Martin Hattberg, Sophus Tingstad, Oscar Satern and Alfred Jensen drove to Silver Creek falls Tuesday afternoon on a sight-seeing and fishing trip. The trip was made that Mr. Tingstad, who is visiting here from Grand Forks, N. D., might have an opportunity to view the falls. He was enthusiastic over the scenery about the falls, saying it was more wonderful than what he had seen on his trip west. A drive over the Mt. Hood loop is being planned for Mr. Tingstad by his cousin, Edwin Tingstad of Oregon City.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Shields motored to Pacific City and back Tuesday. The trip was made principally for the benefit of their small daughter, Irene, who has been in the Silvertown hospital for some time. It was the little girl's first long trip since leaving the hospital and also her first glimpse of the ocean.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Satern entertained with a dinner party on Monday evening in honor of Sophus Tingstad of Grand Forks, N. D. Among those present at the dinner were: Sophus Tingstad, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Hattberg, Mr. and Mrs. Ole Satern, Alfred Jensen, Ludvig Moe and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Satern.

The city council of Silvertown had a special meeting Monday night for the consideration of a number of proposed street improvements and other matters. Although considerable discussion was given the street work, no definite decisions were made. The question of repairs for the bridge broken last week came up and it was decided to put new material in the old bridge rather than build another bridge. The matter was left in the hands of the city engineer, who was asked to make inspection and begin work as soon as possible.

The sawmill of the Silver Falls Timber company shut down Tuesday night and will remain closed until Monday, July 6. Other departments of the mill will continue to function as usual. As the mill operates on a five-day schedule, the coming of the Fourth of July this week will not affect any of the workers. Employees of the Silvertown Lumber company will not be granted any time off as they also run on the five-day schedule.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Madsen of Spring Valley had as guests Sunday Mr. and Mrs. J. Madsen, Victor Madsen and Harold Larson of Silvertown and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Madsen of Brooks. Sunday was the first anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Madsen's wedding and was also Mr. Madsen's birthday.

Owing to the fact that Rev. Geo. Henriksen could not accompany them, the Girl Scouts, scheduled to go to Coultin last Sunday, postponed their trip until a more suitable date. The girls intend to give a demonstration of scout work for the benefit of those interested in the work at Coultin.

Rev. J. A. Bennett, pastor of the Christian church, attended a convention at Turner Sunday. Services were conducted at the Christian church in his absence by Rev. O. M. Orden.

Dr. R. E. Kleinsorge and Dr. P. A. Loez are attending the doctor's clinic now in session in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Corhouse, Miss Marie Corhouse, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Nelson and three children spent the week-end with friends at Eugene.

Silvertown music lovers were given an especial treat Wednesday night when the Luther college concert band of Decorah, Iowa, under the leadership of Carlo A.

locked in a tight clinch frequently. The infighting was furious. A hard short left to the face caused Greb to reel. A right uppercut hurt Walker. A straight right backed him to the ropes. Greb missed a windmill left. In endeavoring to break the men from a clinch Referee Furdy fell over him. The bell found the fighters sprawled on the floor.

Round 8.—A triphammer right bored its way to Walker's head. Six successive times it found its mark. Walker landed prettily to the body but took four on the head in exchange. Walker missed an uppercut but took one in exchange. Greb rushed Walker to a neutral corner, battering him with blows from every direction. They stood toe to toe and slugged. They traded blows at close quarters. Walker's head rocked from the force of Greb's right just as the bell sounded.

Round 9.—They met in the center of the ring. Both slugged and both landed effective blows. A straight right to Walker's face sent him to the ropes. Walker took another on the chin but came back and fought gamely against Greb's fierce attack. Walker sent Greb to the ropes. They clinched. Greb measured Walker but Walker beat him to the punch to the head. They were mixing it fast in the center of the ring at the bell.

Round 10.—Greb landed a left to the jaw. Greb was covering nicely. He staggered Walker with a vicious body blow. Walker sank back on his heels when the one-two punch landed to his jaw, but he came back strongly. A stinging right to the jaw turned Greb half around. It was a beautiful shot. Walker landed again to the head, tying in the resulting clinch. Both were serving straight for the head and landing telling blows. Four times Greb's right found Walker's chin just as the bell rang.

Round 11.—They wrestled about the ring, neither landing effectively. A clean right staggered Greb when it landed on his uncovered jaw. Greb missed his right and Walker scored twice to Greb's jaw. The fighting was tremendously fast. Walker landed to the head with both his right and left and Greb was driven to cover as the jammed park yelled its applause. Another clinch upset the referee again. They stood in a neutral corner and punched furiously at will while the referee was struggling to his feet. The bell ended the milling.

Round 12.—They smashed at each other's jaw, both landing cleanly. In a maddening exchange of blows they punched each other at will. Walker staggered Greb with a vicious right to the head. Walker landed effectively to the body and head and Greb clinched. Greb landed with terrific force to Walker's jaw, but the welterweight king came up for more. The crowd gasped as the battlers stood up under the fierce punishment. They were locked in a clinch at the bell.

Round 13.—They stood toe to toe in Walker's corner and matched blow for blow. Walker's left eye started to swell as Greb continued to pepper at Walker's face. Greb missed a downward right. The one-two punch backed Walker to the ropes. They continued to batter each other openly at long range. Greb rushed Walker to the corner and the bell interrupted an interesting skirmish.

