IN A CATHEDRAL of trees, with the last shafts of golden sunlight lending a glory to the setting, Miss Grace Tyler became the bride of Mr. Floyd L. Hockett. The ceremony, performed at seven o'clock last night, July 3, in Painter's Woods, north of town, was one of the most impressive in many weeks, with all of nature as a background. Rev. Thomas Acheson read the service in the presence of a large company of friends assembled in the woodland.

As a prelude, a six-piece orchestra played "The Pilgrims" immediately after which Miss Gladys Gilbert sang "At Dawning," while Miss Lois Hockett played the melody on her violin.

The bridal party approached the altar of the woods through a nave of leaves and ferns as four violins played the bridal chorus from "Lohengrin." The bride, charmingly gowned in white satin with Spanish lace and a full-length veil caught with a wreath of Cecil Brunner roses, was given in marriage by her brother, Dr. Sam H. Tyler. Her bouquet was of white bride's roses and white sweet peas, tied with tulle. She was attended by her sister, Miss Inez Tyler, in a gown of peach mesquite with silver lace. The bridesmaid's bouquet was of Ophelia roses. Mr. Verden Hockett attended his brother as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony the orchestra played "Dear Heart; a Serenade."

The bride, a graduate of Willamette university with the class of 1922, is an instructor in the English department at the Salem high school. The groom is a student in the University of Oregon medical school in Portland.

An informal reception followed the double ring ceremony. Assisting in the serving just at the sunset hour were Mrs. Harry Scott, Miss Juanita Hockett, Mrs. Viola Tyler, Luella Keighan, Miss Angelina Smith, Mrs. Cecil Shottwell, Mrs. Sam Tyler and Miss Lena Gilbert.

The personnel of the orchestra whose music blended into the mystery of the out-of-doors, included Miss Avis Hicks, Miss Lois Hockett, Sid Jerry, Mr. Kempel, Glenn Ringo and Mr. Kempel.

LIONS ENDORSE DEFENSE

OREGON DAIRY INDUSTRY IS JOHNSON'S SUBJECT

At the regular weekly luncheon meeting of the Lion's club yesterday it was voted unanimously that the club should pledge its support to National Defense day.

Chris Johnson, of the North Pacific Cooperative Creamery association, was the principal speaker of the meeting, and had as his subject the expansion of the dairy industry in Oregon.

Mr. Johnson stated that Oregon butter does not receive the highest praise in many of the eastern and California markets, and gave as a possible reason the fact that the Oregon farmer does not know how to take proper care of his cream. He encouraged intensive study of creamery methods, by the farmer.

Statistics were given by Mr. Johnson showing the relative wealth of counties and cities, in which dairying is the chief source of income; on the other hand those which have no dairying.

Miss Helen Bacigalupi favored the club with a delightful rendition of "O Mio Babbino Caro," singing as an encore "A Birthday." Messrs. Byrie and Lloyd Ramp, sons of Lion Ramp of Independence, pleased the club with a piano duet.

Shop-Windows on Parade

IN THE quiet and comfort of your home, newspaper in hand, the shop-windows of the town's best stores pass in review. Look at that charming little hat—just the style you have been looking for, and so reasonable!

And say, isn't that coat a darling? . . . Not only do you see illustrations of the merchandise, but you are told in detail of its merits and prices. A passing panorama that may be halted and started and halted at will. A shopping trip at home!

How long do you suppose it would take you to reverse the process—to go up one street and down another, until you had visited personally every worth-while store in town? And how exhausted you would be, physically and nervously.

There's no doubt about it. The modern way to shop is to read the advertisements, then make notes of the stores and the particular offerings that appeal to you. What a lot of time and bother such a method saves. You know beforehand what you want to look at, who has it, and what you will have to pay.

Read the advertisements. Make it a daily habit. The regular reader of advertisements is better informed, makes the family budget stretch farther, has more time for recreation, gets more value for her money, and profits in many other ways. Advertisements are frequently the most interesting news in the paper.

Every day these shop-windows are lined up for your inspection in this newspaper
