate coach. Under the caption of American Champion Debaters is a photograph of the debate team and Hawthorne's "House of Seven Gables," both of Salem, Mass., and a photograph of the Oregon capitol.

In a half-column write up the old request that the eastern Salem change its name is revealed while speaking of Salem, Ore., the writer says: "It is located on the Willamette river 60 miles south of Portland, has several woollen and flour mills, evaporating plants and canning factories."

The eastern team, according to its schedule, has won all of 17 debates in the last four years. Two of these were won this year and two in 1922. In 1923 eight debates were won and five in 1924 including a number of high schools from the larger cities of the east the Boston team defeated representatives of the Yale and Dartmouth college freshmen classes.

Contracts for the debate have been received by Coach Horning and are regarded favorably by Superintendent of Schools Hug. They have not yet been submitted to Principal J. C. Nelson, but Coach Horning feels that he will be satisfied as several of the points he raised have been taken care of. The child labor amendment is the subject of the debate, to be held in May, 1926, the date to be arranged later. Each school will have three members on the team, the affirmative teams to travel.

Mrs. T. G. Bligh left today for Canada. Before returning she expects to stop at various places popular with American tourists.

Swings at the Lincoln playground were placed yesterday and men were busy putting up travel rings. Both places have better equipment than last year and indications are that they will be as popular this year as last.

Every precaution is being taken against accidents. Universal playground regulations are being observed. Two youngsters are forbidden to occupy the same swing together in the effort to "pump" and gain a longer swing. Youngsters at the Fourteenth street grounds are not permitted to go into the water until those in charge have satisfied themselves that sufficient time has elapsed since eating. No accident marred the 1924 season.

Miss Danta Robbins has charge of the Lincoln playground with Leslie Sparks and Miss Grace Snook in charge of the Fourteenth street grounds. They are assisted by John Creech.

IRVINE REUNION DRAWS
NEARLY 200 TO SALEM

EVENT IS SUCCESS AND WILL BE HELD ANNUALLY

Irvine Clagge of Independence
Oldest Present; Officers
Are Elected

Nearly 200 persons gathered at Marion square Sunday to attend the first reunion of descendants of the Irvine family of Oregon. Exchange of reminiscences, a picnic dinner and informal entertainment occupied the day. So great was the success of the event that it was unanimously decided to make the reunion an annual affair.

The original Irvine family, including the grandmother and her five sons and three daughters, located in Marion county in the year 1852. The grandmother died later that year and was buried in Jason Lee cemetery. A number of persons in attendance at the reunion visited the grave, which was decorated with flowers received from different parts of Oregon.

Following the death of Mrs. Irvine the five brothers and three daughters married and drifted to different sections of the state. The last of the brothers and sisters died a few years ago.

Irvine Clagge of Independence, 84 years of age, was the oldest member of the clan in attendance at the reunion. Despite his years he is as active as many men half his age. The ages of many other persons at the reunion range as high as 78 years.

Among prominent members of the Irvine clan in attendance at the reunion were United States Senator C. L. McNary, John McNary, Salem attorney; Milton A. Miller of Portland and Frank Irvine, editor of a Portland newspaper.

At the conclusion of the festivities organization was completed and Milton A. Miller was elected president. Miss Nina McNary of Salem was chosen vice president and Mrs. Frank Chambers of Eugene secretary.

That irresistible something called YOUTH

And how we envy its happy charm—its cameo-like features—its ruddy glow of radiant health.

WOMAN may thank her stars, too, that YOUTH is not measured by the yardstick of years. It's the way she feels and looks that determine her activities and popularity.

The debutante, the successful professional woman, the youthful stenographer, the young mother and the busy housewife—all women, from Fifth Avenue to Main Street, regardless of age, must care for their charms—else they will wither and fade like a drooping flower. The pores will clog from dust and excessive use of cosmetics, the blood circulation will become impaired, your skin will lose its tone and texture—and then lines, wrinkles and other imperfections will appear to sap your natural beauty.

By a simple, natural, pleasant process all these dread phantoms may be warded off, and even corrected when they have already appeared.

Boncilla Beautifier is the one and only preparation that tells you right from the start what it is accomplishing, so that you can feel and know, as well as see, the magical improvement.

Special Boncilla Offer
$2.75 Boncilla Box for $1.25

Miss Lucia Plattva
Famous skin and complexion authority, will give free window demonstrations of Boncilla products in our State street window at 12 noon, 2, 3 and 4 o'clock.