Round 14.—Greb continued his aggressiveness but Walker was willing, and they smashed away openly, both landing telling blows. Greb started to dance and Walker came into a one-two punch which forced him to clinch. A stinging right to the jaw rocked Walker to his corner and he reeled about the ring helpless against Greb's furious attack. He was almost out, but pulled himself together and staggered Greb with a short left to the face. Gamely Walker fought on, badly hurt, but taking everything Greb could throw and standing upright under Blood streamed down his face from a cut on his left eye but Walker bared in, holding his own in a toe to toe exchange of blows that threatened to sweep both to the floor of the ring. Walker staggered Greb with a wicked left to the head. Walker charged Greb, driving him to his own corner as he recklessly poured his driving gloves at the middleweight king. The bell found them battling away at full speed.

The Sundown league has completed its schedule, with the Pen, blue and the Papermill nine tied for first place. The tie will be played off next week some time, probably in a three-game series.

The Bankers vs. Valley Motor game which was scheduled for tonight, was played Wednesday instead, on the high school grounds, and resulted in a 2 to 1 victory for the money changers.

CHARGE "DISCRIMINATION" BUS LINE FILES COMPLAINT WITH COMMISSION

Discrimination in favor of the Tyrell Trips company and exclusion of other sightseeing concerns is charged against the Northern Pacific Touring company, of Portland, by the Circle Tours Sightseeing company, Inc., in a complaint filed with the public service commission. The discrimination, it is asserted, works to the detriment of Portland and Oregon, because many scenic routes not covered by the Tyrell Trips company, are covered by others who are excluded from the terminal.

The Circle Tours company demands that it be given the right to keep a representative at the union station, offering to pay for the privilege, but until this demand is granted, seeks to exclude the Tyrell Trips representative from the terminal. The complaint alleges that literature and phone service is provided the other concern.

WORK CANCELS HIS VISIT SECRETARY OF INTERIOR NOT TO STOP IN SALEM

Hubert Work, secretary of the interior, has canceled his proposed visit to Salem, according to a telegram received from Yakima. Other matters make necessary the cancellation, states the telegram.

Secretary Work was scheduled to speak before the Chamber of Commerce at a banquet given in his honor on the evening of July 7. During the morning of the same date he was to have visited at the Chemawa Indian school, and the afternoon and evening was to have been spent with C. A. Parks of Salem, an old-time friend.

EXTRADITION IS FOUGHT DALE WILLIAMS CHARGES WARRANT IS IRREGULAR

A determined effort is being made by Dale Williams to avoid extradition to Los Angeles, where he is said to be wanted on a charge of grand larceny. He was arrested here last month on telegraphic advice from the south.

The validity of the warrant on which he was arrested is attacked by his attorney. The return of the warrant is declared not sufficient, in that it does not set forth a copy of the complaint upon which the warrant was issued. It is also said that nowhere in the proceedings is it shown in what way or manner the alleged crime was committed, and upon whose

FIELD WORK CONTINUES

GROUNDS ALMOST READY FOR SCHOOL ATHLETES

Work on what is to be Salem's finest athletic field is progressing rapidly. Ten teams are at work at present, grading and leveling for the baseball diamonds, football field and tennis courts. The field, which is located at what is known as the old high school grounds, will be divided into separate fields for baseball, football and tennis.

It is planned to prepare at least three baseball diamonds, and possibly two football grids. The old grandstand, which is really in good condition save for a few necessary repairs and a coat of paint, will receive its share of attention. A half-mile track will be built around the field. Salem high school and Parrish junior high school will use the new field for fall athletics.

SUIT ORDERED DISMISSED

COURT ACTION AGAINST ATTACHMENT IS ENDED

The suit against O. D. Bower, Marion county sheriff, brought by the United States Fidelity & Guaranty company, a corporation of Portland, has been dismissed without cost of prejudice to either party according to an order granted by Judge Percy R. Kelly yesterday. The action has been going on for some months.

The case was instituted when Sheriff Bower executed an attachment against a dredging company, and ordered their machinery held. The trust company of Portland then filed suit, declaring that they held a judgment against the machinery, and demanding its return to them. The matter was taken into court. An agreement has now been reached by the representing attorneys. The value of the machinery and equipment is said to be about $5,000.

MORE CHERRIES SHIPPED

SCHEDEL & DAY OF NEW YORK ARE MOVING FRUIT

The first carload of cherries delivered by the Salem Cherry Growers' association was shipped yesterday by Schedel & Day, a New York fruit distributing company. Paul McKechnie, representative. The destination will be wherever the best market can be located. Last year this same company sold Pacific coast fruits of all kinds in 216 cities of the United States.

The local association, through its manager, O. E. Brooks, estimated 30 carloads as its output this year. However, owing to the short crop the number will probably not exceed 12 carloads. The fruit is shipped in carlots by express. Each box contains approximately 15 pounds of fruit and there are 1132 boxes at 16.500 pounds to the car.

The price last year averaged 12-14 cents per pound. Scoble & Day advance money to the association on its fruit as the shipments are ready to roll. The shipments from California, Yakima, The Dalles and Hood River are about over. "Cove and La Grande" crop is light this year, hence the prospect for good prices for the Willamette valley is bright at this time. Lamberts are practically the only variety shipped by the association so far.
